Fighting Continues In Cuba

Navy Cancels Show After Kennedy Bows Out

Fleet Cruise Is Called Off By President

Chief Executive To Meet With His Full Cabinet Today

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Navy cancelled a weekend training exercise off the Florida coast Wednesday night after President Kennedy dropped plans to witness the show because of the "press of business" in the capital.

The cancellation came as reports on the Cuban fighting indicated that Premier Fidel Castro's Communist-equipped armies had crushed the rebel invasion. The training exercises would have been held several hundred miles away from the fighting.

Some officials had feared, however, that the Russians would attempt to take propaganda advantage of the fact that the President would be so near the Cuban scene.

President Changes Mind

A task force of 14 ships, headed by the 60,000-ton aircraft carrier Independence and the communications cruiser USS North Hampton, was to have staged the exercise for Kennedy and members of his staff.

The President had planned to fly to Mayport, Fla., Saturday and then spend part of Saturday and Sunday aboard the vessels. But he changed his mind late Wednesday. About an hour later the Navy announced the fleet exercise had been cancelled.

Possibly reflecting the tense international situation, the President scheduled a meeting of his cabinet at 10 a.m., EST., Thursday. It will be only his fourth meeting with his official family since taking office last Jan. 20.

Press Of Business

Until about 5 p.m. Wednesday, the White House insisted that the President planned to go through with his visit to the naval exercises. But then presidential press secretary Pierre Salinger disclosed the change in Kennedy's plans.

Salinger said the President's decision to remain in Washington was "not related to any specific event," but rather to "the press of business over the weekend." He said Kennedy would have a full schedule Saturday.

However, some American officials had expressed concern that Communist propagandists would try to distort the brief Kennedy voyage as a war-like gesture not far from Cuba.

Mitchell Victory Hailed By GOP

NEWARK N.J. (UPI) —James P. Mitchell, victor in New Jersey's Republican gubernatorial primary Tuesday was congratulated Wednesday by the nation's GOP leaders, including former President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Mitchell, making his first try for elective office, swept to an impressive victory over state Sens. Walter H. Jones of Bergen County and Wayne Dumont Jr. of Warren County. The 60-year old former secretary of labor will face the Democratic nominee, Richard H. Hughes, a former Superior Court judge, in the November election.

Eisenhower said in a statement from his office in Gettysburg, Pa., that he is confident "all elements of the Republican party in the state will make every effort to assure an overwhelming Republican victory in the general election."

Red Official Fired

MOSCOW (AP)—I. P. Ganenko, Communist party chief in the Astrakhan region on the Caspian Sea, has been fired for not fulfilling agricultural and industrial production quotas, Pravda, the Communist party paper said.

Cuba Assailed For Executing American Duo

CRITICALLY ILL — Gary Cooper is critically ill, a family spokesman said yesterday in Hollywood. Sources close to the famed actor said he has cancer and knows it. Two Men Denied Fair Trial, U.S. Says In Protest

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States Wednesday accused the Castro regime of executing two Americans in Cuba without fair trials, violating justice as practiced by civilized nations around the world.

The State Department sent off a protest to pro-Communist Prime Minister Fidel Castro, but there was doubt the U. S. note would reach Havana.

The department said diplomatic channels with Cuba had been blocked by a "communications blackout."

The State Department also asked about the safety of some 1,200 other U. S. citizens in Cuba. It has had no word through official channels since the Cuban fighting began last weekend. Some Americans in Havana, including newsmen, unofficially were reported under arrest.

Confined To Sports Palace

Information available to the Inter-American Press Association in New York indicated that the Americans under arrest in Havana were confined to the Sports Palace there.

The two Americans executed Wednesday, according to an announcement on the Cuban government radio, were Angus McNair Jr. of Miami, Fla., and Howard Anderson of Yakima, Wash. Both had been under arrest on charges of anti-Castro activity for some time prior to the outbreak of fighting.

State Department press officer Lincoln White said: "As far as we know, these executions have taken place perhaps without a trial, and we are asking the Swiss government to give us reports on what is taking place."

Swiss Contact Broken

Since the United States broke off diplomatic ties with the Castro regime last January, the Swiss Embassy in Havana had handled U. S. interests in Cuba.

The Swiss government reported it has been unable to contact its Havana mission since the fighting began.

Anderson had been in the service station business in Havana for years. McNair was accused by the Castro government of a sneak landing in Cuba last month with a Cuban group intending to fight Castro. Cubans with him were also executed.

U.S. Virtually Stands Alone In U.N. Debate

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI) —Argentina, a prime mover in an effort to conciliate the United States and Fidel Castro's Cuban government, said Wednesday that pressure or force must not be used to hamper the economic and social revival of any Latin American country.

Argentine Ambassador Mario Amadeo, who organized a seven-power resolution calling on all powers not to aggravate the U.S.-Cuban tension but to leave it to the Latin American countries to bring Washington and the Castro regime together, told the General Assembly's main political committee his government would not tolerate "what, if proved, would be illegal" in the Cuban case.

The United States stood virtually alone in the U.N. Cuban debate despite cautious friendliness expressed by some South American countries.

Wednesday's debate ended without any action being decided and was scheduled to resume Thursday.

Denounced and berated by Cuban Foreign Minister Raul Roa with able assistance from Russian Ambassador Valerian A. Zorin and other spokesmen for the Soviet bloc, the United States thus far in the three-day debate found outright support for its position expressed by no other nation.

Notably absent in the debate was any declaration from Britain, France or Washington's other Western European allies, although the British were expected to break their silence soon.

Flattop Heads For Guantanamo

GUANTANAMO BAY, Cuba—(UPI) — The 42,000-ton carrier Randolph, with up to 100 planes and surface - to - air missiles, will arrive here Saturday to join at least eight destroyers and 13 other U.S. Navy ships on duty at or near this big American base.

Rear Adm. Edward J. O'Donnell, commander of Guantanamo, said the carrier, which also has eight five-inch guns and other firepower, is on a "routine training" trip. The Randolph left Norfolk, Va., Tuesday, he said.

It is carrying a complement of some 3,000 officers and men and from 85 to 100 planes, he said.

Actor Gary Cooper, 59, Critically Ill Of Cancer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Gary Cooper, 59, is critically ill, a family spokesman said Wednesday.

Sources close to the famed actor said he has cancer and knows it.

The tall, taciturn performer—who has had unparalleled success as a leading man, is confined to his Bel-Air home.

Private word on the nature of his illness came after the official announcement that he is suffering from a grave illness. The announcement did not disclose the ailment.

The world has wondered what ailed the screen hero since last Monday night when fellow star James Stewart almost broke into tears at the Academy Awards ceremony while accepting for Cooper a special honorary award.

Several sources in a position to know said Wednesday Cooper has cancer, in several locations.

Cooper has had two operations within the last year, for removal of a section of his colon and for a prostate condition.

He finished his most recent movie in London last December, "The Naked Edge."

His last public appearance was at a testimonial dinner Jan. 8 by the Friars', a show-business group.

Cooper wept unashamedly at the Friars' dinner, after speeches recounting his 35 years of stardom—a record unmatched by any other.

The family's disclosure of the illness came via publicist Warren Cowan, who said: "Because the Cooper family has been inundated by inquiries about his health since the James Stewart presentation, I am asked by the family to say that he is gravely ill."

He added that there are no plans to hospitalize him and that there will be no further word on his condition for a week or 10 days.

U.S. Advisers To Go In Laos Combat Zones

Laotians Request More Foreign Aid; Position Weakens

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — The Laotian government Wednesday called for more foreign aid in fighting pro-Communist rebels and got an immediate promise that U. S. military advisers will go into combat zones.

Foreign Minister Tiao Sopsaisana disclosed Laos also is thinking of asking for foreign troops. He reported new major rebel offensives are threatening to conquer Laos and sweep into neighboring countries.

U. S. Embassy sources said the government's position is "steadily weakening" but deflated claims of massive rebel assaults.

Washington's decision to send U. S. advisers into combat zones means about 300 civilian-dressed American military men who have been instructing royal troops will put on uniforms Thursday and become a full-fledged military advisory group.

Thursday Truce Call Asked

The United States also announced support of Britain's request that the Soviet Union join in issuing an appeal for a cease-fire in Laos Thursday and a 14-nation conference May 5.

Western experts in Vientiane said the rebels have been making steady gains against little resistance. Said one: "There has been very little fighting. Almost all of it is artillery firing."

U. S. sources expressed the hope that American uniforms in the field will have a stabilizing effect on royal troops.

Until now, U. S. advisers in Laos have held to a civilian status because a treaty put training of the royal army in the hands of the French, former rulers of Indochina.

Intervention Claim Discounted

Western sources still discounted government claims of massive intervention by Red North Vietnamese troops. These sources estimated 10 to 15 per cent of the rebel force consists of Vietminh or foreign-trained Laotians.

Sopsaisana, in a two-hour news conference, said the rebels' most dangerous thrust was near Thakhek, 150 miles southeast of Vientiane on the Mekong River bordering Thailand.

New attacks in 24 hours indicate the offensives are not aimed just as Laos but also at neighboring Thailand and the border with South Viet Nam.

Space Capsule Launching Set

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States will conduct another test launching of a Mercury man-in-space capsule this weekend in an effort to clear the way for a manned rocket flight.

The capsule will be hurled to an altitude of 45,000 feet from the space agency's Wallops Island, Va., test center. The primary purpose is to make sure that all safety devices are working properly for the manned equipment.

If the test is successful, an astronaut may be sent on a sub-orbital flight at Cape Canaveral, Fla., within a week or two. This shot will be designed to take the astronaut to an altitude of 115 miles and a distance of 290 miles down the Atlantic.

The weekend firing, designated "Little Joe VII," will be a repeat of a March 18 test which was only partly successful because the one-ton capsule's escape rocket fired too soon.

Ike Enters Hospital For Routine Checkup

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (UPI) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower entered the Army's Walter Reed Medical Center at Washington, D.C., Wednesday for a routine checkup.

The President, who planned to remain overnight, was accompanied by Mrs. Eisenhower. A hospital spokesman said only the President would be given an examination.

Eisenhower visited the hospital during his White House tenure for regular physical examinations. It also was there that he was treated for several illnesses.

Eichmann Says He Should Have Hanged Himself

JERUSALEM (AP) — Adolf Eichmann portrayed himself in tape recorded testimony as a doomed man who should have hanged himself for the mass slaughter of Jews in the Nazi reign of Hitler.

"I know I should have hanged myself in public so that all the anti-Semites in the world would have had these terrible events emphasized for them."

The words, slow and measured, boomed from the loudspeaker Wednesday in the court where he is on trial for his life, charged with crimes against the Jewish people and crimes against humanity.

"I know I may face a sentence of death," said the man charged with responsibility for sending millions of Jews to the Nazi death camps in World War II. "I cannot claim mercy because I know I am not worthy of it."

His recorded statement sent a surprised stir through the court. Eichmann himself seemed affected by what was taking place in court for the first time since the trial began.

He took off his earphones through which the court's Hebrew proceedings are translated into German, and seemed to relax in his chair behind the bullet-proof glass in the prisoner's dock.

The statements were taped in an interrogation by Israeli security officers after his capture last year.

Eichmann, 55, ex-chief of the Gestapo's Jewish affairs section, told of a prophecy made to him in January 1960 - four months before his capture—but did not identify the prophet.

"I was told I would be brought to trial and that I would not live beyond my 56th year," he said.

Eichmann insisted he was not the architect of Nazi Germany's campaign of extermination.

"Matters of planning until 1945 were not handed to me at any time during the preceding 10 years. I was in a lower rank than the policy makers and planners.

"I cannot claim that I had clean hands. Those who planned and gave instructions, however, got off cheaply by suicide."

Eichmann said the order for the extermination of Jews in Nazi-occupied areas came directly from Hitler. But he never saw a written order from Hitler.

He pictured the Gestapo chief, Heinrich Himmler, as a man who grew "weak in the knees" when he witnessed mass executions by gas at Auschwitz death camp in Poland.

Pope's Voice Hoarse

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope John XXIII showed symptoms of a mild cold as he spoke to 30,000 Italian farmers Wednesday at a special audience in St. Peter's.

The voice of the 79-year-old head of the Roman Catholic Church was hoarse, but he appeared in good spirits.

16 Die In Crash Of USAF Plane Near Hong Kong

HONG KONG (UPI) — A U.S. Air Force plane carrying vacationing servicemen and their wives crashed into a mountainside Wednesday, killing all 16 persons aboard.

Hong Kong police searchers said at least one person had survived the crash, but the U.S. Air Force at Tainan Air Base, Formosa, said it was informed there were no survivors.

The plane, a twin-engine C47, was on a flight to Tainan from Hong Kong.

Compromise Tax Plan Near

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Congressional tax writers neared agreement Wednesday on a compromise plan for raising taxes on highway users to prevent a slowdown in the federal superhighway program.

The compromise, now in the voting stage before the House Ways & Means Committee, would cancel a scheduled July 1 reduction of one penny a gallon on gasoline and diesel fuel.

It also would impose some of the higher taxes on the trucking and rubber industries sought by President Kennedy.

This would provide most, but not all, of the $900 million in annual revenue requested by Kennedy to prevent a slowdown in construction of a 41,000-mile network of superhighways.

The shortage would be made up by diverting into the highway trust fund some revenue now going into the treasury for general use.

Senate To Vote Today On Hike In Wage Base

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Administration forces beat down a major Senate threat to President Kennedy's minimum wage legislation Wednesday and were all set to whisk it to final passage Thursday.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield, Mont., said a final vote would be taken after several closing speeches on the legislation. It calls for a minimum wage of $1.25 an hour. It also would extend wage-hour coverage to 4.1 million new workers.

The bill would give the President a chance to salvage what he wants from Congress after the administration sustained a defeat in the House last month. By a one-vote margin, the House adopted a bill backed by Republicans and Southern Democrats that would boost the minimum wage from the current $1 to $1.15 an hour and cut new coverage drastically. The differences between the House and Senate measures probably will be worked out in some sort of compromise.

Pro-administration Senate Democrats, joined by 13 Republicans, scored a decisive victory before final passage by rejecting an amendment by Sen. A. S. Mike Monroney, D-Okla., that would have trimmed coverage. The Monroney amendment, considered the key test for the administration bill, was beaten 56-39.

The Monroney amendment would have discarded a coverage formula in the administration bill which would make the wage-hour law applicable to businesses growing more than $1 million in sales even though they operate in only one state.

It would have limited the coverage to businesses with stores in at least two states. This would have eliminated about 1.6 million workers from the coverage Kennedy recommended.

Cuban Invaders Believed To Be Infiltrating Inland

MIAMI (AP)—Cuba's government insisted Wednesday it would crush totally the island's invasion-borne rebellion within hours. There were some indications at the same time that the invaders had abandoned their main beachhead and dispersed inland.

A reliable source in Miami reported, however, that the rebel guerrillas were prepared to take to the hills and dig in for a protracted struggle in the hope that help eventually would come from outside.

In Miami, rebel spokesmen seemed to be scaling down their claims of rebel strength inside Cuba. They now use words like "infiltration" instead of invasion, and refer to the action as "the first phase of the plan of military operations in Cuba." One announcement referred to their "small forces of resistance."

The indication of lack of a beachhead came when one small mission which had headed for Cuba was reported to have turned back. But few details were available.

Rebel sources in Miami said they had no knowledge of a report that a rebel command ship had lost all communications with invaders inside Cuba.

In Havana, Prime Minister Fidel Castro's government, claiming final liquidation of the invasion was near, asserted that Cuban antiaircraft fire had downed a "North American military plane," killing the pilot. But later statements by the controlled radio itself threw doubt on the story.

The broadcast from Havana accompanied its claim with a violent propaganda attack on the United States. And it predicted that invading rebel forces would be totally liquidated within hours.

Anti-Castro Front Claims New Landing

Government Source Contends Invasion About To Collapse

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (AP)—A spokesman for the anti-Castro Cuban Democratic Revolutionary Front said Wednesday night a new beachhead has been established in Cuba.

The spokesman vigorously denied reports that the counter-revolution had collapsed.

He said the Cuban invasion is going according to plan. The invasion force, he said, had broken into two columns and according to prearranged plans moved into the mountains.

The spokesman said the report of a new beachhead came from Thomas Gamba, secretary to War Minister Antonio Verona in the Cuban exile government.

The spokesman refused to locate the new beachhead but indicated the landing had been made Wednesday. The report followed rumors that two new invasions were to take place in Cuba.

Cuba Claims Victory Near

Communist and Castro sources claimed Wednesday night that the anti-Castro invasion of Cuba is about to collapse.

There were indications in Miami that an invasion force that landed on the south coast early Monday may have abandoned its main beachhead on the south coast and dispersed inland.

Sources in Miami said the invaders were prepared to take to the hills and fight as guerrillas in the hope help ultimately would rally to their cause.

Anti-Castro spokesmen, scaling down their claims to the strength of the invading forces, spoke of infiltration instead of invasion and referred to the present action as the first phase of their operations. A rebel mission was reported to have turned back when it was unable to reach the beachhead.

Mountain Link-Up

Earlier, the anti-Castro Revolutionary Council, in a communique issued in New York, said the invasion forces had succeeded in linking up with guerrillas fighting in the Escambray Mountains—an action that could lead to dispersed and prolonged fighting.

The welter of claims and counterclaims over Cuba included reports that resolute anti-Castro people were not giving up.

Rumors swept Puerto Rico that two or more rebel landings were under way for Wednesday night or early Thursday on the Cuban coasts. An exiled anti-Castro Cuban in Puerto Rico said the original invading force of 2,000 to 3,000 men had met with strong support from the people in Cuba.

The rebel high command previously had claimed it was holding back its main force until it saw whether the people in Cuba would desert Prime Minister Fidel Castro.

Full Latin Aid Fund Endorsed

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Citing "the gravity of the Cuban situation," a House appropriations subcommittee Wednesday approved every penny of $600 million in special foreign aid for Latin America requested by President Kennedy.

The action was almost unprecedented. The subcommittee, headed by Rep. Otto Passman, D-La., has traditionally led a fight for heavy cuts in foreign aid spending.

Passman issued a statement explaining that the subcommittee had shelved its economy ax for fear that "some of our good friends and neighbors south of the border would misunderstand any reduction."

The appropriation includes $500 million to help launch a new program of social progress for Latin America authorized by Congress last year at President Eisenhower's request. The remaining $100 million was for rehabilitation work in Chile which was struck by earthquakes last year.

Space Capsule Launching Set

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States will conduct another test launching of a Mercury man-in-space capsule this weekend in an effort to clear the way for a manned rocket flight.

The capsule will be hurled to an altitude of 45,000 feet from the space agency's Wallops Island, Va., test center. The primary purpose is to make sure that all safety devices are working properly for the manned equipment.

If the test is successful, an astronaut may be sent on a sub-orbital flight at Cape Canaveral, Fla., within a week or two. This shot will be designed to take the astronaut to an altitude of 115 miles and a distance of 290 miles down the Atlantic.

The weekend firing, designated "Little Joe VII," will be a repeat of a March 18 test which was only partly successful because the one-ton capsule's escape rocket fired too soon.

Ike Enters Hospital For Routine Checkup

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (UPI) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower entered the Army's Walter Reed Medical Center at Washington, D.C., Wednesday for a routine checkup.

The President, who planned to remain overnight, was accompanied by Mrs. Eisenhower. A hospital spokesman said only the President would be given an examination.

Eisenhower visited the hospital during his White House tenure for regular physical examinations. It also was there that he was treated for several illnesses.

Eichmann Says He Should Have Hanged Himself

JERUSALEM (AP) — Adolf Eichmann portrayed himself in tape recorded testimony as a doomed man who should have hanged himself for the mass slaughter of Jews in the Nazi reign of Hitler.

"I know I should have hanged myself in public so that all the anti-Semites in the world would have had these terrible events emphasized for them."

The words, slow and measured, boomed from the loudspeaker Wednesday in the court where he is on trial for his life, charged with crimes against the Jewish people and crimes against humanity.

"I know I may face a sentence of death," said the man charged with responsibility for sending millions of Jews to the Nazi death camps in World War II. "I cannot claim mercy because I know I am not worthy of it."

His recorded statement sent a surprised stir through the court. Eichmann himself seemed affected by what was taking place in court for the first time since the trial began.

He took off his earphones through which the court's Hebrew proceedings are translated into German, and seemed to relax in his chair behind the bullet-proof glass in the prisoner's dock.

The statements were taped in an interrogation by Israeli security officers after his capture last year.

Eichmann, 55, ex-chief of the Gestapo's Jewish affairs section, told of a prophecy made to him in January 1960 - four months before his capture—but did not identify the prophet.

"I was told I would be brought to trial and that I would not live beyond my 56th year," he said.

Eichmann insisted he was not the architect of Nazi Germany's campaign of extermination.

"Matters of planning until 1945 were not handed to me at any time during the preceding 10 years. I was in a lower rank than the policy makers and planners.

"I cannot claim that I had clean hands. Those who planned and gave instructions, however, got off cheaply by suicide."

Eichmann said the order for the extermination of Jews in Nazi-occupied areas came directly from Hitler. But he never saw a written order from Hitler.

He pictured the Gestapo chief, Heinrich Himmler, as a man who grew "weak in the knees" when he witnessed mass executions by gas at Auschwitz death camp in Poland.

Pope's Voice Hoarse

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope John XXIII showed symptoms of a mild cold as he spoke to 30,000 Italian farmers Wednesday at a special audience in St. Peter's.

The voice of the 79-year-old head of the Roman Catholic Church was hoarse, but he appeared in good spirits.

16 Die In Crash Of USAF Plane Near Hong Kong

HONG KONG (UPI) — A U.S. Air Force plane carrying vacationing servicemen and their wives crashed into a mountainside Wednesday, killing all 16 persons aboard.

Hong Kong police searchers said at least one person had survived the crash, but the U.S. Air Force at Tainan Air Base, Formosa, said it was informed there were no survivors.

The plane, a twin-engine C47, was on a flight to Tainan from Hong Kong.

Compromise Tax Plan Near

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Congressional tax writers neared agreement Wednesday on a compromise plan for raising taxes on highway users to prevent a slowdown in the federal superhighway program.

The compromise, now in the voting stage before the House Ways & Means Committee, would cancel a scheduled July 1 reduction of one penny a gallon on gasoline and diesel fuel.

It also would impose some of the higher taxes on the trucking and rubber industries sought by President Kennedy.

This would provide most, but not all, of the $900 million in annual revenue requested by Kennedy to prevent a slowdown in construction of a 41,000-mile network of superhighways.

The shortage would be made up by diverting into the highway trust fund some revenue now going into the treasury for general use.

Cuban Invaders Believed To Be Infiltrating Inland

MIAMI (AP)—Cuba's government insisted Wednesday it would crush totally the island's invasion-borne rebellion within hours. There were some indications at the same time that the invaders had abandoned their main beachhead and dispersed inland.

A reliable source in Miami reported, however, that the rebel guerrillas were prepared to take to the hills and dig in for a protracted struggle in the hope that help eventually would come from outside.

In Miami, rebel spokesmen seemed to be scaling down their claims of rebel strength inside Cuba. They now use words like "infiltration" instead of invasion, and refer to the action as "the first phase of the plan of military operations in Cuba." One announcement referred to their "small forces of resistance."

The indication of lack of a beachhead came when one small mission which had headed for Cuba was reported to have turned back. But few details were available.

Rebel sources in Miami said they had no knowledge of a report that a rebel command ship had lost all communications with invaders inside Cuba.

In Havana, Prime Minister Fidel Castro's government, claiming final liquidation of the invasion was near, asserted that Cuban antiaircraft fire had downed a "North American military plane," killing the pilot. But later statements by the controlled radio itself threw doubt on the story.

The broadcast from Havana accompanied its claim with a violent propaganda attack on the United States. And it predicted that invading rebel forces would be totally liquidated within hours.

Senate To Vote Today On Hike In Wage Base

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Administration forces beat down a major Senate threat to President Kennedy's minimum wage legislation Wednesday and were all set to whisk it to final passage Thursday.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield, Mont., said a final vote would be taken after several closing speeches on the legislation. It calls for a minimum wage of $1.25 an hour. It also would extend wage-hour coverage to 4.1 million new workers.

The bill would give the President a chance to salvage what he wants from Congress after the administration sustained a defeat in the House last month. By a one-vote margin, the House adopted a bill backed by Republicans and Southern Democrats that would boost the minimum wage from the current $1 to $1.15 an hour and cut new coverage drastically. The differences between the House and Senate measures probably will be worked out in some sort of compromise.

Pro-administration Senate Democrats, joined by 13 Republicans, scored a decisive victory before final passage by rejecting an amendment by Sen. A. S. Mike Monroney, D-Okla., that would have trimmed coverage. The Monroney amendment, considered the key test for the administration bill, was beaten 56-39.

The Monroney amendment would have discarded a coverage formula in the administration bill which would make the wage-hour law applicable to businesses growing more than $1 million in sales even though they operate in only one state.

It would have limited the coverage to businesses with stores in at least two states. This would have eliminated about 1.6 million workers from the coverage Kennedy recommended.

Anti-Castro Front Claims New Landing

Government Source Contends Invasion About To Collapse

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (AP)—A spokesman for the anti-Castro Cuban Democratic Revolutionary Front said Wednesday night a new beachhead has been established in Cuba.

The spokesman vigorously denied reports that the counter-revolution had collapsed.

He said the Cuban invasion is going according to plan. The invasion force, he said, had broken into two columns and according to prearranged plans moved into the mountains.

The spokesman said the report of a new beachhead came from Thomas Gamba, secretary to War Minister Antonio Verona in the Cuban exile government.

The spokesman refused to locate the new beachhead but indicated the landing had been made Wednesday. The report followed rumors that two new invasions were to take place in Cuba.

Cuba Claims Victory Near

Communist and Castro sources claimed Wednesday night that the anti-Castro invasion of Cuba is about to collapse.

There were indications in Miami that an invasion force that landed on the south coast early Monday may have abandoned its main beachhead on the south coast and dispersed inland.

Sources in Miami said the invaders were prepared to take to the hills and fight as guerrillas in the hope help ultimately would rally to their cause.

Anti-Castro spokesmen, scaling down their claims to the strength of the invading forces, spoke of infiltration instead of invasion and referred to the present action as the first phase of their operations. A rebel mission was reported to have turned back when it was unable to reach the beachhead.

Mountain Link-Up

Earlier, the anti-Castro Revolutionary Council, in a communique issued in New York, said the invasion forces had succeeded in linking up with guerrillas fighting in the Escambray Mountains—an action that could lead to dispersed and prolonged fighting.

The welter of claims and counterclaims over Cuba included reports that resolute anti-Castro people were not giving up.

Rumors swept Puerto Rico that two or more rebel landings were under way for Wednesday night or early Thursday on the Cuban coasts. An exiled anti-Castro Cuban in Puerto Rico said the original invading force of 2,000 to 3,000 men had met with strong support from the people in Cuba.

The rebel high command previously had claimed it was holding back its main force until it saw whether the people in Cuba would desert Prime Minister Fidel Castro.

Full Latin Aid Fund Endorsed

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Citing "the gravity of the Cuban situation," a House appropriations subcommittee Wednesday approved every penny of $600 million in special foreign aid for Latin America requested by President Kennedy.

The action was almost unprecedented. The subcommittee, headed by Rep. Otto Passman, D-La., has traditionally led a fight for heavy cuts in foreign aid spending.

Passman issued a statement explaining that the subcommittee had shelved its economy ax for fear that "some of our good friends and neighbors south of the border would misunderstand any reduction."

The appropriation includes $500 million to help launch a new program of social progress for Latin America authorized by Congress last year at President Eisenhower's request. The remaining $100 million was for rehabilitation work in Chile which was struck by earthquakes last year.

Will Soviet Risk War To Save Cuban Regime? What's Happened To Castro?

By WILLIAM L. RYAN

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Unsure that their Soviet friends are willing or able to come to the rescue, Cuba's Communist-tinged leaders probably are nervous about their ability to fend for themselves in any drawn-out civil war. They have some hard problems.

There are no signs yet that the anti-Castro invasion represents any formidable force. But there is always the chance that swarms of other rebels are waiting to storm ashore at times and places of their own choosing.

The big question before the regime is this: Is its Soviet ally willing to risk a major war to save it from an uncomfortable situation? In view of President Kennedy's blunt warnings, Soviet Premier Khrushchev, noted as a realist, may well hesitate before attempting to help solve the Cuban regime's big problems of supply.

Another big question: What has happened to Fidel Castro? The "maximum leader" has not been one to avoid the microphone in the past, but he has been strangely silent through this crisis.

Communiques up to now had been signed in Castro's name. The latest big announcement, however, was issued in the armed forces' name. This will encourage new speculation that the Communists may have managed to push Castro aside because his blundering has made him an expensive luxury.

But Castro has been the symbol of the revolution to many, and if he is too long silent it will be bound to cause trouble.

Another question: How can the Cuban regime guarantee itself against wholesale army, navy and militia defections in any long-drawn war? Apart from problems of supply and deployment of defending forces, that probably is the biggest worry.

It seems likely that to insure against desertions, the regime issued its original general mobilization order to the militia.

Cuban radios heard in Miami have carried scores of requests of individual militia members for supplies and clothing from their homes, indicating they were not permitted to return home in person to equip themselves. The regime probably was all too aware of the possibilities if militia members were allowed too far out of sight.

Another big question: What will the regime do for supplies and equipment if the invasion obliges them to use up reserves at a rapid rate and they cannot rely on the Soviet Union coming to their assistance?

Cuba's economy had been geared for years to that of the United States, and this now is having its effect in a time of national crisis.

Anti-American Demonstrations Flare In Europe

LONDON (UPI) — Pro-Castro Communist mobs besieged U.S. embassies and consulates in Iron Curtain countries Wednesday, smashing windows and smearing walls with ink in protest against the invasion of Cuba.

Tens of thousands of anti-American demonstrators poured into the streets in Communist countries from East Germany to Bulgaria in response to government calls for "spontaneous protests."

In Rome, demonstrators for and against Castro took to the streets, but police broke up their formations before any clashes could break out.

In the Bulgarian capital of Sofia thousands of Communist-led demonstrators stoned the American legation and bombarded it with inkwells.

In Czechoslovakia and Hungary, the governments ordered protests against the "American invasion of Cuba" and factories shut down while workers poured into the streets at pre-arranged signals.

Most of Wednesday's demonstrations were confined to the Communist-run countries of Eastern Europe.

But in Cairo, some 1,000 students tried to march on the U.S. embassy. They were turned back by police and staged a rally near the embassy building.

Airmen Hunt Missing Plane

WASHINGTON (AP) — Airmen searched the Washington-Maryland area Wednesday for a plane reported missing with two Guatemalans aboard after taking off three days ago from White Plains, N. Y.

The National Capital Wing of the Civil Air Patrol said it had been asked to join the search. It reported finding no trace of the missing craft before dark and said the hunt would be resumed Thursday.

The CAP said the plane was a white, red-stripe Bonanza 35 piloted by Manfred Kaplowitz with Fred Tabush as co-pilot, both described as prominent Guatemalans. They were reported bound for Guatemala after leaving White Plains on Sunday.

'Copters Cause Chicken Panic To $750 Tune

BALTIMORE (AP) — A federal judge Wednesday awarded a Montgomery County chicken farmer $750 for eggs and fowl lost when military helicopters caused his flock to panic.

Judge Roszel C. Thomsen made the award in U. S. District Court to Harold Weisberg, operator of the Coq D'Or Farm near Hyattstown. The judge ruled half a dozen chickens smothered and others were scratched.

Judge Thomsen said Weisberg failed to show any additional injury of damage claimed in the suit under the Federal Tort Claims Act.

"Harold Weisberg was not, in my opinion, a trustworthy witness," Judge Thomsen wrote. "He exaggerated repeatedly and on many points."

This made it difficult, the judge said, to establish how frequently helicopters flew over the farm and whether they were government owned.

"Despite the many defects in the proof, I find that there was a low flight of government helicopters over the farm on July 12, 1957, which caused the chickens to panic and produced some injury and damage," the opinion said.

Rebel Contact Broken

A public relations company in New York that has been issuing the rebel command's communiques said in midevening Wednesday it had been out of contact with its clients for several hours.

From Guantanamo Bay, the U. S. Naval Base in eastern Cuba, came an undetailed telephone report from a diplomat in Havana saying there were "occasional disturbances" in the capital.

Observers in Miami, noting that Castro, who rarely has missed an opportunity to keep his bearded face before TV, has been strangely silent. Speculation at that time —late Wednesday—was raised as to whether Communists may have pushed him aside or that he may otherwise have been put out of circulation.

Cuban broadcasts said an American pilot was shot down and killed and three other rebel planes were knocked out of the skies. All four had bombed and strafed troops in central Cuba, Havana broadcasts asserted.

Fighting to maintain his pro-Communist regime Prime Minister Fidel Castro's forces sent agents through Havana, arresting hundreds, including 20 Americans, according to information reaching the U.S. naval base of Guantanamo in eastern Cuba.

But Castro personally did not figure in the situation as it was reported by Cuban radio stations. He had not taken to the microphone for several days, and a communique was issued Wednesday in the name of the armed forces. The question arose whether he was still in active command.

The Cuban Revolutionary Council in New York made the claim of a linkup between invaders and the guerrillas who for many weeks have held out in the Escambray Mountains against all efforts by Castro's army and people's militia to drive them out.

A communique from the council, planners of the invasion, said this movement had "completed the planned first phase in their military operation in the south of Cuba."

What they planned to do next was not disclosed, but they could withdraw to the mountains with the supplies they brought ashore.

W.Md. Head Takes Dim View Of Rail Complex Plan

BALTIMORE (UPI) — W. Arthur Grotz, president of Western Maryland Railway Co., Wednesday expressed skepticism of a proposed grand plan to create two giant rail systems in the East through mergers.

The rail executive said "It is difficult enough to merge two companies in the railroad business . . . it seems hardly possible that a financial plan for merging a large number of companies simultaneously could be practical."

Spaeking at the annual meeting, Grotz noted that Western Maryland has been mentioned by the New York Central as a possible candidate for inclusion in a system combining the Central, Chesapeake & Ohio and Baltimore & Ohio Railroads.

"Such a proposal by its very nature is extremely general and would pose many intricate financial problems and prolonged negotiations," he asserted. "There will undoubtedly be ample time for your management carefully to consider any proposal which might eventuate along these lines."

The Central has repeatedly urged the creation of a large eastern rail complex to compete with the one being put together by the Pennsylvania Railroad.

Mrs. Holmes Cessna Heads Republican Women

The Women's Republican Club of Cumberland elected three officers at the general meeting conducted by Mrs. Arthur Verner yesterday afternoon in the Woman's Civic Club house.

Mrs. Holmes Cessna was named president; Mrs. George Barncord, first vice president, and Mrs. John Lancaster, second vice president. Installation will be conducted in May. Other officers will be elected next year.

Holdover officers are Mrs. James W. Bishop, treasurer; Miss Pearl Piper, assistant treasurer; Mrs. Albert Nichols, recording secretary, and Miss Jane Ebert, corresponding secretary. The nominating committee consisted of Mrs. John Findlay, chairman, Mrs. Eunice Niland, Mrs. Sara Shank and Mrs. E. J. McAfee.

A report was given by Mrs. Verner of attending the luncheon meeting of the League of Republican Women of the District of Columbia for Maryland held last week at the Mayflower Hotel, Washington. At that time, John Marshall Butler, Senator from Maryland; and Charles McC. Mathias Jr., United States Representative from the Sixth District of Maryland, were the speakers. Their subject was "Khrushchev's Vocabulary - Its Real Meaning."

Beulah DeBolt Is Elected Head Of Auxiliary No. 52

The Women's Auxiliary No. 52 to the Cumberland Typographical Union 244, elected officers at the meeting, which was held at the home of Mrs. Beulah DeBolt, North Centre Street. Mrs. Norma Sterne presided.

Mrs. DeBolt was elected president; Mrs. Margaret Buzzard, vice president; Mrs. Mae Biller, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Dorothy Shaner, chaplain and Mrs. Sterne, guide.

Installation will be held at the May meeting, which will be at the home of Mrs. Buzzard, 604 North Centre Street.

Following the business session the members had a social hour, when cards were played and refreshments served. Mrs. Biller won the special prize.

Women's CTP To Help Friends Aware

Plans to cooperate with the Friends Aware were discussed at the meeting of the Women's CTP Tuesday evening at the legion home. Mrs. Blanch Lueck was named in charge of the program. Mrs. Pauline Whittington was named chairman for a covered dish supper for members and friends, which will be held May 15.

Prayer To Open Local Observance

Allegany County Homemakers will begin their observance of National Home Demonstration Week April 30-May 6, by attending vesper services on the 30th at St. Paul's Lutheran Church. Rev. John F. Sammel will use the theme of the week, "Home Demonstration Work Helps Today's Home Build Tomorrow's World." The church choir will sing. All homemakers of the county are invited.

An all-day training meeting will be held May 2. It will be at La-Vale Methodist Church at 10 a. m. Demonstrations will be given by all county chairmen. A box lunch will be held.

The annual spring luncheon will be held May 4 at the Ali Gnan Country Club.

Mary Meader Heads Kingsley WSCS

Mrs. Mary Meader was elected president of the WSCS of Kingsley church at a meeting at the church. Other officers are Mrs. Jacob Minke, vice president; Mrs. Howard Hartman, secretary; Mrs. Devon Menges, treasurer.

Secretaries are Mrs. Jacob Snyder, student work; Mrs. Don Schade, missionary education; Mrs. Carol Pardew, spiritual life; Mrs. Herman Curry, supply; Mrs. Harry Lannon, children's work; Mrs. John Zimmerman, youth; Miss Annetta Yates, promotion; Mrs. Warren Hyson, literature; Mrs. Christine Alexander, Christian social relations; Mrs. William Lillard, local church activities and United Church Women; Mrs. William Hiser, sunshine; Mrs. John Reynolds, key woman; Mrs. Kenneth Burhman, girls lodge.

The budget was presented and announcements made. Mrs. Thelma Minke conducted devotions and the Scripture lesson.

Mary Jo Logsdon Named BPW Club President

The Cumberland Business and Professional Women's Club elected officers Tuesday evening and announcement was made that the local club now has the largest membership in the state. Mrs. Ethel Northcraft conducted the meeting, which was held at Central YMCA.

Miss Mary Jo Logsdon was elected president; Mrs. Effie Parsons, vice president; Mrs. Sue Johnson, recording secretary; Miss Mary Jo Simpson, corresponding secretary; and Miss Gertrude Wolfe, treasurer.

Refuse Disposal Problem

ROCKVILLE, Md. (AP) — The Montgomery County Council said Tuesday action must be taken in the year beginning July 1 to provide additional refuse disposal facilities for the county.

Explaining why it added $200,000 to the county budget for a survey of refuse collection and disposal, the council said a recent study by the Washington Suburban Sanitary Commission did not consider the needs of 50 square miles of the county outside the commission's jurisdiction.

Another study, submitted to the council last month by a firm of consulting engineers, recommended that the county assume full responsibility for the disposal of its refuse. To do this, the report urged, the county should construct its own incinerator.

The council scheduled a May 15 meeting with the sanitary commission to discuss the matter.

In other actions, the council decided to consider in its legislative session next month a bill to increase by $3,000 the amount of supplemental salary the county pays to its circuit court judges. They now receive $15,000 from the state and $4,500 from the county.

NEW YORK (AP) — The so-called Kennedy bull market is a two-sided coin with either side calling for higher stock prices.

That is a widespread view, says the brokerage firm, E. F. Hutton & Co.

And, it adds, current news developments are doing little to dispel it.

One side of the coin represents "the threat of renewed inflation by an expansionist administration operating in an atmosphere of turmoil," says Hutton.

It cites the Cuban invasion, the Soviet orbiting of a man in space, additional victories by the Teamsters Union, demands for additional victories by the Teamsters Union, demands for additional benefits by the United Auto Workers, and a request for higher postal rates by the administration.

The other side of the coin represents expectations of a quickening of business activity by mid-year, according to Hutton.

The firm notes that steel production and automobile sales are perking p and that personal income, industrial production and housing starts improved in March.

"The market has been anticipating a business recovery, or failing that a federal spending program to revive the economic tempo since last autumn," Hutton says. "The question now is whether the unusual enthusiasm for equities has overdone the traditional discount function of the stock market."

Kenneth Ward of Hayden, Stone & Co. comments that further bullishness seems warranted but only on an increasingly selective basis.

He doesn't feel that a major top to the general market has been signaled.

"Although dozens of individual stocks appear to be headed higher," Ward says, "common sense dictates that the action over the next few weeks must be watched very carefully to try and determine whether some of the future prosperity being forecast has not already been discounted too generously from a near-term standpoint.

"This is especially so of certain of the more volatile and speculative leaders which have already advanced quite spectacularly."

Are stock prices too high:

Investors Research Co. concedes that if you compare the depressed earnings level of late 1960 with current stock prices, then many values appear high.

"On the other hand," the advisory service says, "this market is leading a business revival of major proportions and corporate earnings will make sharp spurts over the next 6 to 18 months.

"Considering the potential increases in per share earnings ahead, we don't share the view that current prices are high."

Postpone Hearing

NEW YORK (UPI) — The National Labor Relations Board announced Wednesday the second postponement of a scheduled hearing into charges of unfair labor practices filed against the General Electric Co.

The NLRB charges originally were to be aired March 13 but the hearing was delayed until Wednesday. The board now has rescheduled the hearing for May 24. No reason for the postponement was announced.

SRC Legal Fees Paid 20 Md. Legislators Or Firms

BALTIMORE (AP) — Twenty Maryland Democratic legislators or their law firms received nearly $40,000 in legal fees during 1960 from the State Roads Commission, a report revealed Wednesday. Republicans were absent from the list.

The largest amount paid to a law firm in which a legislator is a partner went to the firm of Del. Ridgely P. Melvin Jr., D - Anne Arundel, which received $13,820 for legal work from the SRC during the year. Melvin is chairman of the House Judiciary Committee.

The law firm of Del. A. Gordon Boone, D-Balto County, received the next largest payment—$8,039. Boone is House Democratic majority leader. Another partner in the firm, Rep. Daniel B. Brewster, D-Md.

Maryland state senators who received legal fees from the roads commission include: J. Raymond Buffington Jr., D-Third, Balto., $435; Samuel Barrick, D-Frederick, $280; Harry R. Hughes, D-Caroline, $385; John Clarence North, D-Talbot, $650; James A. Pine, D-Balto Co., $1,840; and Edward O. Weant Jr., D-Carroll, $325.

Delegates who collected legal fees included: Alger Y. Barbee, D-Montgomery, $3,170; Clarence H. Corkran Jr., D-Dorchester, $200; Morton H. Getz, D-Harford, $285; W. Garrett Larrimore, D-Anne Arundel, $200; and John M. Maguire, D-Balto. Co., $400.

Also Hervey G. Machen, D-Prince Georges, $775; John Hanson Mitchell, D-Charles, $1,865; Daniel M. Murray Jr., D-Howard, $385; Lansdale G. Sasscer Jr., D-Prince Georges, $3,805; William Walsh, D-Allegany, $1,505; C.Clifton Virts, D-Frederick, $375; and Charles W. Woodward Jr., D-Montgomery, $430.

Other Democratic political leaders who received fees include William C. Walsh, father of Del. Walsh and former attorney general, $220; Frank H. Newell III, Baltimore County state's attorney, $135; Rudolph A. Carrico, a regional vice chairman of the Democratic party for Southern Maryland, $365; and the law firm of Lane, Bushong and Byron of Hagerstown, $1,830. The firm includes former Democratic Governor William Preston Lane and E. Stuart Bushong, a regional party chairman.

Johnson Bowie, Baltimore county solicitor, received $1,250 and Henry P. Turner, Talbot County state's attorney, received $635.

1,500 Md. Doctors To Attend Meeting

BALTIMORE (AP)—More than 1,500 physicians are expected to attend the 63rd annual meeting of the Medical and Chirurgical Faculty of Maryland April 26-28 in Baltimore.

Speakers will include specialists from six states. In addition to technical sessions on various medical subjects, the group's council and house of delegates will hold business meetings.

Rees' Release To Va. For Trial Expected Soon

FREDERICKSBURG, Va. (AP) —The mechanics of turning Melvin Davis Rees Jr. over to Virginia for trial in the Jackson family slaying appeared Wednesday to be largely an administrative matter between the state and the U.S. Justice Department.

Two Baltimore attorneys who defended Ree in his U.S. District Court kidnap trial in Baltimore indicated a conference they held with Justice Department aides Tuesday was not designed as part of any legal fight against Rees' release.

In fact, William J. Evans, one of the lawyers, said Wednesday that "We have no more authority in the case. Our services as (court-appointed) counsel are pretty much terminated."

The 32-year-old musician was sentenced to life imprisonment for the kidnaping of two members of the Carroll Jackson family of Apple Grove, Va.

Evans said the meeting was arranged "because of our feeling that as a final matter in the case, we should at least present the defendant's views to the Department of Justice in his behalf.

"They took note of the views and said they would take them under consideration if and when the question of Rees' release arises," he said.

In Richmond, Gov. J. Lindsay Almond Jr. reiterated Wednesday he wants to see Virginia authorites act promptly to prosecute charges against Rees.

Almond said he was "extremely anxious" to have Rees returned to the jurisdiction of Virginia.

Commonwealth's Atty. W. Earl Crank of Louisa County, who is expected to assist Commonwealth's Atty. T. Stokeley Coleman of Spotsylvania County in prosecuting Rees if he is brought to Virginia, said a formal request for the defendant's release would be filed with the Justice Department "in the near future."

The department already has said it would cooperate fully to facilitate Rees' release to Virginia if requested.

Spotsylvania County wants to try Rees on charges of murdering Carroll V. Jackson Jr., 29, and a daughter, Janet, 1½, at an abandoned sawmill site near Fredericksburg Jan. 11, 1959. He was tried at Baltimore for the kidnaping of Mrs. Mildred Jackson, 27, and another daughter, Susan, 5, whose bodies were found in Maryland.

Rees decided Monday not t oappeal his life sentence, thus opening the way for his return to Virginia.

Beall For Amendment

WASHINGTON (AP)—The 56-39 vote by which the Senate Wednesday defeated an amendment by Sen. A. S. Monroney, D-Okla., to reduce coverage under the minimum wage bill included:

Republicans for: Beall and Butler of Md., Williams of Del.

Democrats against: Byrd and Randolph of W. Va., Boggs of Del.

Two Perish In Fire

POCOMOKE CITY, Md. (AP)—An elderly man and woman died Wednesday in a fire which destroyed their two - story, frame home. The victims were Edwin Corbin, 80, and Hester Schoolfield, 85, both Negroes.

Matches, No 'Explosives' Found In Car

LAUREL, Md. (AP)—A tip that a car loaded with dynamite was parked in a residential area Wednesday brought State Police units, town police and demolition experts from Ft. Meade and Washington racing here. Some area residents and children from a nearby school were evacuated.

Police found the car, loaded with junk, and with foreboding wires protruding from several windows. A thorough, gingerly-conducted search revealed nothing more explosive than a large box of kitchen matches.

The incident began when a woman called Laurel Police headquarters to say she thought her husband's car was filled with dynamite and detonator caps. The man allegedly had been committed to a state mental institution earlier this week.

City Manager George S. Barkman received the call and immediately requested State Police assistance. Units raced to the scene, maintaining a strict radio silence for fear signals from the radio might detonate the "explosives."

Students in nearby Laurel High School were quickly moved to the far side of the building and out of danger. Residents within 500 yards were evacuated before police and demolition experts started their search which turned up the matches.

Speedup Promised

MARTINSBURG, W. Va. (AP)—State Road Commissioner Burl A. Sawyer has promised to speed construction of an Interstate 81 bypass west of Martinsburg.

State officials had indicated earlier the project probably could not begin for several years because federal funds were not available. After the West Virginia Chamber of Commerce urged all possible speed, Sawyer said contracts should be let by 1962.

School Official Silent On Report Talk On Sex Cost Teacher Job

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—The superintendent of schools for Anne Arundel County refused to confirm Wednesday that the county failed to renew a biology teacher's contract because he discussed sex in the classroom.

Sherman D. Brett, 39, the teacher at Severna Park High School, said the action by the school system arose because he "went beyond what they (school officials) considered proper in explaining the reproductive systems of certain animals."

But the superintendent, Dr. David S. Jenkins, said the school board can refuse to renew a teacher's contract after his first two years' service if his work has been deemed unsatisfactory.

Brett's resignation, which he submitted after learning of the board's action, touched off a protest demonstration by 50 students and their parents at the school Tuesday night.

The school board, which meets May 10, must act on the teacher's resignation before it becomes final.

Dr. Richard D. Weigel, president of the board, and also president of St. John's College in Annapolis, said the board would probably want a full explanation of the incident from Dr. Jenkins May 10.

Driver License Renewal Errors Noted By DMV

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Department of Motor Vehicles reports that between 60 to 100 applications for Maryland drivers licenses are returned each day because of errors in preparation.

"This has resulted in an unnecessary delay in the issuance of licenses and has caused some motorists to be left with only an expired drivers permit after the deadline," Commissioner John R. Jewell said.

Jewell said common errors in applications include failure to enclose $2, use of nicknames instead of given names, checks incorrectly made out and failure of minors to send affidavits of parents' consent.

A new law provides that Maryland drivers must renew their licenses every two years.

It is believed that far more fish are caught by other fish than by man.

Evans said the meeting was arranged "because of our feeling that as a final matter in the case, we should at least present the defendant's views to the Department of Justice in his behalf.

"They took note of the views and said they would take them under consideration if and when the question of Rees' release arises," he said.

In Richmond, Gov. J. Lindsay Almond Jr. reiterated Wednesday he wants to see Virginia authorites act promptly to prosecute charges against Rees.

Almond said he was "extremely anxious" to have Rees returned to the jurisdiction of Virginia.

Commonwealth's Atty. W. Earl Crank of Louisa County, who is expected to assist Commonwealth's Atty. T. Stokeley Coleman of Spotsylvania County in prosecuting Rees if he is brought to Virginia, said a formal request for the defendant's release would be filed with the Justice Department "in the near future."

The department already has said it would cooperate fully to facilitate Rees' release to Virginia if requested.

Spotsylvania County wants to try Rees on charges of murdering Carroll V. Jackson Jr., 29, and a daughter, Janet, 1½, at an abandoned sawmill site near Fredericksburg Jan. 11, 1959. He was tried at Baltimore for the kidnaping of Mrs. Mildred Jackson, 27, and another daughter, Susan, 5, whose bodies were found in Maryland.

Rees decided Monday not t oappeal his life sentence, thus opening the way for his return to Virginia.

Beall For Amendment

WASHINGTON (AP)—The 56-39 vote by which the Senate Wednesday defeated an amendment by Sen. A. S. Monroney, D-Okla., to reduce coverage under the minimum wage bill included:

Republicans for: Beall and Butler of Md., Williams of Del.

Democrats against: Byrd and Randolph of W. Va., Boggs of Del.

Two Perish In Fire

POCOMOKE CITY, Md. (AP)—An elderly man and woman died Wednesday in a fire which destroyed their two - story, frame home. The victims were Edwin Corbin, 80, and Hester Schoolfield, 85, both Negroes.

Matches, No 'Explosives' Found In Car

LAUREL, Md. (AP)—A tip that a car loaded with dynamite was parked in a residential area Wednesday brought State Police units, town police and demolition experts from Ft. Meade and Washington racing here. Some area residents and children from a nearby school were evacuated.

Police found the car, loaded with junk, and with foreboding wires protruding from several windows. A thorough, gingerly-conducted search revealed nothing more explosive than a large box of kitchen matches.

The incident began when a woman called Laurel Police headquarters to say she thought her husband's car was filled with dynamite and detonator caps. The man allegedly had been committed to a state mental institution earlier this week.

City Manager George S. Barkman received the call and immediately requested State Police assistance. Units raced to the scene, maintaining a strict radio silence for fear signals from the radio might detonate the "explosives."

Students in nearby Laurel High School were quickly moved to the far side of the building and out of danger. Residents within 500 yards were evacuated before police and demolition experts started their search which turned up the matches.

Speedup Promised

MARTINSBURG, W. Va. (AP)—State Road Commissioner Burl A. Sawyer has promised to speed construction of an Interstate 81 bypass west of Martinsburg.

State officials had indicated earlier the project probably could not begin for several years because federal funds were not available. After the West Virginia Chamber of Commerce urged all possible speed, Sawyer said contracts should be let by 1962.

School Official Silent On Report Talk On Sex Cost Teacher Job

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—The superintendent of schools for Anne Arundel County refused to confirm Wednesday that the county failed to renew a biology teacher's contract because he discussed sex in the classroom.

Sherman D. Brett, 39, the teacher at Severna Park High School, said the action by the school system arose because he "went beyond what they (school officials) considered proper in explaining the reproductive systems of certain animals."

But the superintendent, Dr. David S. Jenkins, said the school board can refuse to renew a teacher's contract after his first two years' service if his work has been deemed unsatisfactory.

Brett's resignation, which he submitted after learning of the board's action, touched off a protest demonstration by 50 students and their parents at the school Tuesday night.

The school board, which meets May 10, must act on the teacher's resignation before it becomes final.

Dr. Richard D. Weigel, president of the board, and also president of St. John's College in Annapolis, said the board would probably want a full explanation of the incident from Dr. Jenkins May 10.

Driver License Renewal Errors Noted By DMV

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Department of Motor Vehicles reports that between 60 to 100 applications for Maryland drivers licenses are returned each day because of errors in preparation.

"This has resulted in an unnecessary delay in the issuance of licenses and has caused some motorists to be left with only an expired drivers permit after the deadline," Commissioner John R. Jewell said.

Jewell said common errors in applications include failure to enclose $2, use of nicknames instead of given names, checks incorrectly made out and failure of minors to send affidavits of parents' consent.

A new law provides that Maryland drivers must renew their licenses every two years.

Parents Of Injured Lad Sue Boy Scouts

BALTIMORE (AP) — Paul and Edith Sipaula of Chestertown have sued the Del-Mar-Va Council of the Boy Scouts of America, of Wilmington, Del., for $20,000 damages.

They contend their 14-year-old son Michael, was injured at a Boy Scout camp in Cecil County on Aug. 3, 1958, through negligence. The suit was filed in Baltimore's U.S. District Court.

Woman To Woman

By PATRICIA McCORMACK

NEW YORK (UPI) — The long-fought — and never won — battle for constitutional equal rights for women got a financial boost through the willpower of a Baltimore woman recently.

Miss Jesse Marjorie Cook, who helped to fight the battle while alive, willed $25,000 to set up a trust fund to aid any woman who suffers because of inequalities under the law.

Battling the posthumous way she also made grants to aid those trying to push through Congress an equal rights amendment to the U. S. Constitution and advance equality of females in civic and economic matters.

Gains aside, women don't have constitutional equal rights the fact the late Miss Cook noted in her will.

The amendment she and the equal-rights fighters want added to the Constitution would bring the document up to date by adding the word "sex" to the original "race, creed, or color" phrase that appears elsewhere in laws against discrimination.

At least that's what the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs (NFBPW) claims in a brochure aimed at convincing women they should fight for the amendment.

The amendment, as suggested, would read as follows:

"Equality of rights under the law shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or by any state on account of sex.

"Congress and the several states shall have power within their respective jurisdictions, to enforce this article by appropriate legislation."

Now the NFPBW explains that the amendment will establish in law the term "men" as generic, to include women. It will also:

"Encourage maximum use of womanpower through removal of pretty restrictions.

—"Dignify family and recognize the partnership of marriage as it exists."

The NFPBW says an amendment's needed because:

"The Constitution's provisions are famed in the language of the English common law. Under that common law women had no citizen rights; they could not keep or spend their own money, have personal property, sue in the courts, make contracts, or have guardianship of their children.

"The 14th and 15th Amendments give equal protection and political rights to all persons regardless of race. Yet the effect of court decisions has been to except women in certain of their applications.

"The 19th Amendment in 1920 gave women the right to vote, but did not give them legal equality. Women in some states today are, legally, very little better off than they were in 1848.

"In the absence of a constitutional amendment, what the state legislature gives women this year it can take away next year."

Among current injustices to females that would be corrected by such an amendment are the following cited by the NFBPW:

—Married women are treated unequally in all community property states. While provisions vary, in general, the husband may will one-half of the property, the wife may not.

—Formal procedures are required before a wife may go into independent business in several states.

Paying Bills In Spain Real Job

By PAM MIXTER

MADRID (UPI) — The travel folders should tell a girl that paying bills in Spain is unlike any experience she is likely to have.

This particular girl has had her water shut off "for not paying the bill since August," and her gas cut off for "not paying the bill for four months."

It has nothing to do either with ability or effort to pay. This is the way bills are collected when you run a home in Spain:

A man comes to the door some time — no set day and no set hour — clutching your bill. If you are not at home he goes away again and does not bother to tell anyone he has been there. Nor does he slip the bill under the door. Nor is the bill then mailed to you. Perhaps he will come back again. Perhaps he will not.

In Spain almost everyone has a cleaning woman, "and it is a common practice to leave money with the "chica" to pay the bills when the men come to the door.

But this is not foolproof. One chica, who shall go nameless simply pocketed the bill money. The result was: No water. Or it could be neither gas nor light.

When the inevitable happens, the next step is to seek out the people to whom you owe the money, either to tell them the bill was paid or that now, in fact, it will be.

This proceedure may start a new round of troubles. There may be no record of your bill.

Department heads scratch their heads. Clerks scurry. Eventually — in the case of the water bill it took four days — you get straightened out, pay your money, obtain a receipt and go away knowing it will happen again.

New Instant Meal Added To U.S. Army C-Rations

FORT BENNING, Ga. (UPI)—A new instant meal, designed to be more palatable and easier to prepare, has been added to the United States Army's standard C-rations.

The new-type chow is called the Quick Serve Meal and comes already prepared or dehydrated in lightweight packages. There are 21 various menus and all maintain 3,600 calories-per-day in nutritional value.

One man can prepare a hot meal for six in a matter of minutes by adding hot or cold water or just opening special packages. Two men can do the same for 25 men, even in difficult combat situations.

Lt. Col. Clifford H. Reynolds of the U.S. Army Quartermaster Food and Container Institute, reports that the Quick Serve Meal still is in the experimental stage. However, the 2nd Division's 2nd Battle Group, 1st Infantry is testing the new meals under combat conditions. Other tests also are being made.

Army officials said the result of these tests may well determine the new meal's part in the modern Army.

A typical meal consists of chicken and gravy, potatoes, green peas, fruit cake, apple sauce, macaroni and cocoa. Also included are salt, napkins, instant coffee, dry cream, chewing gum, sugar and cigarettes.

The only thing not edible in the packages besides the napkins and cigarettes are patches for cleaning rifles.

To Meet Leaders

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon will meet with GOP congressional leaders Thursday for the first time since he lost his bid for the presidency.

Nixon's breakfast session with the House and Senate Republican chiefs will be a prelude to their scheduled May 1 conference with former president Dwight D. Eisenhower at Gettysburg, Pa.

Storage batteries and electric cable coverings account for 50 per cent of the lead used in the United States.

U.S. Business Failures Hit Postwar High

NEW YORK (UPI)—The nation's business failures in March rose 11 per cent from the prior month to a new postwar high of 1,610, Dun & Bradstreet, Inc. reported Tuesday.

The statistical agency said this marked the fourth successive monthly rise in bankruptcies. The total was 21 per cent higher than in the same month last year and 8 per cent above the previous all-time peak of 1,495 failures set in March 1958.

Although dollar liabilities rose 44 per cent from last month to exceed the previous record of June 1960, and twice as many failures occurred with losses of over $1 million, D&B noted that there was little change in the seasonally adjusted failure rate which was 63 per 10,000 businesses, midway in the range of 61 to 65 prevailing for the last six months.

CASTRO PICKET GOES DOWN—One of the pro-Castro pickets that paraded in front of Philadelphia's Federal Courthouse yesterday lies on the pavement after fighting broke out between the pickets and shoppers in the area. Police made three arrests, then dispersed the crowd. (AP Photofax)

Rabbis Urge Birch Probe

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (UPI)—The Rabbinical Council of America, Tuesday sent a telegram to Attorney General Robert Kennedy urging him to begin an investigation of the John Birch Society charging it creates "dissention and division" harmful to democratic ideals.

The action was taken after Rabbi Emanual Rackman, Far Rockaway, N.Y., honorary president of the council told some 500 Rabbis attending the 25th annual convention that the Birch Society is a "serious danger. . ."

Rackman called for an immediate congressional investigation "of the root of this secretive society and urged the attorney general to launch an intensive study forthwith to find out if the society should be placed on the subversive list."

He outlined the "serious danger" which faced the U.S. from "the narrow, Fascist-like and bigotted Birch society" which he said "is introducing into our communities grave forces of dissention and division and defamation which can ultimately result in a breakdown of democracy and fair play in all out national dealings."

Record Number Of Women Hold Jobs

By WILLIAM T. PLUNKETT

NEW YORK (UPI) —The hand that rocked the cradle has been getting an outside salaried job ever since the young ones learned to rock and roll for themselves.

More women hold jobs outside the home today than ever before — and data indicate this trend will continue.

Economic necessity is a major reason more wives turn to outside employment — either full or part-time. A second pay check helps to pay for goods and services, and raise the family's standard of living, according to Roger Murphy, marketing economist with the New York State Extension Service.

Last fall some 24 million women — 37 per cent of all the women in the country over 14 years of age — held extra jobs. By 1970, this major labor force is expected to gain an additional five million recruits, researchers estimated.

Grandmothers have been getting on an outside payroll at an even faster rate than their married daughters. More women in the 45 to 54 age group were employed than any other age bracket last October, when a count was made by the U.S. Department of Labor.

The average age of women workers is 40 years. Women 35 years of age, and older, accounted for more than two-fifths of the nation's civilian labor force growth between 1940 and 1959.

Nearly one out of three wives over 35 was in the work force in 1959. Only one out of eight worked 20 years ago.

The number of women working part-time increased 47 per cent between 1950-58, while women working full time increased only 15 per cent in that period.

Over the next 14 years — or by 1975 — part-time workers will increase by more than 75 percent, whereas the number working full time is expected to gain about 50 percent.

Presence and age of children are principal factors governing mothers' working activity. When young children, particularly in the pre-school age, are in the home, mothers are less likely to work. The quest for extra jobs often starts when children are of school age, or older.

About 40 per cent of the mothers with children six to 17 years old worked in March, 1959, but only 19 per cent were working with children under six years.

In families with children less than three years of age, very few mothers worked, regardless of the presence of older children.

To Test Materials

NEW YORK (UPI)—Westinghouse Electric International Co. announced it will conduct testing of nuclear materials for Mitsubishi Atomic Power Industries, Inc., of Tokyo. Tests on uranium dioxide fuel made by a swaging process developed by the Japanese firm will be carried out at the Westinghouse testing reactor at Waltz Mill, Pa.

The action was taken after Rabbi Emanual Rackman, Far Rockaway, N.Y., honorary president of the council told some 500 Rabbis attending the 25th annual convention that the Birch Society is a "serious danger. . ."

Rackman called for an immediate congressional investigation "of the root of this secretive society and urged the attorney general to launch an intensive study forthwith to find out if the society should be placed on the subversive list."

He outlined the "serious danger" which faced the U.S. from "the narrow, Fascist-like and bigotted Birch society" which he said "is introducing into our communities grave forces of dissention and division and defamation which can ultimately result in a breakdown of democracy and fair play in all out national dealings."

Subway Project Is Approved

B & O plans for sprucing up the Virginia Avenue underpass were approved yesterday by Police and Fire Commissioner Philmore Fleming.

He said the department will be "happy to cooperate on this or any other B & O project" and will have patrolmen on duty to direct traffic while the work is being done.

City Engineer C. R. Nuzum was asked to notify E. M. Cummings, division engineer, that plans for cleaning, scaling and painting the metal parts of the subway have been approved.

The work is scheduled to begin Monday morning, weather permitting. Crews working from rolling scaffolds will complete one side at a single stretch.

W. Va. Legion Gives Away Flag Kits

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—The American Legion's West Virginia department is mailing 2,700 flag kits to elementary school principals throughout the state to promote Gov. W. W. Barron's Americanism campaign.

State Commander Robert E. Lester said the packets contain a copy of laws regularting display of the American flag, its history, a printed placard of the pledge of allegience and a section on respect to be shown when the national anthem is played.

"I believe that many people — including our youth — do not show the proper respect for our national symbols because they do not know the right thing to do," Lester said. "These kits are provided solely as a teaching aid."

Ruling Made On Club Liquor Licenses

The Allegany County Board of Alcoholic Beverage License Commissioners yesterday announced that all club licenses will require the names of three elected officers of any organization which seeks a permit to sell intoxicants.

Melvin Sloan, Lonaconing, a member of the board, said he had been asked by several organizations concerning this point. Sloan said he felt the intent of the law was that bona fide elected officials of an orgnization would sign the application for a permit.

This would make them responsible for the activities of the organization pertaining to the sale of beer-wine or liquor and for observance of the regulations. The use of "dummy" applicants will not be allowed by the board.

The board also ordered Harry F. Stevens, who operates a beer tavern at Zihlman, to appear before the board May 3 at 10 a. m. to show cause why his license should not be suspended or revoked.

Stevens was fined $250 in Trial Magistrates Court here for selling and permitting the consumption of beer on his premises on Sunday afternoon, April 9.

Two new licenses were granted today. Richard Laken Trexler was issued a Class D beer permit for premises at 313 Springdale Street known as "Dickie's Tavern."

John J. Stakem and Thomas F. Blucker were issued a permit for a Class D beer establishment known as the Town Tavern in Midland.

There were several transfers of licenses resulting from various factors.

The Class D beer license for the Tepee, 60 Bowery Street, Frostburg, was transferred to Earl Wilson from his mother, Hazel Wilson, who died recently.

Catherine Young was granted a license for the Amcelle Tavern, McMullen Highway, since her husband, Odell Young, gave up the permit.

The license for Bill's Place, 526 Pine Avenue, has been transferred from William F. Leake to Margaret G. Leake, his wife. The permit is a Class D beer type.

The license for the Class D beer business at the J and B Bar, Bedford Road, has been changed with John J. Cullen and Virginia Cullen, his wife. The name of Robert F. Brockey had been on the license before.

Ruth I. Barber was granted a beer, wine and liquor permit for the Barber Service Station and Tavern on Legislative Road at Barton. The permit had been in the name of Melvin Barber, who died recently.

Ruling Made On Club Liquor Licenses

The Allegany County Board of Alcoholic Beverage License Commissioners yesterday announced that all club licenses will require the names of three elected officers of any organization which seeks a permit to sell intoxicants.

Melvin Sloan, Lonaconing, a member of the board, said he had been asked by several organizations concerning this point. Sloan said he felt the intent of the law was that bona fide elected officials of an orgnization would sign the application for a permit.

This would make them responsible for the activities of the organization pertaining to the sale of beer-wine or liquor and for observance of the regulations. The use of "dummy" applicants will not be allowed by the board.

The board also ordered Harry F. Stevens, who operates a beer tavern at Zihlman, to appear before the board May 3 at 10 a. m. to show cause why his license should not be suspended or revoked.

Stevens was fined $250 in Trial Magistrates Court here for selling and permitting the consumption of beer on his premises on Sunday afternoon, April 9.

Two new licenses were granted today. Richard Laken Trexler was issued a Class D beer permit for premises at 313 Springdale Street known as "Dickie's Tavern."

John J. Stakem and Thomas F. Blucker were issued a permit for a Class D beer establishment known as the Town Tavern in Midland.

There were several transfers of licenses resulting from various factors.

The Class D beer license for the Tepee, 60 Bowery Street, Frostburg, was transferred to Earl Wilson from his mother, Hazel Wilson, who died recently.

Catherine Young was granted a license for the Amcelle Tavern, McMullen Highway, since her husband, Odell Young, gave up the permit.

The license for Bill's Place, 526 Pine Avenue, has been transferred from William F. Leake to Margaret G. Leake, his wife. The permit is a Class D beer type.

The license for the Class D beer business at the J and B Bar, Bedford Road, has been changed with John J. Cullen and Virginia Cullen, his wife. The name of Robert F. Brockey had been on the license before.

Ruth I. Barber was granted a beer, wine and liquor permit for the Barber Service Station and Tavern on Legislative Road at Barton. The permit had been in the name of Melvin Barber, who died recently.

Allegany County Delegates Obtained Passage Of 19 Bills

Allegany County's delegates batted nearly 60 per cent during the recent session of the General Assembly by obtaining passage of 19 of the 32 bills they sponsored.

Bills sponsored by the six-member delegation that were enacted in both houses of the legislature and await the signature of Gov. J. Millard Tawes are as follows; according to Delegation Chairman Fred B. Driscoll.

House Bill 153, including highway maintenance employes within the state classified service

House Bill 197, authorizing the Allegany County sheriff to appoint fire company members as deputy sheriffs.

House Bill 217, providing for tax exemptions for property owned by labor organizations in Allegany County.

House Bill 352, repealing local laws which established an obsolete pension fund for certain teachers.

House Bill 353, repealing obsolete local laws concerning county roads.

House Bill 354, repealing obsolete laws setting up a miners' relief fund.

House Bill 355, setting the compensation of an Allegany County Circuit Court examiner and spelling out his duties.

House Bill 455, authorizing the Board of Allegany County Commissioners to obtain a blanket bond for clerical help in the tax collector's office.

House Bill 484, requiring that two of the four judges of the Fourth Judicial Circuit shall be residents of Allegany County and elected by the citizens of Allegany County.

House Bill 806, removing a requirement of filing lists of delinquent taxpayers monthly.

House Bill 807, authorizing a county bond issue not to exceed $5,000,000 for school construction.

House Bill 810, changing the provisions for the use of dip nets.

House Bill 812, extending for one year the appointive status for purpose of retirement of the director of the Maryland Bureau of Mines.

House Bill 815, authorizing Frostburg to carry out urban renewal projects.

House Bill 816, authorizing Cumberland to carry out urban renewal projects.

House Bill 919, changing the boundaries of the LaVale Sanitary District and amending the provisions for sanitary facility bonds.

House Bill 920, prohibiting issuance of package liquor licenses to supermarkets in Allegany County.

House Bill 962, providing for the appointment of clerks for magistrates by the County Commissioners and fixing their salaries.

House Bill 963, changing the number and salaries of constables in county trial magistrates' courts.

The delegates introduced two bills by request and then held them in committee when unfavorable reports were given them.

One was House Bill 814 which the LaVale Sanitary Commission wanted introduced. It called for the legislature to remove its jurisdiction over sewers in that community and also sought to correct the boundaries of the sanitary district.

Another bill, House Bill 805 requested by the County Commissioners, would have established a board to regulate electrical businesses in the county. It failed to reach the floor of the House of Delegates.

Referred to the agriculture and natural resources committee were the following bills sponsored by the entire delegation:

House Bill 803, establishing a season for catching frogs.

House Bill 804, changing the time in Allegany County for dip netting.

House Bill 808, changing the period of validity of certain nonresident anglers' licenses.

House Bill 811, exempting persons over 65 years of age from paying for fishing licenses.

House Bill 813, authorizing the taking of carp or eels in Allegany County.

House Bill 912, prohibiting the doe hunting season unless the Allegany County member of the State Game and Inland Fish Commission consents.

The House Education Committee failed to adopt a favorable report on House Bill 482 which would have transferred Frostburg State Teachers College to the University of Maryland.

Held up in the Senate Judicial Proceedings Committee was House Bill 249, which would have permitted Allegany County Orphans Court to approve the sale of real estate not exceeding $10,000 in value.

The House Judiciary Committee held up House Bill 453 which prohibited discrimination because of age in employment in Maryland.

Beall, Butler Vote For Substitute Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—The 63-34 vote by which the Senate Tuesday defeated a Republican substitute by Sen. Everett M. Dirksen (Ill.) for President Kennedy's minimum wage bill included the following:

Republicans for the substitute: Beall and Butler of Maryland.

Democrats against: Byrd of W. Va., Randolph of W. Va.

Evitts Creek Stocked

More than 1,000 rainbow trout were stocked in Evitts Creek yesterday by the State Game and Inland Fish Commission, according to Regional Game Warden Joseph A. Minke.

Church Unit Plans Dinner Meeting

Second Baptist Church Brotherhood will hold a meeting Friday in the Community Room of the Central YMCA. Dinner will be served at 6:30 p. m.

Invitations have been extended to all men of the church, members and friends, visitors, and fathers of Sunday School children, according to Jean Knippenberg, Brotherhood president.

Knippenberg announced that J. Goodloe Jackson, president of the Allegany County Board of Education, and Rev. Clifford Johnson, pastor of First Baptist Church, will speak at the affair. Jackson will talk on church and school education in Western Maryland.

Rerun On Asian Trouble Spots

President Kennedy's scheduled address today to a Washington meeting of the American Society of Newspaper Editors recalls an appearance of former Vice President Richard M. Nixon before the same group seven years ago when, as today, a crisis loomed in Southeast Asia. During a question-and-answer session, April 16, 1954, Nixon told the editors that the United States would have to send troops into Indo-China if there were no other way to prevent its fall to the Communists.

Nixon's remarks were supposed to be off-the-record and at first were attributed by the press to an anonymous "high administration spokesman." But the secret soon was out, and there was so much hostile reaction in Congress that Secretary of State John Foster Dulles three days later assured the nation that he thought it "unlikely" that American boys would be sent into combat in Indo-China.

A conference on Indo-China opened in Geneva on April 26, and the British government the following day announced it would give the United States no assurance of military aid against the Indo-Chinese Reds pending the "results of Geneva." The French stronghold at Dien Bien Phu fell to the Communists on May 7, after a siege of 55 days, and on June 8 Dulles declared that the United States would not intervene alone in Indo-China. Cease-fire agreements were signed at Geneva, July 21, followed by the partition of Viet Nam and the "neutralization" of Laos and Cambodia.

Like an old television movie, the drama in Southeast Asia is being re-run in 1961. President Kennedy has been circumspect in his public pronouncements on the crisis there, and the newspaper editors probably will have to be satisfied with a less dramatic statement on Southeast Asia than they received from Nixon in 1954. The issue is much the same today as then—only the American leaders who must make the hard decisions have changed.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

The Republican Party

At this moment, the Republican Party is split into four factions:

1. There are those who still believe that Richard Nixon can make a come-back in 1964, provided he makes a lot of speeches between now and then:

2. The Rockefeller machine is in high gear operation; however, Nelson Rockefeller has to be re-elected Governor of New York State in 1962. This involves a very complex political situation, because the Democrats in New York City are split over the question of the leadership of Carmine DeSapio, the Tammany boss. Should Mayor Wagner be defeated in 1961, Rockefeller will be safer in 1962. Rockefeller, thus far, represents a New Deal liberalism, alien to the Republican Party. What will happen to his political posture should he face John Kennedy in 1964, it is difficult to say. Rockefeller may find no better excuse for running than that he agrees with Kennedy but is more able—a boast that is always suspect;

3. Senator Barry Goldwater has built an enormous following for himself, not only among Republicans but among no-party conservatives. An element of this following might be called McCarthyite. Goldwater is the first Republican to have cracked the intellectual hard shell of the universities; not even Robert A. Taft succeeded in doing that. This generation of youngsters knew not Roosevelt and are not influenced by the excitement of the 1930s;

4. There is a large element of older Republicans who have ceased to be partisans. They are Republicans because they are such, but they vote or do not vote depending upon whether the candidate is significant. Such Republicans fell away from Nixon because of his television speeches; they dislike Rockefeller because he does not belong; they are not sure that they understand Goldwater. In a word, they are very uncertain as to where to go and many of them join crackpot organizations as a demonstration of principle.

It will take the Republican Party more leadership than it now possesses to amalgamate all these different factions into a strong political party. No Republican program is presently possible. What does Senator Styles Bridges have in common with Senator Jacob Javits? Bridges moves within the margins of Republican tradition; Javits is an individualist who runs all over the map without a compass.

In a word, the Republican Party is now so split and riddled that it requires reorganization not only in ideas but in personnel. The great advantage of Robert A. Taft's leadership was that he managed to keep together those who called themselves Republicans. There is no one like Taft among Republicans today.

Perhaps the most surprising factor in this situation is the complete elimination of former President Eisenhower from even a semblance of leadership. He is not consulted by an appreciable element in the party. He exerts no influence upon any significant following among Republicans. He has served as President for eight years and has left a small mark on the sands of time. Of him, it can be said that he kept us out of war but at what a price! By 1964, Eisenhower is not likely to have the influence in the Republican Party that Herbert Hoover exercises now, nearly 30 years after he was defeated.

The Republicans do not have too much time. They are now depending on President Kennedy's failure in solving the problems of unemployment, of the value of the dollar, and in the conduct of the foreign policy. But what if President Kennedy should not fail? Having no program except another man's failure is like living in a dead man's shoes. A political party needs more than the negative attitude of hoping that the party in power will fail. If the Republicans could build a conservative program for the country, a logical, a philosophic concept of American life, it would have value, but a party without belief, without ideas, without aspirations except to get jobs for the politicians, is not good enough.

And there is so little time left. The United States needs two parties—a single party, long in power, is intolerable, an opposition party exists to oppose by proposing an alternative program. Have the Republicans an alternative program to what is sloganized as the New Frontier? During the last campaign, the Republican Platform was an absurd document which was not even supported by the candidates in their speeches. The party of Lincoln should have been able to do better than that.

Dragon-Killer Or Just Plain Donkey?

More Than 3,000 Soviet-Bloc Technicians Operating In Cuba

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON—To understand why it's necessary to bring the fight for freedom to a quick climax in Cuba, drop in at the Havana Airport. I did so the other day—by accident.

Because of an airline strike, I found myself on an island-hopping KLM plane taking the roundabout way from South America to Miami. The American Consul in Maracaibo at first flatly refused to stamp my passport for transit through Havana, but after considerable soul-searching finally let me go.

The plane carried 30 Russian technicians, also en route to Havana. And the Dutch stewardess told me that KLM had carried about 600 in the last two months. To avoid New York they took the long way around, south to Curacao, then north the island which has become a virtual Soviet base 90 miles off the coast of Florida.

The Russian passengers were crowded together in tourist class. When American officials travel, they go in private plane at the taxpayers' expense, or first class. One British passenger, riding first class, went forward and struck up a conversation.

"I say," he asked a Russian, "why don't you dress better? Why do you fellows always look so frumpish?"

"It is true that we don't dress as well as you," was the reply, "but give us time. We have been concentrating on other things."

At Kingston, Jamaica, a British Immigration Officer stuck his nose in the door to announce: "No passengers from Iron Curtain countries will be allowed to leave the plane."

The rest of us stretched our legs for 30 minutes.

But at Havana, it was different. Here the Iron Curtain passengers were given special treatment. They were ushered into the passport office, the health office, while the first-class, better-dressed British and Americans waited in line.

At the plane were three Cuban musicians, serenading all the passengers—the standard Castro reception for all incoming planes. The traditional free Bacardi cocktail was also available. Over the facade of the airport in large letters, however, was plastered this challenge to arriving Americans: "Free Cuba in America."

And all over the airport was the usual propaganda so familiar in Communist countries. "Work for your country, not for yourselves." Cubans were reminded. "Get back to the land!" Che Guevara, No. 1 Communist of the Cabinet, tried to enlist cane cutters for the sugar fields.

Most ticket counters for U. S. Airlines were closed. Tourist traffic had evaporated. Few passengers were entering Havana, many were leaving. Our Dutch plane was delayed two hours while Castro's customs inspectors searched the baggage of outgoing Cubans to make sure they took with them none of the articles made scarce by the American embargo—soap, needles, or dollars.

Security in the Havana Airport was nil. Any American in transit could have wandered out of the airport to downtown Havana, with no questions asked.

A Communist Base

From that brief visit to Havana, I got a feeling of pleasant, philosophical frustration. From other reliable sources which have been able to penetrate into the heart of Cuba, I learned the following:

More than 3,000 Russian, Czech and Chinese advisers are in Cuba. They operate the oil refineries, advise on sweeping new formulas for Cuban education, give intensive training to the Cuban military. The Cuban Army has the most modern arms which the huge Skoda factory in Czechoslovakia can turn out, many of them more up-to-date than those of the U. S. Army. Some 30,000 tons of Czech and Russian arms lie uncrated in Havana Harbor.

About 300 Cuban pilots are also in Czechoslovakia being trained to fly MIG fighters. When they return they will be able to knock any Cuban refugee bombers that venture over Havana out of the sky.

Soviet-bloc cooperation with Cuba has been stepped up to a point where the island is rapidly becoming a bristling Communist military base—which is the reason for the recent decision of anti-Castro rebels to strike now before it's too late.

Havana-Go-Round

Fidel Castro now sleeps in his office, his bodyguard doubled. He is deathly afraid of assassination . . . His fears may not be unfounded . . . Castro takes more popularity polls of the Cuban people than Dr. Gallup does of an American election. He is constantly reading and worrying over the polls. His popularity has slipped from about 90 per cent when he first took office to about 30 per cent now . . . Castro will be a tough man to defeat in guerrilla warfare. He understands it. For instance, his troops occupy the high ground, not the valleys and the towns, as did Batista's troops. It's easy to raid down into the valleys, then escape to the hills. Castro's militia occupy the hills . . . Castro is also cutting off all water supply. His militia are cracking down on villages, rivers, streams—wherever rebels can get water . . . Most ruthless but effective retaliation is to hang farmers who give water or food to rebels.

Khrushchev Views On Disarmament Revealed

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON—Nikita Khrushchev is adamant, defiant and inflexible. He has no present intention of making an agreement on disarmament or nuclear testing. He is convinced that the United States has no leverage over him and, therefore, cannot make him change the rigid policies that now threaten the peace of the world.

These impressions are derived from a reading of the positive views of the Soviet Premier, as revealed in an interview obtained in Russia by Walter Lippmann and published this week.

Mr. Khrushchev is apparently relieved that what is called the "Dulles Doctrine" — that the neutrality of small states is allegedly "immoral" — has been abandoned by the United States. But further on the Soviet Premier declares rather inconsistently that he doesn't think there is really such a thing as "neutrality" of individuals. This must mean, of course, also the persons who head governments. He is, indeed, reported as saying that he would never accept a neutral to administer the proposed disarmament agreement, for he wouldn't entrust the security of the Soviet Union to any foreigner. Mr. Lippman concludes that in Mr. Khrushchev's view "there can be international cooperation only if, in the administration as well as in the policymaking, the Soviet Union has a veto."

Perhaps the most interesting piece of information that the Soviet Premier conveyed was in relation to nuclear weapons. He insisted that Russia had never done any underground testing and never will. This is incredible. The reason he gives is that such tests were designed to perfect small tactical weapons. He says the Russians haven't wanted to produce them because they are expensive and are not decisive.

Just why expense should bother Mr. Khrushchev is a mystery, for at will can he deprive the Soviet people of the benefits of a higher standard of living by concentrating the use of their hard-earned funds on anything from a Sputnik to a unclear device. He doesn't hesitate to spend the money of the people of the Soviet Union on a "very new and gadgety swimming pool" which Mr. Lippman mentioned as one of the sights he saw at the Khrushchev headquarters on the shore of the Black Sea.

The Soviet Premier lost no opportunity during this interview to get across to those who will be reading it his hostility to the American effort to work out a disarmament agreement. As usual he becomes personal and attacks John J. McCloy, the man chosen by President Kennedy to head up the disarmament planning for the United States. Mr. Khrushchev claims that Mr. McCloy is primarily a believer in armaments, but the unpalatable truth which faces the Soviet Premier is that the new head of the American Disarmament Group just doesn't want to see an agreement signed which would give the Russians any opportunty to cheat.

Yet Mr. Khruschev speaks of the selection of Mr. McCloy as "a case of asking the goat to look after the cabbage patch." American generals and admirals whose speeches are promptly censored if they say anything unfavorable about Mr. Khrushchev must have smiled as they read this wanton disregard of the "amenities" by the Russian Dictator himself.

The Soviet Premier as usual throws out hints and accusations which he knows are groundless, but he never fails to put these suspicions in to conversations he has with American writers or members of Congress. To say, as Mr. Khrushchev did, that "the forces behind the Kennedy Administration" can be summed up "in the one word 'Rockefeller,'" is to imply that the President is under some powerful influence exerted by the New York Governor. The American people and all the European observers who have been here know this isn't so, but it suits Mr. Khrushchev to say it largely because he has to find some way to insinuate that Mr. Kennedy is not a free agent and will not be making his own decisions.

Everyone who knows Mr. Kennedy — including the Russian Ambassador here — can tell Mr. Khrushchev that the President has an independent mind. But, if by all this twaddle, the Soviet Premier hopes to downgrade the American President or to regard him as a weakling who will kowtow the Russian Dictator, he has the surprise of his life in store for him.

For the net effect of such an attitude as Mr. Khruchchev displays toward current questions is to increase distrust of the Kremlin and to stimulate efforts here to strengthen the American Military position so that; if the Dictator in his bluff tactics goes to the brink of war, the United States will not be found yielding but without flinching will accept the challenge.

Inside Washington

By Henry Cathcart

REACTION — Publicly, some conservative Republicans and some Democrats, too, have mildly dismissed the John Birch Society as a "patriotic" organization with a right to express its views, regardless of how extreme they may be.

Privately, however, some of the harshest words used against it come from the conservative ranks. Their concern has little to do with the ideals or courses of action espoused by the organization. Rather, they sharply condemn the brand that is being placed on the conservative movement by the society's extremism.

In the McCarthy era, it was unpopular in some quarters to admit to liberalism because many equated this with Communism. Now, some conservatives fear that it will become unpopular to admit to conservatism because it will be equated with the John Birch Society.

In other words, many conservatives in Congress and elsewhere believe that it is possible to stand for such things as individual rights, fiscal soundness, and local political control, without resorting to the wild-eyed extremism that condemns the patriotism of all who oppose these principles.

These non-extreme conservatives also bemoan the political effect on their movement of the drift toward extremism. They point out that it tends to split the normal Republican vote and, as important, drains off financial support that could be used effectively in a political campaign. If a person contributes to the John Birch Society, they contend, he will contribute less, or nothing, to the regular Republican organization.

Their clinching argument against the society, therefore, is that its growth actually contributes to the political strengthening of the Democratic Party and hurts the very conservatism they are pledged to support.

The Double Standard

By Joseph Alsop

SAIGON

Like it or not, the future of Southeast Asia almost certainly depends upon beleaguered South Vietnam. This country is now under heavy Communist attack. The danger here will be vastly greater if Laos is permitted to fall under effective Communist control. Maybe this is a poor time to be asking general questions.

Yet what is happening here insistently poses a rather urgent question. Why are pro-Western governments of this character so prone to trouble? Or, more specifically, why is the South Vietnam's President Ngo Dinh Diem in the gravest difficulties, after bringing to his people a solid increase of prosperity and well-being, while the North Vietnamese Communist regime has been able to take the offensive in the boldest manner, although its people live in the conditions of a bleak prisoner-of-war camp?

The fashionable Western answer is that "We always back the wrong guys." In other words, if this answer is correct, President Diem is in trouble because he has failed to inaugurate an ideal parliamentary democracy; because his chief advisor is his brother, Ngo Dinh Niu, which leads to charges of nepotism; and because, in sum, he is remarkably unlike Adlai Stevenson.

But this fashionable answer merely reveals the ludicrous double standard that now falsifies most Western judgments of these problems. For why should Diem be called upon to pass the kind of test which Ho Chi Minh so obviously does not pass?

It is perfect twaddle, in any case, to talk about parliamentary democracy in a peasant country with the thinnest possible crust of educated men at the top, who must, of necessity, manage all the country's affairs. The French, who carefully forbade almost all advanced education except for pharmacists and physicians, did not exactly prepare South Vietnam for immediate parliamentary democracy.

That does not mean that President Diem has made no mistakes. Undoubtedly, he has made many. Probably his biggest single mistake was to leave in place so much of the machinery of public security and provincial and village administration which the French left behind them.

This was a hard mistake to avoid. Some sort of machinery was needed to manage the country. Non-Communists who had resisted the French, like President Diem himself, were very few and far between. The human materials for a reformed administrative machine were thus extremely scarce. But a more radical change ought to have been attempted, if only to avoid a seeming continuation of the detested French administration.

This mistake of President Diem's, one must add, is far more understandable than some of the follies that were committed by the Americans here, such as the creation of a cumbersome, strictly conventional army in a country mainly threatened by guerrilla attack. One must add further that President Diem has been laboring manfully to correct his own past errors. The impressive effort that the ex-Communist province chief, Lt. Col. Thao, is making in Kien Hoa is a new departure personally sponsored by President Diem and his brother, Ngo Dinh Niu. It reflects their views about the right way to meet the guerrilla attack. If they can find many other men to make the same sort of effort in many other provinces, the Communist underground assault on South Vietnam may be repelled in the end.

But this business of dolefully denouncing President Diem for being undemocratic, while utterly forgetting Ho Chi Minh's dark, iron dictatorship, is only the first part of the accepted double standard. The second and even more important part of the double standard is to be found in the rules of the game that are applied to Diem and to Ho Chi Minh.

Ho Chi Minh's people live in a state of regimented wretchedness. To be sure, they are not being put through the same meat grinder as the miserable Chinese masses. The time for that will come if and when Ho gets South Vietnam in his grip. But all the evidence still suggests that the North Vietnamese masses are just as bitter, disillusioned, and hostile to their Communist regime as are the masses, say, in Poland.

North Vietnam, in other words, is a ripe target for precisely the kind of underground assault now being made on South Vietnam — if anyone had the guts to take the risk of sponsoring and supporting this kind of assault.

Instead, the Western leaders have come to accept the fact that these two governments — and many other governments which offer the same contrast — must play the game under quite different sets of rules. Provided organized North Vietnamese divisions do not cross the officially demarcated frontier, Ho Chi Minh is at liberty to take any other measures he pleases against Ngo Dinh Diem, including sending men, arms, propaganda materials, money, and every other necessity of a subversive movement into South Vietnam. He can do all this, furthermore, without fear of reprisal.

But Diem can do none of these things. He is required, by the peculiar but accepted rules of the game, to stand meekly on the defensive. He is expected to meet and contain a guerrilla attack quite openly commanded and sustained from North Vietnam without attempting the smallest counterpunch on North Vietnamese territory. Perhaps he will win on the defensive. One must pray that he will, for if he fails, a chain reaction of disasters will ensue in this part of the world, which will in turn produce chain reactions elsewhere.

Yet it is very clear indeed that even if Diem wins this round here in South Vietnam, continued acceptance of the double standard will eventually be fatal to the West. You cannot permit an enemy unlimited freedom to hit you wherever he pleases, while never hitting back yourself, without suffering mortal damage in the end. That is the ugly thought that must fill the mind of any reasonably thoughtful person who is saying farewell to this unhappy country at this time.

Watch For Allergic Tendency In Children

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Several months ago I talked with a middle-aged asthmatic who was in distress. Between gasping and wheezing, he told me he was allergic to almost everything and was bothered constantly by wheezing, difficult breathing, and coughing. His apartment contained at least four causes of asthma, including a dog.

This man had been an asthmatic since childhood. His parents didn't believe in physicians, let alone allergies. There is a good possibility that, with proper treatment as a boy, his minor symptoms never would have progressed to the deeply entrenched and complex condition that now plagues him.

The allergic tendency is hereditary and all parents should be on the lookout for early manifestations and do something about it. There is no doubt that the youngster is allergic when he develops asthma, eczema, seasonal hay fever, or recurring attacks of bronchitis with wheezing.

Colic in infancy, croup, and recurring respiratory infections, including bronchitis and nasal colds, may or may not be due to allergy, but the suspicion is there. The same can be said of multiple attacks of sneezing, drug reactions, and hives.

Disorders such as migraine, cangker sores, recurring nosebleeds, and a tendency to clear the throat constantly may stem from allergy, but this is one of the more remote causes.

When asthma develops from time to time in childhood, it is advisable to have skin and other tests. Desensitization to the proved culprits or remaining away from them will prevent the minor allergies of today from becoming the major allergies of tomorrow.

TOMORROW: Unreasoning fears.

AFTER A CORONARY

Mrs. K. S. writes: How long will it take a woman who has just recovered from a heart attack to get back on her feet?

REPLY

Most victims of heart attacks (coronary thrombosis) spend six weeks in bed and a chair and another six weeks recuperating. At the end of three months, the majority return to their previous occupation and continue at the job so long as it does not lead to chest pain or shortness of breath.

HYSTERIA IS OUTDATED

R. M. writes: Do men as well as women get hysterical spells?

REPLY

Yes, but hysteria is not as common today as it was generations ago. The Greek word for uterus is hysteria and the ancients believed that pelvic congestion caused this symptom. We now know hysteria is a reaction to a stress situation among neurotics—male or female.

ANTIBIOTIC SIDE EFFECTS

L. B. writes: Why do you say that antibiotics are too risky for long time usage in acne?

REPLY

Because these drugs have side effects that might do more harm than the skin disorder. In addition, the causative micro-organizations may become resistant to the antibiotic, leaving no remedy in case they invade the lungs, brain, or other vital organs.

WINE HAS NO FAT

M. F. R. writes: Is wine bad for high cholesterol?

REPLY

It is reported that large amounts of whisky raise the cholesterol level. But I have seen nothing along this line on wine.

STONES AND CANCER

E. A. writes: Is cancer of the gall bladder due to gallstones?

REPLY

This is a moot question but it might be so, because stones usually are present when cancer of the gall bladder develops.

FACIAL PARALYSIS

F. B. L. writes: Will massage and heat help get the face back into shape after an attack of Bell's palsy?

REPLY

Yes. Some physicians also recommend electrical stimulation of the facial muscles to improve their tone.

BEEF AND PRESSURE

D. B. writes: Will eating beef every day in the week cause high blood pressure?

REPLY

No. There is more to hypertension than the food we eat. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet on high blood pressure.

To the limit of space questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

For the benefit of those who want to know more about our fiftieth state, Hawaii, the familiar "aloha" means both "Hello" and "Goodbye." "Wau ea oe," means "I love you."

Hula maids haven't worn genuine grass skirts for ages. In Hawaii the costumes are made from the leaves of the Ti plant. They last only a week at best. In America they're made of synthetic grass, grown in the wilds of Sears Roebuck.

Quizzing a prospective son-in-law, a retired Scotsman demanded, "Are you quite sure you can support a family? Think carefully, young man. There are seven of us."

Overheard at an upstate resort: "Don't let her fool you. Her son the doctor is only a dentist."

Rerun On Asian Trouble Spots

President Kennedy's scheduled address today to a Washington meeting of the American Society of Newspaper Editors recalls an appearance of former Vice President Richard M. Nixon before the same group seven years ago when, as today, a crisis loomed in Southeast Asia. During a question-and-answer session, April 16, 1954, Nixon told the editors that the United States would have to send troops into Indo-China if there were no other way to prevent its fall to the Communists.

Nixon's remarks were supposed to be off-the-record and at first were attributed by the press to an anonymous "high administration spokesman." But the secret soon was out, and there was so much hostile reaction in Congress that Secretary of State John Foster Dulles three days later assured the nation that he thought it "unlikely" that American boys would be sent into combat in Indo-China.

A conference on Indo-China opened in Geneva on April 26, and the British government the following day announced it would give the United States no assurance of military aid against the Indo-Chinese Reds pending the "results of Geneva." The French stronghold at Dien Bien Phu fell to the Communists on May 7, after a siege of 55 days, and on June 8 Dulles declared that the United States would not intervene alone in Indo-China. Cease-fire agreements were signed at Geneva, July 21, followed by the partition of Viet Nam and the "neutralization" of Laos and Cambodia.

Like an old television movie, the drama in Southeast Asia is being re-run in 1961. President Kennedy has been circumspect in his public pronouncements on the crisis there, and the newspaper editors probably will have to be satisfied with a less dramatic statement on Southeast Asia than they received from Nixon in 1954. The issue is much the same today as then—only the American leaders who must make the hard decisions have changed.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

The Republican Party

At this moment, the Republican Party is split into four factions:

1. There are those who still believe that Richard Nixon can make a come-back in 1964, provided he makes a lot of speeches between now and then:

2. The Rockefeller machine is in high gear operation; however, Nelson Rockefeller has to be re-elected Governor of New York State in 1962. This involves a very complex political situation, because the Democrats in New York City are split over the question of the leadership of Carmine DeSapio, the Tammany boss. Should Mayor Wagner be defeated in 1961, Rockefeller will be safer in 1962. Rockefeller, thus far, represents a New Deal liberalism, alien to the Republican Party. What will happen to his political posture should he face John Kennedy in 1964, it is difficult to say. Rockefeller may find no better excuse for running than that he agrees with Kennedy but is more able—a boast that is always suspect:

3. Senator Barry Goldwater has built an enormous following for himself, not only among Republicans but among no-party conservatives. An element of this following might be called McCarthyite. Goldwater is the first Republican to have cracked the intellectual hard shell of the universities; not even Robert A. Taft succeeded in doing that. This generation of youngsters knew not Roosevelt and are not influenced by the excitement of the 1930s;

4. There is a large element of older Republicans who have ceased to be partisans. They are Republicans because they are such, but they vote or do not vote depending upon whether the candidate is significant. Such Republicans fell away from Nixon because of his television speeches; they dislike Rockefeller because he does not belong; they are not sure that they understand Goldwater. In a word, they are very uncertain as to where to go and many of them join crackpot organizations as a demonstration of principle.

It will take the Republican Party more leadership than it now possesses to amalgamate all these different factions into a strong political party. No Republican program is presently possible. What does Senator Styles Bridges have in common with Senator Jacob Javits? Bridges moves within the margins of Republican tradition: Javits is an individualist who runs all over the map without a compass.

In a word, the Republican Party is now so split and riddled that it requires reorganization not only in ideas but in personnel. The great advantage of Robert A. Taft's leadership was that he managed to keep together those who called themselves Republicans. There is no one like Taft among Republicans today.

Perhaps the most surprising factor in this situation is the complete elimination of former President Eisenhower from even a semblance of leadership. He is not consulted by an appreciable element in the party. He exerts no influence upon any significant following among Republicans. He has served as President for eight years and has left a small mark on the sands of time. Of him, it can be said that he kept us out of war but at what a price! By 1964, Eisenhower is not likely to have the influence in the Republican Party that Herbert Hoover exercises now, nearly 30 years after he was defeated.

The Republicans do not have too much time. They are now depending on President Kennedy's failure in solving the problems of unemployment, of the value of the dollar, and in the conduct of the foreign policy. But what if President Kennedy should not fail? Having no program except another man's failure is like living in a dead man's shoes. A political party needs more than the negative attitude of hoping that the party in power will fail. If the Republicans could build a conservative program for the country, a logical, a philosophic concept of American life, it would have value, but a party without belief, without ideas, without aspirations except to get jobs for the politicians, is not good enough.

And there is so little time left. The United States needs two parties—a single party, long in power, is intolerable, an opposition party exists to oppose by proposing an alternative program. Have the Republicans an alternative program to what is sloganized as the New Frontier? During the last campaign, the Republican Platform was an absurd document which was not even supported by the candidates in their speeches. The party of Lincoln should have been able to do better than that.

Dragon-Killer Or Just Plain Donkey?

More Than 3,000 Soviet-Bloc Technicians Operating In Cuba

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON—To understand why it's necessary to bring the fight for freedom to a quick climax in Cuba, drop in at the Havana Airport. I did so the other day—by accident.

Because of an airline strike, I found myself on an island-hopping KLM plane taking the roundabout way from South America to Miami. The American Consul in Maracaibo at first flatly refused to stamp my passport for transit through Havana, but after considerable soul-searching finally let me go.

The plane carried 30 Russian technicians, also en route to Havana. And the Dutch stewardess told me that KLM had carried about 600 in the last two months. To avoid New York they took the long way around, south to Curacao, then north the island which has become a virtual Soviet base 90 miles off the coast of Florida.

The Russian passengers were crowded together in tourist class. When American officials travel, they go in private plane at the taxpayers' expense, or first class. One British passenger, riding first class, went forward and struck up a conversation.

"I say," he asked a Russian, "why don't you dress better? Why do you fellows always look so frumpish?"

"It is true that we don't dress as well as you," was the reply, "but give us time. We have been concentrating on other things."

At Kingston, Jamaica, a British Immigration Officer stuck his nose in the door to announce: "No passengers from Iron Curtain countries will be allowed to leave the plane."

The rest of us stretched our legs for 30 minutes.

But at Havana, it was different. Here the Iron Curtain passengers were given special treatment. They were ushered into the passport office, the health office, while the first-class, better-dressed British and Americans waited in line.

At the plane were three Cuban musicians, serenading all the passengers—the standard Castro reception for all incoming planes. The traditional free Bacardi cocktail was also available. Over the facade of the airport in large letters, however, was plastered this challenge to arriving Americans: "Free Cuba in America."

And all over the airport was the usual propaganda so familiar in Communist countries. "Work for your country, not for yourselves." Cubans were reminded. "Get back to the land!" Che Guevara, No. 1 Communist of the Cabinet, tried to enlist cane cutters for the sugar fields.

Most ticket counters for U. S. Airlines were closed. Tourist traffic had evaporated. Few passengers were entering Havana, many were leaving. Our Dutch plane was delayed two hours while Castro's customs inspectors searched the baggage of outgoing Cubans to make sure they took with them none of the articles made scarce by the American embargo—soap, needles, or dollars.

Security in the Havana Airport was nil. Any American in transit could have wandered out of the airport to downtown Havana, with no questions asked.

A Communist Base

From that brief visit to Havana, I got a feeling of pleasant, philosophical frustration. From other reliable sources which have been able to penetrate into the heart of Cuba, I learned the following:

More than 3,000 Russian, Czech and Chinese advisers are in Cuba. They operate the oil refineries, advise on sweeping new formulas for Cuban education, give intensive training to the Cuban military. The Cuban Army has the most modern arms which the huge Skoda factory in Czechoslovakia can turn out, many of them more up-to-date than those of the U. S. Army. Some 30,000 tons of Czech and Russian arms lie uncrated in Havana Harbor.

About 300 Cuban pilots are also in Czechoslovakia being trained to fly MIG fighters. When they return they will be able to knock any Cuban refugee bombers that venture over Havana out of the sky.

Soviet-bloc cooperation with Cuba has been stepped up to a point where the island is rapidly becoming a bristling Communist military base—which is the reason for the recent decision of anti-Castro rebels to strike now before it's too late.

Havana-Go-Round

Fidel Castro now sleeps in his office, his bodyguard doubled. He is deathly afraid of assassination . . . His fears may not be unfounded . . . Castro takes more popularity polls of the Cuban people than Dr. Gallup does of an American election. He is constantly reading and worrying over the polls. His popularity has slipped from about 90 per cent when he first took office to about 30 per cent now . . . Castro will be a tough man to defeat in guerrilla warfare. He understands it. For instance, his troops occupy the high ground, not the valleys and the towns, as did Batista's troops. It's easy to raid down into the valleys, then escape to the hills. Castro's militia occupy the hills . . . Castro is also cutting off all water supply. His militia are cracking down on villages, rivers, streams—wherever rebels can get water . . . Most ruthless but effective retaliation is to hang farmers who give water or food to rebels.

Khrushchev Views On Disarmament Revealed

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON—Nikita Khrushchev is adamant, defiant and inflexible. He has no present intention of making an agreement on disarmament or nuclear testing. He is convinced that the United States has no leverage over him and, therefore, cannot make him change the rigid policies that now threaten the peace of the world.

These impressions are derived from a reading of the positive views of the Soviet Premier, as revealed in an interview obtained in Russia by Walter Lippmann and published this week.

Mr. Khrushchev is apparently relieved that what is called the "Dulles Doctrine" — that the neutrality of small states is allegedly "immoral" — has been abandoned by the United States. But further on the Soviet Premier declares rather inconsistently that he doesn't think there is really such a thing as "neutrality" of individuals. This was a hard mistake to avoid. Some sort of machinery was needed to manage the country. Non-Communists who had resisted the French, like President Diem himself, were very few and far between. The human materials for a reformed administrative machine were thus extremely scarce. But a more radical change ought to have been attempted, if only to avoid a seeming continuation of the detested French administration.

This mistake of President Diem's, one must add, is far more understandable than some of the follies that were committed by the Americans here, such as the creation of a cumbersome, strictly conventional army in a country mainly threatened by guerrilla attack. One must add further that President Diem has been laboring manfully to correct his own past errors. The impressive effort that the ex-Communist province chief, Lt. Col. Thao, is making in Kien Hoa is a new departure personally sponsored by President Diem and his brother, Ngo Dinh Niu. It reflects their views about the right way to meet the guerrilla attack. If they can find many other men to make the same sort of effort in many other provinces, the Communist underground assault on South Vietnam may be repelled in the end.

But this business of dolefully denouncing President Diem for being undemocratic, while utterly forgetting Ho Chi Minh's dark, iron dictatorship, is only the first part of the accepted double standard. The second and even more important part of the double standard is to be found in the rules of the game that are applied to Diem and to Ho Chi Minh.

Ho Chi Minh's people live in a state of regimented wretchedness. To be sure, they are not being put through the same meat grinder as the miserable Chinese masses. The time for that will come if and when Ho gets South Vietnam in his grip. But all the evidence still suggests that the North Vietnamese masses are just as bitter, disillusioned, and hostile to their Communist regime as are the masses, say, in Poland.

North Vietnam, in other words, is a ripe target for precisely the kind of underground assault now being made on South Vietnam — if anyone had the guts to take the risk of sponsoring and supporting this kind of assault.

Instead, the Western leaders have come to accept the fact that these two governments — and many other governments which offer the same contrast — must play the game under quite different sets of rules. Provided organized North Vietnamese divisions do not cross the officially demarcated frontier, Ho Chi Minh is at liberty to take any other measures he pleases against Ngo Dinh Diem, including sending men, arms, propaganda materials, money, and every other necessity of a subversive movement into South Vietnam. He can do all this, furthermore, without fear of reprisal.

But Diem can do none of these things. He is required, by the peculiar but accepted rules of the game, to stand meekly on the defensive. He is expected to meet and contain a guerrilla attack quite openly commanded and sustained from North Vietnam without attempting the smallest counterpunch on North Vietnamese territory. Perhaps he will win on the defensive. One must pray that he will, for if he fails, a chain reaction of disasters will ensue in this part of the world, which will in turn produce chain reactions elsewhere.

Yet it is very clear indeed that even if Diem wins this round here in South Vietnam, continued acceptance of the double standard will eventually be fatal to the West. You cannot permit an enemy unlimited freedom to hit you wherever he pleases, while never hitting back yourself, without suffering mortal damage in the end. That is the ugly thought that must fill the mind of any reasonably thoughtful person who is saying farewell to this unhappy country at this time.

Watch For Allergic Tendency In Children

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Several months ago I talked with a middle-aged asthmatic who was in distress. Between gasping and wheezing, he told me he was allergic to almost everything and was bothered constantly by wheezing, difficult breathing, and coughing. His apartment contained at least four causes of asthma, including a dog.

This man had been an asthmatic since childhood. His parents didn't believe in physicians, let alone allergies. There is a good possibility that, with proper treatment as a boy, his minor symptoms never would have progressed to the deeply entrenched and complex condition that now plagues him.

The allergic tendency is hereditary and all parents should be on the lookout for early manifestations and do something about it. There is no doubt that the youngster is allergic when he develops asthma, eczema, seasonal hay fever, or recurring attacks of bronchitis with wheezing.

Colic in infancy, croup, and recurring respiratory infections, including bronchitis and nasal colds, may or may not be due to allergy, but the suspicion is there. The same can be said of multiple attacks of sneezing, drug reactions, and hives.

Disorders such as migraine, cangker sores, recurring nosebleeds, and a tendency to clear the throat constantly may stem from allergy, but this is one of the more remote causes.

When asthma develops from time to time in childhood, it is advisable to have skin and other tests. Desensitization to the proved culprits or remaining away from them will prevent the minor allergies of today from becoming the major allergies of tomorrow.

TOMORROW: Unreasoning fears.

AFTER A CORONARY

Mrs. K. S. writes: How long will it take a woman who has just recovered from a heart attack to get back on her feet?

REPLY

Most victims of heart attacks (coronary thrombosis) spend six weeks in bed and a chair and another six weeks recuperating. At the end of three months, the majority return to their previous occupation and continue at the job so long as it does not lead to chest pain or shortness of breath.

HYSTERIA IS OUTDATED

R. M. writes: Do men as well as women get hysterical spells?

REPLY

Yes, but hysteria is not as common today as it was generations ago. The Greek word for uterus is hysteria and the ancients believed that pelvic congestion caused this symptom. We now know hysteria is a reaction to a stress situation among neurotics—male or female.

ANTIBIOTIC SIDE EFFECTS

L. B. writes: Why do you say that antibiotics are too risky for long time sage in acne?

REPLY

Because these drugs have side effects that might do more harm than the skin disorder. In addition, the causative micro-organizations may become resistant to the antibiotic, leaving no remedy in case they invade the lungs, brain, or other vital organs.

WINE HAS NO FAT

M. F. R. writes: Is wine bad for high cholesterol?

REPLY

It is reported that large amounts of whisky raise the cholesterol level. But I have seen nothing along this line on wine.

STONES AND CANCER

E. A. writes: Is cancer of the gall bladder due to gallstones?

REPLY

This is a moot question but it might be so, because stones usually are present when cancer of the gall bladder develops.

FACIAL PARALYSIS

F. B. L. writes: Will massage and heat help get the face back into shape after an attack of Bell's palsy?

REPLY

Yes. Some physicians also recommend electrical stimulation of the facial muscles to improve their tone.

BEEF AND PRESSURE

D. B. writes: Will eating beef every day in the week cause high blood pressure?

REPLY

No. There is more to hypertension than the food we eat. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet on high blood pressure.

To the limit of space questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf

For the benefit of those who want to know more about our fiftieth state, Hawaii, the familiar "aloha" means both "Hello" and "Goodbye." "Wau ea oe," means "I love you."

Hula maids haven't worn genuine grass skirts for ages. In Hawaii the costumes are made from the leaves of the Ti plant. They last only a week at best. In America they're made of synthetic grass, grown in the wilds of Sears Roebuck.

Quizzing a prospective son-in-law, a retired Scotsman demanded, "Are you quite sure you can support a family? Think carefully, young man. There are seven of us."

Overheard at an upstate resort: "Don't let her fool you. Her son the doctor is only a dentist."

Churches Asked To Observe Cancer Sunday

Churches of Allegany County are being urged to observe "Cancer Sunday" and ask their parishioners to support the cause.

Sunday, hundreds of volunteers throughout Allegany County will begin a house-to-house canvass at 1 p. m. in the annual Cancer Crusade for funds. The canvass is scheduled to end at 4 p. m.

The appeal for churches to participate in support of the drive either by notice in bulletins or from the pulpit during Sunday morning's services, went out from Rev. Jacob Snyder, pastor of Kingsley Methodist Church and president of the Cumberland Ministerial Association, and Rev. Robert F. Hopkins, pastor of St. Mary's Catholic Church.

The canvass is the only personal contact being made by Allegany County Chapter of the American Cancer Society. However, letters are being sent to industry, business, organizations and clubs urging their support.

Final details for the canvass are being worked out by Mrs. Marion Poling, house-to-house canvass chairman, section captains and workers. Organizations have been set up to cover all towns in the county and Mrs. Poling expressed her appreciation to those who are giving the time and effort to the cause.

Herman L. Myers, general chairman, said it is hoped to exceed last year's total of $11,341 but added no goal is set for the drive.

Kits and materials are being distributed to workers.

THOMAS M. JENKINS

Underwriters To Hear Talk

Thomas M. Jenkins, of Chevy Chase, will speak at a luncheon of the Cumberland Life Underwriters at noon Friday in Central YMCA.

Jenkin's career in life insurance began in 1933 with Peoples Life as an agent in Waldorf. He was promoted to assistant manager of the district in November 1936, and served in that capacity until October 1948, when he was promoted to district manager.

In January 1949, he was transferred to the Baltimore district as manager. In October 1953, he was again promoted, this time to the home office as division superintendent of agents, Eastern Division. Then in July 1954, he was assigned to the position of division superintendent of agents, Western Division. On March 17, 1960, he was elected assistant vice president, agency.

Jenkins is a native of Indian Head, and was educated in the public schools of Charles County. He is a graduate of the 107th Life Insurance Agency Management School of Hartford, Connecticut, and has completed the diamond life bulletin training course in life insurance. He is an associate member of the District of Columbia Association of Life Underwriters and a charter member and past president of International Lions Club, Indian Head.

The diatom, a tiny one-celled plant, has a shell of silica — the main ingredient of sand and glass, the National Geographic Magazine says. The shell consists of transparent halves, one fitting inside the other just as the bottom of a pillbox fits inside the top.

Financial Success

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy's inaugural was the greatest financial success in the history of such affairs despite a snowstorm, the inaugural committee said Wednesday.

Chairman Edward H. Foley said checks totaling $1,236,352 were being mailed to the more than 540 persons who underwrote the inaugural. The checks will return the money they donated to make sure the committee could pay its debt.

Abandons Plan

NEW YORK (UPI)—Felmont Petroleum Corp. announced it has abandoned its partial liquidation plan because of tax difficulties, and will offer stockholders of record April 20, 1961, $6.75 per share for 45 per cent of their stock.

Thompson Vacations

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP)—U. S. Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson arrived here Tuesday by plane from his post in Moscow for a week's vacation in West Germany.

Police Investigate Breaking, Entering

The Maryland State Police yesterday were investigating three breaking and enterings which were reported Monday.

Two of the entries involved LaVale business establishments, while the third was at a home in Ellerslie.

Sgt. William F. Baker and Cpl. Charles DeWitt are handling the entry at the home of Earl Harrison in Ellerslie.

The residence was entered sometime Monday night and authorities reported a small amount of money and household items stolen. Entrance was gained by forcing a basement window.

Use Computer System

CHICAGO (UPI)—The first solid state computer system to be made available to businesses of all sizes through an independent service bureau was put into operation by Statistical Tabulating Corp. The system will be used for the production of an itemized tax statement for the 234,000 taxpayers in Dupage County.

Cub Scout Pack 16 Announces Contest Winners

Winners in six contests held in an air show at Cumberland Municipal Airport by Cub Scout Pack 16 were announced today.

The pack is sponsored by the Johnson Heights School Parent-Teacher Association.

For best kite flying among eight-year-olds, the winners were Tony Weber, Richard Dawson and Richard Hensell, and nine-year-olds, Ronald Golden, George Thomas and Patrick Bailey.

The best parachute descents were made by Dale Smith, Patrick Bailey and Tony Weber, while boomerang throw winners were Kenneth Dawson, David Smith and Richard Dawson.

PTA Elects New Officers

Mrs. Phyllis MacVeigh has been elected president of the Parent-Teacher Association of SS. Peter and Paul Parochial School.

Mrs. MacVeigh succeeds P. Raymond Shaffer.

Other new officers are Edward Skurznyski, vice president; Robert Stakem, treasurer; Mrs. Betty Lovenstein, recording secretary, and Mrs. Eleanor Snyder, financial secretary.

Churches Asked To Observe Cancer Sunday

Churches of Allegany County are being urged to observe "Cancer Sunday" and ask their parishioners to support the cause.

Sunday, hundreds of volunteers throughout Allegany County will begin a house-to-house canvass at 1 p. m. in the annual Cancer Crusade for funds. The canvass is scheduled to end at 4 p. m.

The appeal for churches to participate in support of the drive either by notice in bulletins or from the pulpit during Sunday morning's services, went out from Rev. Jacob Snyder, pastor of Kingsley Methodist Church and president of the Cumberland Ministerial Association, and Rev. Robert F. Hopkins, pastor of St. Mary's Catholic Church.

The canvass is the only personal contact being made by Allegany County Chapter of the American Cancer Society. However, letters are being sent to industry, business, organizations and clubs urging their support.

Final details for the canvass are being worked out by Mrs. Marion Poling, house-to-house canvass chairman, section captains and workers. Organizations have been set up to cover all towns in the county and Mrs. Poling expressed her appreciation to those who are giving the time and effort to the cause.

Herman L. Myers, general chairman, said it is hoped to exceed last year's total of $11,341 but added no goal is set for the drive.

Kits and materials are being distributed to workers.

THOMAS M. JENKINS

Underwriters To Hear Talk

Thomas M. Jenkins, of Chevy Chase, will speak at a luncheon of the Cumberland Life Underwriters at noon Friday in Central YMCA.

Jenkin's career in life insurance began in 1933 with Peoples Life as an agent in Waldorf. He was promoted to assistant manager of the district in November 1936, and served in that capacity until October 1948, when he was promoted to district manager.

In January 1949, he was transferred to the Baltimore district as manager. In October 1953, he was again promoted, this time to the home office as division superintendent of agents, Eastern Division. Then in July 1954, he was assigned to the position of division superintendent of agents, Western Division. On March 17, 1960, he was elected assistant vice president, agency.

Jenkins is a native of Indian Head, and was educated in the public schools of Charles County. He is a graduate of the 107th Life Insurance Agency Management School of Hartford, Connecticut, and has completed the diamond life bulletin training course in life insurance. He is an associate member of the District of Columbia Association of Life Underwriters and a charter member and past president of International Lions Club, Indian Head.

The diatom, a tiny one-celled plant, has a shell of silica — the main ingredient of sand and glass, the National Geographic Magazine says. The shell consists of transparent halves, one fitting inside the other just as the bottom of a pillbox fits inside the top.

Financial Success

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy's inaugural was the greatest financial success in the history of such affairs despite a snowstorm, the inaugural committee said Wednesday.

Chairman Edward H. Foley said checks totaling $1,236,352 were being mailed to the more than 540 persons who underwrote the inaugural. The checks will return the money they donated to make sure the committee could pay its debt.

Abandons Plan

NEW YORK (UPI)—Felmont Petroleum Corp. announced it has abandoned its partial liquidation plan because of tax difficulties, and will offer stockholders of record April 20, 1961, $6.75 per share for 45 per cent of their stock.

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP) —U. S. Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson arrived here Tuesday by plane from his post in Moscow for a week's vacation in West Germany.

Police Investigate Breaking, Entering

The Maryland State Police yesterday were investigating three breaking and enterings which were reported Monday.

Two of the entries involved LaVale business establishments, while the third was at a home in Ellerslie.

Sgt. William F. Baker and Cpl. Charles DeWitt are handling the entry at the home of Earl Harrison in Ellerslie.

The residence was entered sometime Monday night and authorities reported a small amount of money and household items stolen. Entrance was gained by forcing a basement window.

Use Computer System

CHICAGO (UPI)—The first solid state computer system to be made available to businesses of all sizes through an independent service bureau was put into operation by Statistical Tabulating Corp. The system will be used for the production of an itemized tax statement for the 234,000 taxpayers in Dupage County.

Cub Scout Pack 16 Announces Contest Winners

Winners in six contests held in an air show at Cumberland Municipal Airport by Cub Scout Pack 16 were announced today.

The pack is sponsored by the Johnson Heights School Parent-Teacher Association.

For best kite flying among eight-year-olds, the winners were Tony Weber, Richard Dawson and Richard Hensell, and nine-year-olds, Ronald Golden, George Thomas and Patrick Bailey.

The best parachute descents were made by Dale Smith, Patrick Bailey and Tony Weber, while boomerang throw winners were Kenneth Dawson, David Smith and Richard Dawson.

Richard Fauss and Tony Weber had the smallest kites and Ronald Golden and William Smith, largest kites.

PTA Elects New Officers

Mrs. Phyllis MacVeigh has been elected president of the Parent-Teacher Association of SS. Peter and Paul Parochial School.

Mrs. MacVeigh succeeds P. Raymond Shaffer.

Other new officers are Edward Skurznyski, vice president; Robert Stakem, treasurer; Mrs. Betty Lovenstein, recording secretary, and Mrs. Eleanor Snyder, financial secretary.

During Sunday's meeting the PTA discussed plans for its annual summer family picnic held yearly at the parish picnic grounds on the Mason Road.

Though the technique is more frequently used at no trump, retaining control of various suits may be employed with equal effect where there is a declared trump. An illustration is provided in today's hand.

The final contract of six spades is quite sound and against any normal break of cards should be a virtual "laydown." There are numerous ways to bid the hand and North must exercise a certain amount of caution. While the void of diamonds is a very attractive feature of the hand, nevertheless there is danger that the assets might be a duplication of values if partner happens to have some high cards in that suit. A jump raise to three spades is therefore not indicated.

It is an ideal hand with which to make a cue bid in diamonds at some appropriate stage of the proceedings, if the opponents are kind enough to overcall in that suit. Then if partner happens to have some high cards in diamonds he will realize that they have no special merit.

West elected to open the nine of hearts. Dummy played the seven, East the three, and South the ten. It all seemed too easy until East refused to follow to the trump lead. Declarer did not dare to establish a club trick, since East might get in with the ace and give his partner a heart ruff. South set about ruffing the diamonds in dummy, making the grievous error of cashing the ace of diamonds first. After ruffing two diamonds he drew the trumps and found himself in a hopeless position since, when he led a club to establish a trick in that suit, the defense could cash a diamond trick.

Fulfilling this contract should have been the essence of simplicity. South should have retained control of the diamond suit. The ace should not be cashed but the ten and three ruffed in dummy and then the trumps drawn. Now the opposition can safely be given their club trick and no return by them will be embarrassing.

The CENTENNIAL SCRAPBOOK

The War for the Union 1861-65 in Pictures

No. 5 One of Maj. Robert Anderson's garrison shinnied up the remnant of flag-staff to lower the Stars and Stripes for formal surrender of Fort Sumter, April 14, 1861. The flag had been nailed to a cross-piece after being shot down repeatedly in the Rebel bombardment that began at 4:30 a.m. April 12. Following the capitulation, April 13, news went out: "No men were hurt in Sumter by the fire of the enemy. It is reported by the secessionists that no men were killed or wounded on their side." The powder keg of the war exploded without immediate casualties.

A mob attack on Massachusetts troops moving through Baltimore to Washington, April 19, brought the first bloodshed in the struggle that sacrificed 780,000 organized combatants and countless civilians.

—Clark Kinnaird

Ann Landers . . .

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Our 16-year-old daughter is a nervous wreck. About ten days ago someone started the rumor that she is pregnant. It is the talk of the school.

There is no truth whatever in the story, but once a thing like this gets going how do you stop it? Our daughter has pleaded with us to let her change schools. She just can't bear to have the kids whispering about her behind her back.

My husband thinks we should ask the superintendent for permission to have her transferred. She would prefer leaving the city and finishing the school year in the small town where her married sister lives. Please help us. We are too upset to think clearly.—MRS. C.

DEAR MRS. C.: Don't let her change schools or leave the city. A perfect attendance record is the only way to explode the lie.

Your daughter needs your support and guidance. Don't let her down by helping her to run from the situation.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Every two years my sister-in-law comes home from overseas. She brings four children and a dog.

A month before they arrive we get a cable asking us to rent a car, phone the family, stock up on baby food, dog food, and buy steaks (which she misses over there), get a crib, play pen, high chair, etc. and meet the ship.

Our home is a free hotel for stop-overs while they visit around. When they leave we must return all the paraphernalia and have a farewell party. We wouldn't mind if they were appreciative, but we have yet to hear one word of thanks. They just assume we are thrilled to do it. We are fed up and want your advice on how to get out of it gracefully. — L. K.

DEAR L. K.: There's no way to get out of it "gracefully" but you CAN get out of it if you want to. This suggested cable will cool off the relationship but if it's what you want to accomplish then go ahead and send it:

"Sorry but we can do nothing for you this time as we are busy with conflicting plans. Better contact other members of the family this year. — L. K."

(P. S. This column appears in some foreign countries, so perhaps you'd better change the wording a little!)

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Our children are from three years of age up to 15. My husband is a sweet man but he refuses to discipline them. Because of his chicken-heartedness, all the disciplining is left up to me. The children call me "The Warden" and "The Meanie." I think they are only half kidding.

Is it fair for me to be known as the tough one just because I want them to grow up with a sense of responsibility and personal integrity? Please reply in print. — WARDEN

DEAR WARDEN: Don't worry about what your children will think of you. They may gripe about your toughness but so long as you are fair, they will love you and not resent the discipline. In years to come they will think of you as the parent who had the courage and wisdom to make them toe the mark.

To learn the knack of feeling comfortable with the opposite sex, send for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "How To Be Date Bait," enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD — "How are the Dodgers doing?" Chuck Connors asked me when he called from Durango, Mexico.

"Well, as of now, they've won three and lost three," I said, "but surely you didn't call me all the way from Mexico to inquire about the Dodgers!"

Then Chuck went on to say that his picture "Geronimo" is the most exciting movie he's ever made. He enjoyed it so much he's eager to make another picture.

"I have a script on 'Custer's Last Stand' and I'm toying with the idea of making that after I finish 'Geronimo'," Chuck said. "However, some of my friends have told me that my next movie should be a modern story, so I may listen to them."

He said he was sorry to miss the Academy Awards and that he missed his family. He'll be away for another month or more, and he's not getting out of his TV series "The Rifleman."

Sat next to Lillian and Walt Disney who were entertaining some friends at Trader Vic's, so I asked Walt to tell me some news.

"I'm sending Guy Williams to England to do three TV shows on 'The Prince and the Pauper'," said Walt. "He'll play Miles Herndon — remember when Erroll Flynn played Miles in motion pictures?"

Walt is also very busy with "The Moon Pilot" which tells the story of a pilot who gets to the moon first. "We'll beat the Russians getting there," laughed Walt. You can imagine all the trick photography he'll use, and what effects he'll show in the planetary world.

"The Longest Day," Darryl Zanuck's motion picture based on Cornelius Ryan's book—an account of June 6, 1944, when the Allies invaded Europe—is the biggest movie he has ever made. He'll use eight first cameramen, and will have a unit of demolition experts from all the Allied countries.

Famous men such as Churchill and Hitler will only be heard—never seen. On the other hand, a British actor with an incredible likeness to Eisenhower, when he was supreme commander, was found by Darryl in London.

There's no important woman's part, although there is a charming love story in the book. An American landing on the beaches, meets a French girl whose home was near the invasion area. They married after the war and are living there yet.

French Consul General Rene Millet invited the French guests here for the Academy Awards, as well as some of our Hollywood celebrities, to a cocktail party at his home on Outpost Drive. Raoul Levy, who is here to show "La Verite," Brigitte Bardot's picture, was surrounded by guests who wanted to see Bardot who is at her best in this movie. Dany Saval, who is in Hollywood for a Walt Disney movie, tried out her English on me. She said that when she arrived she couldn't speak a word, but she is studying every day. Monique Van Vooren came with Jorge Guinle and Richard Gully.

Mel Ferrer told me it was the nurse's day off so Audrey (Hepburn) was at home caring for the baby. Frank McCarthy, just back from the East, said he thought business in the movie theatres is picking up. Talked with Gerard Blain, attractive young French actor who is with the "Hatari" company. And cute little Anne Farge of the "Angel" TV series, who looks fifteen, but has a young baby she told me.

Another play will light up Las Vegas when "Tenderloin" opens at the Dunes Hotel. Major Riddle, who is changing the Dunes from a burlesque house into a more dignified place of entertainment, says that he'll bring "Tenderloin," the George Abbott Broadway play, to Las Vegas.

The show opens May 18th, right after Zsa Zsa Gabor closes her stint at the Dunes. Maurice Evans was starred in the New York production of "Tenderloin," but I don't think we will be seeing him in Vegas.

When I tell you that William T. Orr, smart new boss of Warners, has bought "War of the Copper Kings" and it's just what it sounds like, a big outdoor conflict of the copper companies—do I have to tell you Bill wants John Wayne for the star? Every time there is one of these two-fisted dramas on tap, Duke is just about the first man paged.

C. B. Glasscock wrote "War of the Copper Kings," which is set in Montana at the turn of the century, when the copper tycoons were in mortal deadlock for power. Orr and Jack Warner have turned over the property to Brynie Foy to produce.

Then Chuck went on to say that his picture "Geronimo" is the most exciting movie he's ever made. He enjoyed it so much he's eager to make another picture.

"I have a script on 'Custer's Last Stand' and I'm toying with the idea of making that after I finish 'Geronimo'," Chuck said. "However, some of my friends have told me that my next movie should be a modern story, so I may listen to them."

He said he was sorry to miss the Academy Awards and that he missed his family. He'll be away for another month or more, and he's not getting out of his TV series "The Rifleman."

Sat next to Lillian and Walt Disney who were entertaining some friends at Trader Vic's, so I asked Walt to tell me some news.

"I'm sending Guy Williams to England to do three TV shows on 'The Prince and the Pauper'," said Walt. "He'll play Miles Herndon — remember when Erroll Flynn played Miles in motion pictures?"

Walt is also very busy with "The Moon Pilot" which tells the story of a pilot who gets to the moon first. "We'll beat the Russians getting there," laughed Walt. You can imagine all the trick photography he'll use, and what effects he'll show in the planetary world.

"The Longest Day," Darryl Zanuck's motion picture based on Cornelius Ryan's book—an account of June 6, 1944, when the Allies invaded Europe—is the biggest movie he has ever made. He'll use eight first cameramen, and will have a unit of demolition experts from all the Allied countries.

Famous men such as Churchill and Hitler will only be heard—never seen. On the other hand, a British actor with an incredible likeness to Eisenhower, when he was supreme commander, was found by Darryl in London.

There's no important woman's part, although there is a charming love story in the book. An American landing on the beaches, meets a French girl whose home was near the invasion area. They married after the war and are living there yet.

French Consul General Rene Millet invited the French guests here for the Academy Awards, as well as some of our Hollywood celebrities, to a cocktail party at his home on Outpost Drive. Raoul Levy, who is here to show "La Verite," Brigitte Bardot's picture, was surrounded by guests who wanted to see Bardot who is at her best in this movie. Dany Saval, who is in Hollywood for a Walt Disney movie, tried out her English on me. She said that when she arrived she couldn't speak a word, but she is studying every day. Monique Van Vooren came with Jorge Guinle and Richard Gully.

Mel Ferrer told me it was the nurse's day off so Audrey (Hepburn) was at home caring for the baby. Frank McCarthy, just back from the East, said he thought business in the movie theatres is picking up. Talked with Gerard Blain, attractive young French actor who is with the "Hatari" company. And cute little Anne Farge of the "Angel" TV series, who looks fifteen, but has a young baby she told me.

Another play will light up Las Vegas when "Tenderloin" opens at the Dunes Hotel. Major Riddle, who is changing the Dunes from a burlesque house into a more dignified place of entertainment, says that he'l' bring "Tenderloin," the George Abbott Broadway play, to Las Vegas.

The show opens May 18th, right after Zsa Zsa Gabor closes her stint at the Dunes. Maurice Evans was starred in the New York production of "Tenderloin," but I don't think we will be seeing him in Vegas.

When I tell you that William T. Orr, smart new boss of Warners, has bought "War of the Copper Kings" and it's just what it sounds like, a big outdoor conflict of the copper companies—do I have to tell you Bill wants John Wayne for the star? Every time there is one of these two-fisted dramas on tap, Duke is just about the first man paged.

C. B. Glasscock wrote "War of the Copper Kings," which is set in Montana at the turn of the century, when the copper tycoons were in mortal deadlock for power. Orr and Jack Warner have turned over the property to Brynie Foy to produce.

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Our 16-year-old daughter is a nervous wreck. About ten days ago someone started the rumor that she is pregnant. It is the talk of the school.

There is no truth whatever in the story, but once a thing like this gets going how do you stop it? Our daughter has pleaded with us to let her change schools. She just can't bear to have the kids whispering about her behind her back.

My husband thinks we should ask the superintendent for permission to have her transferred. She would prefer leaving the city and finishing the school year in the small town where her married sister lives. Please help us. We are too upset to think clearly.—MRS. C.

DEAR MRS. C.: Don't let her change schools or leave the city. A perfect attendance record is the only way to explode the lie.

Your daughter needs your support and guidance. Don't let her down by helping her to run from the situation.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Every two years my sister-in-law comes home from overseas. She brings four children and a dog.

A month before they arrive we get a cable asking us to rent a car, phone the family, stock up on baby food, dog food, and buy steaks (which she misses over there), get a crib, play pen, high chair, etc. and meet the ship.

Our home is a free hotel for stop-overs while they visit around. When they leave we must return all the paraphernalia and have a farewell party. We wouldn't mind if they were appreciative, but we have yet to hear one word of thanks. They just assume we are thrilled to do it. We are fed up and want your advice on how to get out of it gracefully. — L. K.

DEAR L. K.: There's no way to get out of it "gracefully" but you CAN get out of it if you want to. This suggested cable will cool off the relationship but if it's what you want to accomplish then go ahead and send it:

"Sorry but we can do nothing for you this time as we are busy with conflicting plans. Better contact other members of the family this year. — L. K."

(P. S. This column appears in some foreign countries, so perhaps you'd better change the wording a little!)

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Our children are from three years of age up to 15. My husband is a sweet man but he refuses to discipline them. Because of his chicken-heartedness, all the disciplining is left up to me. The children call me "The Warden" and "The Meanie." I think they are only half kidding.

Is it fair for me to be known as the tough one just because I want them to grow up with a sense of responsibility and personal integrity? Please reply in print. — WARDEN

DEAR WARDEN: Don't worry about what your children will think of you. They may gripe about your toughness but so long as you are fair, they will love you and not resent the discipline. In years to come they will think of you as the parent who had the courage and wisdom to make them toe the mark.

To learn the knack of feeling comfortable with the opposite sex, send for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "How To Be Date Bait," enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Art Show, Music Festival Arranged At Beall High

Art Students Prepare For Show

Members of the art classes at Beall High School are preparing for a showing of their works at a combined art and vocal show to be held Friday at the school. From 7 to 8 p. m. examples of student art will be on display in the lobby. The vocal show will begin at 8 p. m. The group above is classifying and marking the paintings to be shown. Left to right are Larry Smouse, Sharon McClintock,, Gary Ritchie, Cynthia Rendar and Ray Ewing. Mrs. Lucille Cinquegrani is advisor of the art classes and Miss Mary Robb of the music group. Students, parents and friends of the school are invited to attend.

School Offers Outstanding Presentation

Public Invited Friday Night

FROSTBURG — A combination art show and vocal festival will be held Friday night at Beall High School.

This annual festival features all types of paintings of the art classes of Mrs. Lucille Cinquegrani and will be on display in the lobby from 7 to 8 p. m. and following the music festival which is under the direction of Miss Mary M. Robb, featuring the junior and senior choruses. The music festival will begin at 8 p. m.

The paintings in the exhibit will be in the following medias: oil, ink, crayon, charcoal, water color and pastels. Other projects of students include ceramics, mobiles, stencils, copper enamel, jewelry, wood and soap carvings and mosaics.

The numbers to be presented by the junior chorus include: "My Lord What a Morning" and "Were You There." "Nobody Knows the Trouble I've Seen" Robert Harper, vocalist; "Plenty Good Room", chorus; "The Green Cathedral," quintet; "Czech Dance Song," "Humoresque" and "Old Folks At Home" chorus; "Stranger to Paradise," Claudia Skidmore, soloist.

"The Beautiful Danube" chorus; "Blue Moon" Thomas Baucom, soloist; "Down In the Valley" and "Darlin," chorus; "Anchors Aweigh," Lou Ann McCullough, dancer; "When Yoou Wish Upon A Star" quartet; and "Hiking Song" with verses three and four written by Yvonne Montana, sung by the chorus.

The Senior High Chorus will present the following: "As Ye Do It Unto These," "Buggy Ride' and "Ode To Song," chorus; "Go Down Moses," "Gigi" and "They Call It America," boy's glee club: "El Matador," Jeannine Richardson, soloist; "Sheep and Lambs May Safely Graze," "Clouds" and Victor Herbert favorites, Girls' Glee Club.

"Hi Li, Hi Lo" and "Ride the Chariot," ensemble; "Deep Purple" Thomas Richardson, soloist; "Rock-A My Soul," "May Night" and "The Sound of Music," chorus.

The quintet includes Linda Arnold, Julia Edmunds, Carolyn Schriver, Rose Wade and Marjorie White; quartet—Alice Goodwin, Margaret Jones, Glenda Lucas and Barbara Milburn; Ensemble —Carole Callin, Francis Crowe, Soundra Fresh, Lynn Horner, Connie Loar, Gordon Carpenter, Allan Eisel, Keith Kerr, Joseph Michael and Thomas Richardson.

Accompanists are Eileen Llewellyn, Karen Rissler, Jeanne Richardson, Sandra Willetts and Thomas Baucom.

Mrs. I. W. Matlick Attends Meeting Of West Virginia Democratic Women

KEYSER—Mrs. I. W. Matlick, president of the Mineral County Democratic Club has returned from the fourth Annual Democratic Women's Day program held in Charleston April 14-15.

Included on the two-day program were a tour of the capitol and governor's mansion, several receptions, a luncheon, banquet, and the presentation of awards to outstanding Democratic women within the state.

Principal speakers included Mrs. H. Carl Boone, of Madison, Tenn., president of the Tennessee Federation of Woman's Clubs; Mrs. Louise M. John, vice-chairman of the Pennsylvania State Committee; Sen. Jennings Randolph; and Mrs. Esther Peterson, assistant to the Secretary of Labor and Director of the Women's Bureau of the U. S. Department of Labor.

The latter, who spoke at the main banquet, was introduced by Hulett C. Smith, chairman of the State Democratic Committee. In her talk she stressed the importance of the role that Democratic women play in politics, urging them to take time for their government and to work constantly to get voters to the polls.

She commended the work being done by West Virginia's elected officials in Washington and cited the mountain state as being a stepping stone for President John F. Kennedy to the White House.

Following a buffet breakfast with Gov. and Mrs. W. W. Barron the opening day a workshop was conducted with Atty. Virginia May Brown, counselor to the governor, as moderator. The theme centered around Barron's proposals for a tax and crash program, and his special projects on the state clean-up, roads, schools, and redistricting.

The afternoon workshop dealt with the president's program, "New Frontier in Action," including area development, foreign policy, defense, federal aid to education, and natural resources. Moderator was Mrs. Violet Snedegar of Elkins, past national committeewoman.

Illness Curtails Festival Plans At Keyser PSC

Annual Pageant Is Cancelled

KEYSER—Plans for an afternoon pageant in connection with this year's May Day celebration at Potomac State College Saturday, May 13, have been cancelled, and ceremonies honoring the Queen and her Court will be conducted during intermission of the dance that evening in the gymnasium, according to an announcement by Dr. E. E. Church, president.

Reason for curtailment of the pageant is the illness of Miss Margaret E. Rafter, director of physical education, who usually directs the pageant.

Area high schools, usually invited to send a princess and escort for and an honorary court, have been informed of the change in plans for this year.

The Townsmen, an aggregation from Cumberland, will provide music for the Student Council sponsored dance from 9 p. m. to midnight.

Miss Patricia Mathias, a sophomore home economics major from Moorefield, was chosen by the student body to reign as queen.

Official Visit

LONACONING — Mrs. Georgia Wernz, of Baltimore, will make her official visitation to Morning Star Temple No. 1, Pythian Sisters, on Monday at 8 p. m.

The grand chief of Pythian Sisters will be honored by the Lonaconing women. A number of visitors from Pythian Sisters temples of the area are expected for the occasion.

Minstrel Show Highlights WSCS Bazar At Barton

BARTON — The "Hotsy Totsy Minstrel" will be a feature at the spring bazar sponsored by the WSCS of Barton Methodist Church, Friday at 7:30 p. m. in the fireman's armory. Mrs. Peggy Mowbray, Youth Fellowship Councilor is directing.

Taking part are Dick Metz, Interloctur; Ernie Metz, Charter; Bruce Metz, Dillion; Gayle Griffith, Baldwin; Deane Mowbray, Elliott; Paul Green, Addison; Bobby Mowbray, Falkner; Andy Winters, Clinker, and Lorraine Clark, Crabapple.

Doing the bug dance will be Linda Metz, Patty Metz, Kitty Gattens, Patricia Metz, Nancy Metz, Stanton McIntyre, and Robert Green. Mrs. Luther Metz and Mrs. Lewis Smith will sing "Alice Blue Gown", and "For Me and My Gal".

A song "Slow Poke", will be offered by Mike Smith, Linda Nichols, Carolyn Metz; a song "I Said My Payamas" by Carol Langham, Helena Custer, Ricky Smith and Janice Neat. "Sugar Time" will be sung by the entire cast. The kitchen band will play "Calcutta" and "Four Leaf Clover".

A short skit "Buzzards Strategy" will be presented by Mrs. Lewis Smith and Mrs. Luther Metz. A song and dance will be presented by the Kyle sisters, Debbie and Nancy, accompanied at the piano by their mother Mrs. Joseph Kyle.

Members in the kitchen band are Stanton McIntyre, Ronnie McDonald, Randy Griffity, Sissy Griffith.

Two Area Schools Get Model Rating Classifications

KEYSER — Two more schools in Mineral County have been given model ratings following classifications which were completed last week.

The two schools judged were Wiley Ford and New Creek which have as their principals C. Neff Wimer and Harold C. Carvey, respectively.

Wiley Ford had as its special project the use of the new curriculum handbook in physical education and also a public relations program.

New Creek's projects also included the physical education program, a course in elementary French for the second consecutive year, and a special science program.

Members of the committee visiting Wiley Ford on April 11 were: Dr. James Moler, Shepherd College and co-ordinator, State Department of Education; Paul Arbogast, Johnson Heights School, Cumberland, Md.; Mrs. Opal Allen, supervisor, Preston County, W. Va.; Charles Shepherd and Guy Adams, both members of the Board of Education, Mineral County.

Visitors at New Creek on April 12 were: Bernard Hughes, superintendent, Hampshire County Schools; James Butcher, assistant superintendent, Grant County Schools; Miss Ruth McIntyre, supervisor, Hampshire County Schools; Miss Blanche Hinkle, supervosir, Hardy County Schools; J. P. Judy, principal, Keyser Elementary School; Miss Madalyn Bazzle, Limestone School; Huber Norman, president, Mineral County Board of Education; Charles Shepherd and Guy Adams, board members.

The schools were evaluated on the following: condition and appearance of plant, program of instruction, pupil responsibility and attitutde, provision for supervision, sequential (12-year program of continuous pupil progress); leadership given by principal, library, program of health and safety education, room arrangement and housekeeping, evidence that the total school program is cooperatively planned and being carried out by the entire school, provision for physical education, discipline, use of community resources, use of audio-visual aids, use being made of Form 7, and recommendations for school rating.

Mrs. I. W. Matlick Attends Meeting Of West Virginia Democratic Women

KEYSER—Mrs. I. W. Matlick, president of the Mineral County Democratic Club has returned from the fourth Annual Democratic Women's Day program held in Charleston April 14-15.

Included on the two-day program were a tour of the capitol and governor's mansion, several receptions, a luncheon, banquet, and the presentation of awards to outstanding Democratic women within the state.

Principal speakers included Mrs. H. Carl Boone, of Madison, Tenn., president of the Tennessee Federation of Woman's Clubs; Mrs. Louise M. John, vice-chairman of the Pennsylvania State Committee; Sen. Jennings Randolph; and Mrs. Esther Peterson, assistant to the Secretary of Labor and Director of the Women's Bureau of the U. S. Department of Labor.

The latter, who spoke at the main banquet, was introduced by Hulett C. Smith, chairman of the State Democratic Committee. In her talk she stressed the importance of the role that Democratic women play in politics, urging them to take time for their government and to work constantly to get voters to the polls.

She commended the work being done by West Virginia's elected officials in Washington and cited the mountain state as being a stepping stone for President John F. Kennedy to the White House.

Following a buffet breakfast with Gov. and Mrs. W. W. Barron the opening day a workshop was conducted with Atty. Virginia May Brown, counselor to the governor, as moderator. The theme centered around Barron's proposals for a tax and crash program, and his special projects on the state clean-up, roads, schools, and redistricting.

The afternoon workshop dealt with the president's program, "New Frontier in Action," including area development, foreign policy, defense, federal aid to education, and natural resources. Moderator was Mrs. Violet Snedegar of Elkins, past national committeewoman.

Illness Curtails Festival Plans At Keyser PSC

Annual Pageant Is Cancelled

KEYSER—Plans for an afternoon pageant in connection with this year's May Day celebration at Potomac State College Saturday, May 13, have been cancelled, and ceremonies honoring the Queen and her Court will be conducted during intermission of the dance that evening in the gymnasium, according to an announcement by Dr. E. E. Church, president.

Reason for curtailment of the pageant is the illness of Miss Margaret E. Rafter, director of physical education, who usually directs the pageant.

Area high schools, usually invited to send a princess and escort for and an honorary court, have been informed of the change in plans for this year.

The Townsmen, an aggregation from Cumberland, will provide music for the Student Council sponsored dance from 9 p. m. to midnight.

Miss Patricia Mathias, a sophomore home economics major from Moorefield, was chosen by the student body to reign as queen.

Official Visit

LONACONING — Mrs. Georgia Wernz, of Baltimore, will make her official visitation to Morning Star Temple No. 1, Pythian Sisters, on Monday at 8 p. m.

The grand chief of Pythian Sisters will be honored by the Lonaconing women. A number of visitors from Pythian Sisters temples of the area are expected for the occasion.

Minstrel Show Highlights WSCS Bazar At Barton

BARTON — The "Hotsy Totsy Minstrel" will be a feature at the spring bazar sponsored by the WSCS of Barton Methodist Church, Friday at 7:30 p. m. in the fireman's armory. Mrs. Peggy Mowbray, Youth Fellowship Councilor is directing.

Taking part are Dick Metz, Interloctur; Ernie Metz, Charter; Bruce Metz, Dillion; Gayle Griffith, Baldwin; Deane Mowbray, Elliott; Paul Green, Addison; Bobby Mowbray, Falkner; Andy Winters, Clinker, and Lorraine Clark, Crabapple.

Doing the bug dance will be Linda Metz, Patty Metz, Kitty Gattens, Patricia Metz, Nancy Metz, Stanton McIntyre, and Robert Green. Mrs. Luther Metz and Mrs. Lewis Smith will sing "Alice Blue Gown", and "For Me and My Gal".

A song "Slow Poke", will be offered by Mike Smith, Linda Nichols, Carolyn Metz; a song "I Said My Payamas" by Carol Langham, Helena Custer, Ricky Smith and Janice Neat. "Sugar Time" will be sung by the entire cast. The kitchen band will play "Calcutta" and "Four Leaf Clover".

A short skit "Buzzards Strategy" will be presented by Mrs. Lewis Smith and Mrs. Luther Metz. A song and dance will be presented by the Kyle sisters, Debbie and Nancy, accompanied at the piano by their mother Mrs. Joseph Kyle.

Members in the kitchen band are Stanton McIntyre, Ronnie McDonald, Randy Griffity, Sissy Griffith.

In addition to the minstrel, baked goods, parcel post, grab bags, and fancy work, sandwiches and pop will be sold. Tickets for the bazar may be purchased at the door.

Paul E. Garber Is Speaker At PSC Program

Students To Hear Talk On Flight

KEYSER — A man who witnessed a flight by Orville Wright 50 years ago and who is presently the head curator and chief historian of Smithsonian Institute in Washington, D. C., will be featured at a convocation for the Potomac State College student body Tuesday, April 25.

Paul Edward Garber, who has been at Smithsonian since 1920, will speak on "The History of Aeronautics and the Space Age," at the convocation at 11 a. m. in the auditorium. His talk will complete the series of convocations for the school year at Potomac State.

Garber has been a lifelong student of aeronautical history. After serving in World War I, he joined the Air Mail service and served on the first continously scheduled public service air mail route in the world, operated by the U. S. Post Office Department between New York, Philadelphia, and Washington. He served through-out World War II with the Navy in the Aviation service and retains his commission as commander in the Naval Reserve.

He is a member of the Institute of Aeronautical Sciences, the National Aeronautic Association, Air Mail Pioneers, OX-5 Club, named for a famous early aviation engine, and he is secretary of the "Early Birds," an organization of those who piloted aircraft during the first 13 years of flight, 1903-1916.

At Smithsonian he has assisted in obtaining and exhibiting such famous aircraft as the Wright Brothers' Kitty Hawk Flyer, Lindbergh's "Spirit of St. Louis," Wiley Post's "Winnie May." and the first aircraft to fly across the Atlantic.

Garber is the author of numerous books and articles in leading flight publications, including "The Air Mail," "Safety in Flight," and "Building and Flying Model Aircraft."

Keyser Library Report Reviews Reading Habits

KEYSER, W. Va.—Reading habits of residents of Mineral County are reviewed in the 1960 report of the Keyser-Mineral County Library to County United Fund.

A breakdown of the report by the CUF agency indicates the colder months are favorite reading times for patrons of the library. Total circulation for 1960 was reported at 22,969, with the most people, 3,243, taking out books in September.

Other top months, according to the report, were October, when 3,063 books were loaned; February, with 2,267 books, and March, 2,119.

The circulation was closely divided between adults and children, with 9,600 books taken out by grownups, and 12,309 by children.

The CUF agency sponsored a number of displays last year, notably during National Book Week, at the Mineral County Fair and during the Reese's Mill Farm Women's Club educational program. The advantages offered by the Keyser-Mineral County Library were outlined in a number of talks to service clubs during Book Week, the report states.

Besides furnishing Farm Women's Clubs with all their reading material, the library was the theme of a float entered in the Christmas parade sponsored by Keyser merchants.

The float, sponsored by the Keyser Parent-Teacher Association, won a $50 prize. Spokesmen for the PTA said half of the prize money is expected to be donated to the library, and the balance used for some project during the 1961 National Book Week.

West Virginia Will Buy Old Logging Railroad

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—Gov. W. W. Barron announced Tuesday that the state will purchase an oldlogging railroad at Cass, Pocahontas County for further development into one of the "truly great tourist attractions in the eastern United States."

Barron reported that a group of private investors are planning to enter into a lease with the state for use of the railroad and other tourist attractions of that area of Pocahontas County.

Barron said the investors believe that the development of the railroad as a tourist attraction will mean a substantial boost to the economy of the region.

The railroad is near several other tourist attractions such as the National Radio Astronomy Observatory at Greenbank, Cass Caves which has a waterfall higher than Niagara Falls and also some outstanding hunting and fishing areas.

"The purchase of the Cass railroad and the development of the surrounding resources is a big step forward in attracting the tourist trade to West Virginia and helping to give our state a great economic boost," he said.

The railroad was built in the early 1900s for the West Virginia Pulp & Paper Co. Today only eight miles of the track remains. It goes from Cass up to the top of Bald Knob, 4,852 feet above sea level, the second highest point in West Virginia. It's only eight feet lower than Spruce Knob in Pendleton County.

Barron said final details of the purchase are not complete, but added that the investors have shown an interest in "investing a substantial sum in the development of not only the railroad but the entire area."

"This now historical symbol of our American heritage can be turned into the most beautiful tourist attraction in this part of the country," he said. "Nature has already laid the groundwork for us."

Flintstone Health Center Files Report

FLINTSTONE—There were 332 polio innoculations administered during 1960 at the Flintstone Health Center, according to Mrs. H F. Roland, chairman.

An affiliated agency of County United Fund, the Health Center's annual report to the two-county health, welfare and service association also reveals 12 clinics were sponsored last year.

Other data in the report shows 467 children were examined at the clinics, 143 D-P-T immunizations were given and 43 persons were administered smallpox vaccinations.

Dr. Abdul S. Hashim served as the clinic physician, Mrs. Roland said, and Mrs. Ann Clauson was clinic nurse, assisted by other registered nurses.

Students To Hear Talk On Flight

KEYSER — A man who witnessed a flight by Orville Wright 50 years ago and who is presently the head curator and chief historian of Smithsonian Institute in Washington, D. C., will be featured at a convocation for the Potomac State College student body Tuesday, April 25.

Paul Edward Garber, who has been at Smithsonian since 1920, will speak on "The History of Aeronautics and the Space Age," at the convocation at 11 a. m. in the auditorium. His talk will complete the series of convocations for the school year at Potomac State.

Garber has been a lifelong student of aeronautical history. After serving in World War I, he joined the Air Mail service and served on the first continously scheduled public service air mail route in the world, operated by the U. S. Post Office Department between New York, Philadelphia, and Washington. He served through-out World War II with the Navy in the Aviation service and retains his commission as commander in the Naval Reserve.

He is a member of the Institute of Aeronautical Sciences, the National Aeronautic Association, Air Mail Pioneers, OX-5 Club, named for a famous early aviation engine, and he is secretary of the "Early Birds," an organization of those who piloted aircraft during the first 13 years of flight, 1903-1916.

At Smithsonian he has assisted in obtaining and exhibiting such famous aircraft as the Wright Brothers' Kitty Hawk Flyer, Lindbergh's "Spirit of St. Louis," Wiley Post's "Winnie May." and the first aircraft to fly across the Atlantic.

Garber is the author of numerous books and articles in leading flight publications, including "The Air Mail," "Safety in Flight," and "Building and Flying Model Aircraft."

LaVale Scout Troop Holds Honor Court

Boy Scout Troop 11, sponsored by LaVale Baptist Church, held a Court of Honor last evening for the purpose of presenting various badges and other awards. Robert Herrell opened the program with the invocation followed by scout salute and pledge to the flag.

Harrison Lewis, scoutmaster, conducted a candle lighting ceremony with the assistance of Bernard Conners, senior patrol leader, at which time the scouting oath and the 12 scout laws were explained by boys of various rank.

Badges were presented the boys by a parent who pinned the award to his uniform and in turn the boy presented his mother or father with a miniature of his earned award. Presentations include:

Tenderfoot badges — Edward Speis, Phillip Brown, Anthony Taylor, Randall Kamauff, David Myers and Charles Nicholson. Second Class badge—Frederick Rowe, Allen Lewis, Robert Herrell, James Migdol, Daniel Border, Fred Taylor and Gary Kimmell.

The highest award of the evening was the presentation of the Star badge to Walter Lewis by his father who is scoutmaster of the LaVale troop. The following merit badges were awarded: Edward McKenzie, reading; Paul McClain, home repairs; Bernard Conners, home repairs; Frederick Rowe, music, bugling and art; Walter Lewis, citizenship in the home and home repairs.

Group singing was led by Randall Hostetler, after which movie slides were shown and narrated depicting local area scouts taking an active part in various activities of summer scout camp.

William Harmon, troop committee chairman, discussed the responsibility of the parent to encourage their boys to take an active part in scouting programs.

The program closed with the scoutmasters benediction and the sounding of taps. Refreshments were served.

Judgeship Measure Approved By House

WASHINGTON (AP) — Maryland would get two more U. S. District Court judges under a bill passed by the House Wednesday.

The judgeship bill also would provide two new judges for the Fourth U. S. Circuit Court, which includes Maryland, West Virginia, Virginia, the District of Columbia, North Carolina and South Carolina.

Cars Respect Tortoise

LONDON (AP)—There was a traffic tangle in the Golders Green district Wednesday. Police found motorists refusing to pass somebody's pet tortoise ambling down the avenue.

They take pets seriously in Britain.

The CENTENNIAL SCRAPBOOK

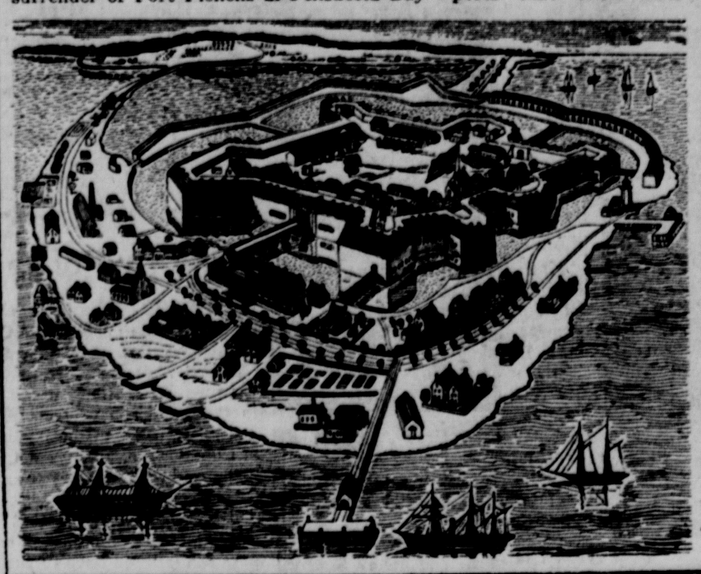
The War for the Union 1861-65 in Pictures

No. 6. Couldn't the Union have held Fort Sumter and thus effected strong discouragement to the Rebels right off? Unquestionably, the taking of Sumter, April 14, 1861, without the loss of a life, was a tremendous stimulant to hothead belief that the South could and would wrest what it wanted from the North.

Significantly, Union forces succeeded in resisting Confederate efforts to force the surrender of Fort Pickens in Pensacola Bay and nullified the usefulness to the South of a most important navy yard; they kept Fortress Monroe (below), too.

Like Sumter and Pickens, Monroe, located at the entrance to Hampton Roads, was situated on an island semi-circled by Confederate-held territory after the events of April 1861.

Yet the Union held it throughout the war and used it effectively in blockading two ports that could have been of decisive value to the Confederacy, Norfolk and Richmond.



At the beginning of hostilities, the garrison was only 400. The rapid build-up given its manpower and supplies; the knowledge Confederate leaders had of its structural formidability, and lack of naval power discouraged Rebel attack. The bastion had been planned and constructed in part by Robert E. Lee while an engineer officer, U.S. Army.

Do you know how to make your spare time sparkle?

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Tempo For Time Out

Time is on the side of those who use it best, off duty as well as on. There's not enough to be gained from a routine of allowing yourself to be entertained, always passively. Just do one of these things, however, and it's impossible to remain the same—develop a talent, take up a new hobby or sport, study a foreign language, enrich your knowledge of the arts, sciences, or world affairs, serve a good cause. These are adventures of discovery, not a small part of which is the discovery of full-measure living and of the kind of person you can be.

As long as variety is so admittedly the spice of life, much of leisure should turn the mind far afield from the concerns of everyday required activity. But some of it can also be used for the purpose of refreshing your work and your attitude toward it. To learn the latest techniques and to acquire allied knowledge prompts a fresh approach and heightened interest. A new goal and a shining new confidence in reaching it can so well be the product of well-directed off hours.

Be a more interested person, and you're bound to become a more interesting person, and a more understanding and capable one. Use the hours that belong to you wisely, and you'll develop the well-rounded personality that never stops short at attracting attention, but knows how to hold it. And you'll enjoy yourself so much more. Spare time sparkles when it brings new ideas, new points of view.

Two Advanced In Seabees

Two members of Naval Reserve Construction Battalion 5-7 (Seabees) have passed examinations for advancement at the local Naval Training Center, according to Cdr. Paul M. Arbogast, commanding officer.

Jack Kennedy Murphy Jr. and Douglas McArthur Torbet, both of Cumberland, were advanced from construction recruit to construction apprentice.

The advancement of both men is the result of an intensive training program conducted by the local unit on the third weekend of each month. Both men served their annual two-week active duty at the Recruit Training Command at the Great Lakes, Ill., Naval Training Center, and completed a series of military practical factors on their ratings in addition to passing the three-hour written examination which qualified them for their advancement.

The recruit instructor of the Seabee unit is Chief Petty Officer Burton H. Grove (steelworker) of Keyser.

Young men interested in meeting their military obligation by participating in the Seabee Unit are requested to contact the Naval Training Center on McKaig's Hill or Cdr. Arbogast. There are several openings available for construction recruits.

60 Sport Cars In Trophy Rally

Drivers To Remain In City Overnight

BALTIMORE (AP)—At least 60 cars will compete in the annual Chesapeake Trophy Rally, which begins Saturday, it was announced Wednesday.

Officials of the Motor Sports Club of America, sponsor of the two-day event designed primarily for sports cars, said 60 driver-navigator teams will make the round trip from Baltimore to Cumberland and back.

The trip eastward will come after an overnight stop at the Western Maryland city.

Officials said recent rain and snow storms affecting roads and bridges in the western part of the state may be a factor in the 600-mile endurance run.

The purpose of the gruelling trip through mountainous terrain in Maryland, Virginia and West Virginia is to test driving ability, navigational skill and endurance.

Entrants are expected to remain on course and to complete the trip in a specified time. Finishing early is penalized as well as finishing late.

Thirty awards will be made in Baltimore after the event — said to be the last surviving Alpine-type rally in this country.

Special Bus Service Planned To Race Tracks

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Interstate Commerce Commission Wednesday granted the Gray Line Inc., authority to operate special bus service between points in Montgomery County, Md., Arlington and Fairfax counties, Va., and Charles Town, W. Va., during the racing seasons at Shenandoah Downs and Charles Town Race Course.

The company has operated the service between Charles Town and Falls Church, Va., on a regular basis since late 1959. It obtained temporary authority to serve Arlington and Fairfax counties last August.

The ICC rejected a competing application by Washington, Virginia & Maryland Coach Co., to provide the same service between the race tracks, Falls Church, and points in Arlington and Fairfax counties.

Tech To Sponsor Football Clinic

MONTGOMERY, W. Va. (UPI) —West Virginia Tech will sponsor a football clinic here Saturday for high school coaches in the area.

Besides Tech's coaches, on hand as speaker for the clinic—on the subject of pass defense—will be Jim Carr, a defensive halfback of the professional world champion Philadelphia Eagles. Carr is a former Morris Harvey College star.

City Rivals Launch 23d League Race

Sentinels Hosts, Bobcats On Road, Vikings Seek Tie

Fort Hill High School opens defense of two championships it won last year when it faces the LaSalle High School Explorers in the opening game of the Allegany County High School Baseball League today at Fort Hill Field at 4 o'clock.

The Sentinels and LaSalle will play in the league's new Eastern Division along with Flintstone and Allegany this year while Beall, Mt. Savage, Valley and Bruce are the Western Division nines.

Others Start Friday

Tomorrow the six other teams in the two-division loop will launch their schedules with Allegany at Flintstone, Beall at Mt. Savage and Valley at Bruce.

Fort Hill won the league title last year with a 13-1 record and also captured city honors with a 3-1 mark. The only loss came at the hands of LaSalle as the city teams split their two-game series. Coach John J. "Bobby" Cavanaugh's team will be putting a 12-game winning streak on the line today. The Sentinels won 'em all last season after dropping a 4-3 decision to LaSalle on April 20.

John Price (3-0), Gary Henry (2-0) and Melvin Nines (2-0) are the 1960 Fort Hill pitchers back in harness while Roger Manges (4-1) and Allan Stevenson (2-0) have graduated. Other regulars of the championship team returning are Rich Parsons, Jim Rice, Glenn Shipway, Harry Bosley, Charley Boone and Larry McKay. McKay was the team's top hitter last season with an average of .351 for 14 games.

Begins 29th Season

Major Cavanaugh begins his 29th year as baseball coach at Cumberland schools. He was at Penn Avenue High four years and this is his 25th as head man at Fort Hill.

Cavanaugh announced last night that Price will be his starting pitcher with Butch Cross receiving his slants. His starting lineup will include Bosley, 1b.; Bill Sheetz, 2b; Rice, ss; Parsons,3b; McKay, of; Shipway, of; Brown, of.

Russ Minnicks and Kenneth Grimes will umpire the contest.

LaSalle's returnees are headed by Mike Long who batted .361 in 12 games for the 1960

Friend Hurls Pirates To 4-1 Win Over Cubs

World Champs Get Their Series Rings

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—Baseball Commissioner Ford C. Frick presented World Series rings to the Pittsburgh Pirates Wednesday night and they responded by beating the Chicago Cubs, 4-1, behind the three-hit pitching of Bob Friend.

Friend, who has encountered difficulty with the Cubs in the past, squared his lifetime record against them at 18-18 in registering his second victory of the season and going the distance the second time.

The veteran righthander's bid for a shutout was spoiled in the seventh when shortstop Ernie Banks hit a "wrong-field" home run. Banks, the 1960 major league home run leader, sailed his first homer of the season into the upper right field stands.

The only other hits yielded by Friend were singles by Ed Bouchee in the second inning and by Dick Bertell in the fifth. Bob Will drew a walk to lead off the eighth frame but Friend struck out pinch-hitters George Altman and Sam Taylor, then Don Zimmer flied out.

The Pirates got all their 10 hits and four runs off Bob Anderson, Gene Baker beat out a hit in the third inning and was forced at second when Friend attempted a sacrifice. Bill Virdon tripled to center to put the Pirates ahead.

The entire Pittsburgh batting order went to the plate in the sixth inning to produce three runs. Dick Groat led off with a double to extend his hitting streak to all eight games this season. Bob Skinner, Dick Stuart and Roberto Clemente then singled in order for two more runs.

Baker was passed intentionally to fill the bases, but Friend chopped an infield single up the first base line to drive in another run.

Baltimore Colts Hire Young Bell

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Baltimore Colts organization confirmed Wednesday the hiring of Bert Bell Jr., son of the late commissioner of the National Football League.

There was no official announcement, but a Colt spokesman said Bell joined the Colts' ticket office on Monday.

Before coming to Baltimore, he was affiliated with the National Football League office and was in charge of arranging the league's schedule.

Named Golf Pro At Mill Creek

Adolph Popp, a native of Morgantown, W. Va., has been named golf pro at the Mill Creek Country Club on Route 50 near Keyser. He assumed his duties on April 1. He is a son of Mrs. Mary Popp, Morgantown, and presently resides at the home of Mrs. William Smith, Luke.

He was captain of the WVU golf team for two years and participated in the state amateur meet at Greenbrier in 1959. He also was acting coach for the university golf team in his senior year.

Injury Jinx Strikes Big Names In Baseball Early

Snider, Killebrew, Jackson, Malzone, Lee On Sidelines

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK (AP)—The baseball season is only 10 days old but the injury jinx already has sent big names like Duke Snider, Harmon Killebrew and Charley Neal to the sidelines.

Snider was put out of action for a month or so when he was struck by a pitch Monday night and suffered a cracked bone above his right elbow. The fact that Snider was hit by the first pitch of his next at bat after hitting a home run prompted the Los Angeles brass to complain to league headquarters.

Neal, also of the Dodgers, also was put out of action in Monday's game when he aggravated an old knee injury.

Killebrew of the Minnesota Twins pulled a hamstring muscle in his left thigh while running to first base in a game last Saturday.

Don Lee, who figured to be one of the Twins' starting pitchers, suffered a broken finger on his right hand when hit by a line drive in an exhibition game. He still is out of action.

Boston has been struggling along without Frank Malzone at third base. Malzone's right foot was injured before the season opener.

Cleveland has Dick Stigman on the disabled list and Baltimore's Hank Foiles is just coming around after a finger was broken in spring training.

The Dodgers' Ed Roebuck, expected to be the master of their bullpen, came up with a sore arm and had to be placed on the disabled list.

Disaster struck St. Louis in Florida when Larry Jackson, the Cards' 18-game winner, suffered a broken jaw when hit by a piece of Snider's bat in an exhibition. The right-hander hopes to get back into action late this month.

Julian Javier, the Cards' regular second baseman, had to leave Tuesday night's game in Los Angeles after he was stunned and cut in a headlong dive when he was picked off first base.

Practice Scheduled

Barrelville's Old Exports of the Pen Mar Baseball League will drill today and Friday at 5 p.m. and Saturday at 2 o'clock at Barrelville field, officials of the club announced last night.

Helsinki Detective Wins 65th Boston Marathon Race

BOSTON (AP)—Eino Oksanen, a Helsinki detective, charged into the lead a half-mile from the end and won the 65th Boston A.A. marathon Wednesday.

The triumph was a repeat of Oksanen's victory over America's Johnny Kelley here two years ago except that the flying Finn made his bid closer to the end, winning by 125 yards in a thriller.

The 30-year-old Oksanen was clocked in 2:23:29 for what was unofficially listed as the second coldest B.A.A. marathon and the first in which snow flurries dotted the hectic run.

Kelley was timed in 2:23:54.

The 26-mile, 385-yard Patriot's Day classic started from suburban Hopkinton.

Mathias Posts 4th PVC Win

Whips Capon Bridge On Four-Hitter, 7-1

Lowell Mathias hurled four-hit ball to pitch his Mathias High School teammates to a 7-1 triumph over Capon Bridge yesterday in a Potomac Valley Conference baseball game at Mathias.

The victory was the fourth in a row in the PVC for Coach Hoy Dove's tossers who have beaten Circleville twice and Paw Paw.

Mathias jumped on Capon Bridge for four runs in the first inning and coasted to victory. John Fogle paced the winners' hitting attack with a pair of singles. The four-run outburst came on a single by Fogle, four walks, a hit batsman and a sacrifice fly.

Lloyd Brill was the losing pitcher as Capon Bridge went down to its second defeat in as many days. The lineups:

Pittsburgh Given Championship Flag

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick presented the world championship flag to the Pittsburgh Pirates during a ceremony before Wednesday night's game with the Chicago Cubs.

Pirate President John Galbreath accepted the flag on behalf of the club. He then turned to Manager Danny Murtaugh, who said "I hope this is one of many."

60 Sport Cars In Trophy Rally

Drivers To Remain In City Overnight

BALTIMORE (AP)—At least 60 cars will compete in the annual Chesapeake Trophy Rally, which begins Saturday, it was announced Wednesday.

Officials of the Motor Sports Club of America, sponsor of the two-day event designed primarily for sports cars, said 60 driver-navigator teams will make the round trip from Baltimore to Cumberland and back.

The trip eastward will come after an overnight stop at the Western Maryland city.

Officials said recent rain and snow storms affecting roads and bridges in the western part of the state may be a factor in the 600-mile endurance run.

The purpose of the gruelling trip through mountainous terrain in Maryland, Virginia and West Virginia is to test driving ability, navigational skill and endurance.

Entrants are expected to remain on course and to complete the trip in a specified time. Finishing early is penalized as well as finishing late.

Thirty awards will be made in Baltimore after the event — said to be the last surviving Alpine-type rally in this country.

Special Bus Service Planned To Race Tracks

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Interstate Commerce Commission Wednesday granted the Gray Line Inc., authority to operate special bus service between points in Montgomery County, Md., Arlington and Fairfax counties, Va., and Charles Town, W. Va., during the racing seasons at Shenandoah Downs and Charles Town Race Course.

The company has operated the service between Charles Town and Falls Church, Va., on a regular basis since late 1959. It obtained temporary authority to serve Arlington and Fairfax counties last August.

The ICC rejected a competing application by Washington, Virginia & Maryland Coach Co., to provide the same service between the race tracks, Falls Church, and points in Arlington and Fairfax counties.

Tech To Sponsor Football Clinic

MONTGOMERY, W. Va. (UPI) —West Virginia Tech will sponsor a football clinic here Saturday for high school coaches in the area.

Besides Tech's coaches, on hand as speaker for the clinic—on the subject of pass defense—will be Jim Carr, a defensive halfback of the professional world champion Philadelphia Eagles. Carr is a former Morris Harvey College star.

City Rivals Launch 23d League Race

Sentinels Hosts, Bobcats On Road, Vikings Seek Tie

Fort Hill High School opens defense of two championships it won last year when it faces the LaSalle High School Explorers in the opening game of the Allegany County High School Baseball League today at Fort Hill Field at 4 o'clock.

The Sentinels and LaSalle will play in the league's new Eastern Division along with Flintstone and Allegany this year while Beall, Mt. Savage, Valley and Bruce are the Western Division nines.

Others Start Friday

Tomorrow the six other teams in the two-division loop will launch their schedules with Allegany at Flintstone, Beall at Mt. Savage and Valley at Bruce.

Fort Hill won the league title last year with a 13-1 record and also captured city honors with a 3-1 mark. The only loss came at the hands of LaSalle as the city teams split their two-game series. Coach John J. "Bobby" Cavanaugh's team will be putting a 12-game winning streak on the line today. The Sentinels won 'em all last season after dropping a 4-3 decision to LaSalle on April 20.

John Price (3-0), Gary Henry (2-0) and Melvin Nines (2-0) are the 1960 Fort Hill pitchers back in harness while Roger Manges (4-1) and Allan Stevenson (2-0) have graduated. Other regulars of the championship team returning are Rich Parsons, Jim Rice, Glenn Shipway, Harry Bosley, Charley Boone and Larry Mckay. McKay was the team's top hitter last season with an average of .351 for 14 games.

Begins 29th Season

Major Cavanaugh begins his 29th year as baseball coach at Cumberland schools. He was at Penn Avenue High four years and this is his 25th as head man at Fort Hill.

Cavanaugh announced last night that Price will be his starting pitcher with Butch Cross receiving his slants. His starting lineup will include Bosley, 1b.; Bill Sheetz, 2b; Rice, ss; Parsons,3b; McKay, of; Shipway, of; Brown, of.

Russ Minnicks and Kenneth Grimes will umpire the contest.

LaSalle's returnees are headed by Mike Long who batted .361 in 12 games for the 1960

Burgess' Uncle Dies In Pittsburgh

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — J. Paul Head, Caroleen, N.C., an uncle of Pittsburgh catcher Smoky Burgess, died here Wednesday shortly after having lunch with the Pirate backstop.

Head arrived here Tuesday to see the Pirate home opener with Chicago and had planned to watch Wednesday night's game with the Cubs. Club officials said Burgess had left his uncle near the Webster Hall Hotel when he was stricken.

Yanks Postponed, Plan Doubleheader

NEW YORK (UPI) — Wednesday's scheduled baseball game between the New York Yankees and Los Angeles Angeles was postponed by rain.

The Yankee office said the clubs would try to make up the game as part of a doubleheader Thursday afternoon. This was the fifth time in little over a week that a New York game has been lost to the weather.

Friend Hurls Pirates To 4-1 Win Over Cubs

World Champs Get Their Series Rings

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—Baseball Commissioner Ford C. Frick presented World Series rings to the Pittsburgh Pirates Wednesday night and they responded by beating the Chicago Cubs, 4-1, behind the three-hit pitching of Bob Friend.

Friend, who has encountered difficulty with the Cubs in the past, squared his lifetime record against them at 18-18 in registering his second victory of the season and going the distance the second time.

The veteran righthander's bid for a shutout was spoiled in the seventh when shortstop Ernie Banks hit a "wrong-field" home run. Banks, the 1960 major league home run leader, sailed his first homer of the season into the upper right field stands.

The only other hits yielded by Friend were singles by Ed Bouchee in the second inning and by Dick Bertell in the fifth. Bob Will drew a walk to lead off the eighth frame but Friend struck out pinch-hitters George Altman and Sam Taylor, then Don Zimmer flied out.

The Pirates got all their 10 hits and four runs off Bob Anderson, Gene Baker beat out a hit in the third inning and was forced at second when Friend attempted a sacrifice. Bill Virdon tripled to center to put the Pirates ahead.

The entire Pittsburgh batting order went to the plate in the sixth inning to produce three runs. Dick Groat led off with a double to extend his hitting streak to all eight games this season. Bob Skinner, Dick Stuart and Roberto Clemente then singled in order for two more runs.

Baker was passed intentionally to fill the bases, but Friend chopped an infield single up the first base line to drive in another run.

Baltimore Colts Hire Young Bell

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Baltimore Colts organization confirmed Wednesday the hiring of Bert Bell Jr., son of the late commissioner of the National Football League.

There was no official announcement, but a Colt spokesman said Bell joined the Colts' ticket office on Monday.

Before coming to Baltimore, he was affiliated with the National Football League office and was in charge of arranging the league's schedule.

Named Golf Pro At Mill Creek

Adolph Popp, a native of Morgantown, W. Va., has been named golf pro at the Mill Creek Country Club on Route 50 near Keyser. He assumed his duties on April 1. He is a son of Mrs. Mary Popp, Morgantown, and presently resides at the home of Mrs. William Smith, Luke.

He was captain of the WVU golf team for two years and participated in the state amateur meet at Greenbrier in 1959. He also was acting coach for the university golf team in his senior year.

Injury Jinx Strikes Big Names In Baseball Early

Snider, Killebrew, Jackson, Malzone, Lee On Sidelines

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK (AP)—The baseball season is only 10 days old but the injury jinx already has sent big names like Duke Snider, Harmon Killebrew and Charley Neal to the sidelines.

Snider was put out of action for a month or so when he was struck by a pitch Monday night and suffered a cracked bone above his right elbow. The fact that Snider was hit by the first pitch of his next at bat after hitting a home run prompted the Los Angeles brass to complain to league headquarters.

Neal, also of the Dodgers, also was put out of action in Monday's game when he aggravated an old knee injury.

Killebrew of the Minnesota Twins pulled a hamstring muscle in his left thigh while running to first base in a game last Saturday.

Don Lee, who figured to be one of the Twins' starting pitchers, suffered a broken finger on his right hand when hit by a line drive in an exhibition game. He still is out of action.

Boston has been struggling along without Frank Malzone at third base. Malzone's right foot was injured before the season opener.

Cleveland has Dick Stigman on the disabled list and Baltimore's Hank Foiles is just coming around after a finger was broken in spring training.

The Dodgers' Ed Roebuck, expected to be the master of their bullpen, came up with a sore arm and had to be placed on the disabled list.

Disaster struck St. Louis in Florida when Larry Jackson, the Cards' 18-game winner, suffered a broken jaw when hit by a piece of Snider's bat in an exhibition. The right-hander hopes to get back into action late this month.

Julian Javier, the Cards' regular second baseman, had to leave Tuesday night's game in Los Angeles after he was stunned and cut in a headlong dive when he was picked off first base.

Practice Scheduled

Barrelville's Old Exports of the Pen Mar Baseball League will drill today and Friday at 5 p.m. and Saturday at 2 o'clock at Barrelville field, officials of the club announced last night.

Helsinki Detective Wins 65th Boston Marathon Race

BOSTON (AP)—Eino Oksanen, a Helsinki detective, charged into the lead a half-mile from the end and won the 65th Boston A.A. marathon Wednesday.

The triumph was a repeat of Oksanen's victory over America's Johnny Kelley here two years ago except that the flying Finn made his bid closer to the end, winning by 125 yards in a thriller.

The 30-year-old Oksanen was clocked in 2:23:29 for what was unofficially listed as the second coldest B.A.A. marathon and the first in which snow flurries dotted the hectic run.

Kelley was timed in 2:23:54.

The 26-mile, 385-yard Patriot's Day classic started from suburban Hopkinton.

Mathias Posts 4th PVC Win

Whips Capon Bridge On Four-Hitter, 7-1

Lowell Mathias hurled four-hit ball to pitch his Mathias High School teammates to a 7-1 triumph over Capon Bridge yesterday in a Potomac Valley Conference baseball game at Mathias.

The victory was the fourth in a row in the PVC for Coach Hoy Dove's tossers who have beaten Circleville twice and Paw Paw.

Mathias jumped on Capon Bridge for four runs in the first inning and coasted to victory. John Fogle paced the winners' hitting attack with a pair of singles. The four-run outburst came on a single by Fogle, four walks, a hit batsman and a sacrifice fly.

Lloyd Brill was the losing pitcher as Capon Bridge went down to its second defeat in as many days. The lineups:

Pittsburgh Given Championship Flag

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick presented the world championship flag to the Pittsburgh Pirates during a ceremony before Wednesday night's game with the Chicago Cubs.

Pirate President John Galbreath accepted the flag on behalf of the club. He then turned to Manager Danny Murtaugh, who said "I hope this is one of many."

Murtaugh and shortstop Dick Groat rode in an open car to the 150-foot flagpole in center field where the championship banner was hoisted.

Player, Palmer To Vie Again In Houston Classic

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Gary Player and Arnold Palmer return to the tournament trail Thursday for an unofficial rematch in the $40,000 Houston Classic.

Palmer is a slight favorite over the South African star despite being edged out by Player in the April 10 Masters.

The starting field for the 72-hole attack on the 7,122-yard, par 35-35—70 Memorial Park course includes 107 pros and 5 amateurs. Included are all the 1961 tournament champions. Also included are Bill Collins, the defending champion, and five other former winners of the classic — Palmer, Mike Souchak, Dave Douglas, Marty Furgol, and Jack Burke Jr.

Goalie Glenn Hall of the Chicago Black Hawks has proved a bulwark against the Detroit Red Wings this season. In a period of eight days he shut them out three times.

Youngest golfer to get a hole-in-one in 1960 was Kenneth Vincent, 8, of Fitchburg, Mass. He aced the 145-yard seventh hole at the Westminster, Mass., Country Club.

Barbara McIntire Wins North-South Tourney Opener

PINEHURST, N.C. (AP) — Defending champion Barbara McIntire; her Curtis Cup teammate Judy Bell; an alternate cup team selection, Barbara Williams, and veteran Mrs. Alex Welsh won their quarterfinal matches Wednesday in the North and South Women's Amateur Golf Tournament.

Miss McIntire, Lake Park, Fla., eliminated Mary Patton Janssen, Charlottesville, Va., 4 and 3.

Miss Williams, Richmond, Calif., turned back Doris Phillips Belleville, Ill., 4 and 2.

Mrs. Welsh, Rockford, Ill., upset Phyllis (Tish) Preuss, Pompano Beach, Fla., 1-up.

Player, Palmer To Vie Again In Houston Classic

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Gary Player and Arnold Palmer return to the tournament trail Thursday for an unofficial rematch in the $40,000 Houston Classic.

Palmer retained 7-2 odds for the $7,000 in top money.

The starting field for the 72-hole attack on the 7,122-yard, par 35-35—70 Memorial Park course includes 107 pros and 5 amateurs. Included are all the 1961 tournament champions. Also included are Bill Collins, the defending champion, and five other former winners of the classic — Palmer, Mike Souchak, Dave Douglas, Marty Furgol, and Jack Burke Jr.

Goalie Glenn Hall of the Chicago Black Hawks has proved a bulwark against the Detroit Red Wings this season. In a period of eight days he shut them out three times.

Youngest golfer to get a hole-in-one in 1960 was Kenneth Vincent, 8, of Fitchburg, Mass. He aced the 145-yard seventh hole at the Westminster, Mass., Country Club.

Senators Spoil Chicago Home Opener, 7-2

Kutyna Hurls, Bats Nats To Victory

CHICAGO (AP)—Relief pitcher Marty Kutyna singled across two big Washington runs and handcuffed Chicago for six innings to ruin the White Sox' home opener 7-2 Wednesday.

Kutyna, acquired by the new Senators from Kansas City last December, made an impressive 1961 debut after relieving starter Ed Hobaugh in the third.

The loser was starter Billy Pierce, who yielded to a pinch hitter in the fourth, and was followed by Russ Kemmerer and Frank Baumann.

Pierce, who had a 14-7 record last season, was ineffective in his first start ofthe year. A walk, Pierce's throwing error, and singles by Gene Woodling and Harry Bright gave Washington two runs in the first inning.

The Sox scored a run in the first, mainly on Hobaugh's wildness. The only hit of the inning was a scratch blow by Nellie Fox, but three walks, a wild pitch and a hit batsman produced the run.

Hobaugh was chased in the bottom of the third. The Sox scored one run on a scratch single, a wild pitch, a walk and J. C. Martin's single.

U.S. Cage Teams Await Permission For Soviet Visit

NEW YORK (AP)—Two Amateur Athletic Union basketball teams figuratively still were all dressed up with no place to go Wednesday as they awaited the green light for a three-week exhibition tour of Russia.

The athletes were scheduled to leave Tuesday but the USSR Basketball Federation suggested a delay in view of an outbreak of anti-American disturbances in Moscow.

Jim Simms, secretary-treasurer of the AAU, said Wednesday nothing further has been heard from the Russian federation, but he was hopeful that clearance would be received within the next two or three days.

Ridgeley Legion Cops YMCA Playoff, 50-33

The Ridgeley Legion captured the YMCA Jr.-Sr. League playoff last night, defeating the Maccabees, 50-33, to earn tickets to the Baltimore Orioles baseball game on Saturday night.

In ceremonies at the YMCA the Celanese team of the Senior League won the sportsmanship trophy donated by Stein's Funeral Home. Phil Dayton, L&Y Plumbing won the trophy for scoring the most points while teammate Arley Dolly received a companion award for scoring the least number of points during the season.

Rain, Cold Wrecks WVIC Sports Card

Secretary George Springer noted Wednesday that Concord College is the only league member that has been able to get even a handful of its games in. The Lions have a 5-1 record, but have yet to play a conference game.

Keeneland Double Pays $5,796 For $2

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — The daily double combination of Dayeleo and Carla Gal returned $5,796.40 for a $2 ticket Wednesday at Keeneland.

The all-time record for the double was a payoff of $12,724.80 at Caliente, Mexico, July 4, 1954.

Tigers Rally Nips Indians

Boros' Double Wins Game In 8th, 5-2

CLEVELAND (AP)—A three-run double by Steve Boros in the eighth inning off reliever Frank Funk brought the Detroit Tigers from behind to a 5-2 victory over Cleveland Wednesday in the Indians' home opener.

Three bases on balls—the last intentional—set the stage for Boros blow that chilled the hopes of 28,216 paid customers shivering in 50-degree cold.

To add to the crowd's collective and Funk's individual pain, Mike Roarke then singled off Funk's leg sending Boros to third from where he scored the final Detroit run on Chuck Cottier's sacrifice.

The Tigers' Jim Bunning gave only two hits in the first six innings before leaving for a pinch hitter. But these hits were to the first two batters Bunning faced—John Temple, who bunted the first pitch safely, and Tito Francona, who doubled Temple home.

There followed an unearned Cleveland run on a pair of Tiger errors. Bunning dropped a throw to first and catcher Dick Brown threw wild to second on Willie Kirkland's steal as Francona scored.

Jackets Defeat Franklin, 9-6, With 3 In 8th

Moorefield High's Yellowjackets overcame a 6-2 deficit and scored three runs in the eighth inning yesterday to defeat Franklin High's Panthers, 9-6, in a Potomac Valley Conference baseball game at Franklin.

Moorefield won its third game in four starts by loading the bases in the eighth and scoring three runs on singles by Doug Yankey and Mathias.

Franklin's six-run outburst in the third was highlighted by Dunkle's triple with the bases loaded. Dunkle had three hits for the losers and David Vance and Yankey each obtained three bingles for Moorefield. The lineups:

Golfer Makes Ace By Using Putter

SUMTER, S.C. (AP)—Paul Alderman teed off on the 130-yard No. 5 hole with a putter Wednesday.

Liston Buys His Contract From Barone

Dares Patterson To Title Fight

ALLENTOWN, Pa. (AP)—Sonny Liston bought his contract Wednesday from Manager Joseph (Pep) Barone, then dared heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson to get in the ring with him.

Liston agreed to pay Barone $75,000 out of his earnings over the next two years — a drop in the bucket to what Sonny, the No. 1 heavyweight contender, could expect from a title shot with Patterson.

Patterson consistently has refused to meet Liston, giving as his reason the persons associated with the Philadelphia bomber. The champion referred to statements by Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn) that Barone was only a front for Franky Carbo and Blinky Palermo, alleged underworld boxing figures.

Liston said of Patterson, "I don't see how he'll be able to walk down the street now, unless he gives me a fight."

In New York, Cus d'Amato, Patterson's manager, said he was not impressed by the news.

"Whatever plans Patterson may have, already have been made," said D'Amato. "He (Liston) is not included in these plans."

Al Bolan, general manager of Championship Sports, Inc., a promotional corporation, said his brother, Tom, president of the corporation, had been in touch with Patterson.

"Patterson told Tom," said Al, "that he has said all along he was anxious to fight Liston but that he was on record that it would be up to Liston to clean house and when he has done this convincingly he can talk about fighting him.

"Patterson indicated that inasmuch as Liston had mentioned satisfying the Kefauver committee, which brought this matter to a head, that that would seem to be Liston's first step."

Barone has denied any link with Carbo or Palermo and said Patterson was using them as an excuse because he was afraid of Liston.

Reds Defeat Giants, 4-2

Rookie Ken Hunt Wins Over Sanford

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Cincinnati rallied for a pair of ninth inning runs Wednesday to beat the San Francisco Giants 4-2 and retain first place in the National League.

Hunt allowed only five singles before being taken out for a pinch hitter in the ninth. Jim Brosnan finished.

Catcher Ed Bailey singled to start the ninth and Manager Fred Hutchinson sent Claude Osteen in to run for him.

Fans Plan Welcome For Twins

Breakfast, Parade Also On Schedule

MINNEAPOLIS St. Paul (UPI) — Thousands of Minnesota fans prepared to turn out Wednesday night to stage a rousing homecoming for their new major league baseball team, the Minnesota Twins.

The Twins, off to a rousing start on an eastern road trip, play the first game in their new home here Friday, with the new Washington Senators providing the opposition.

No formal ceremonies were planned at the airport because of the latness of the arrival. But the fans were expected to make the event a noisy, if not formal, affair.

Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick also has been invited to attend.

Gov. Elmer Andersen, who will attend the luncheon, got the welcome ball rolling Wednesday. The governor invited all twins (of the human variety) in the area to a reception at his office.

Among those present were the two sets of twins who were chosen as Minnesota's batboys and ballboys, Richard and Peter King, Rosemount, Minn., and Jerry and James Dempster, St. Louis Park, Minn.

Senators Spoil Chicago Home Opener, 7-2

Kutyna Hurls, Bats Nats To Victory

CHICAGO (AP)—Relief pitcher Marty Kutyna singled across two big Washington runs and handcuffed Chicago for six innings to ruin the White Sox' home opener 7-2 Wednesday.

Kutyna, acquired by the new Senators from Kansas City last December, made an impressive 1961 debut after relieving starter Ed Hobaugh in the third.

The loser was starter Billy Pierce, who yielded to a pinch hitter in the fourth, and was followed by Russ Kemmerer and Frank Baumann.

Kutyna yielded only four hits in his fine relief job to get the victory.

His big single came with two out in the fourth after a walk and Willie Tasby's two-bagger to give the Senators a 4-2 lead.

Pierce, who had a 14-7 record last season, was ineffective in his first start ofthe year. A walk, Pierce's throwing error, and singles by Gene Woodling and Harry Bright gave Washington two runs in the first inning.

The Sox scored a run in the first, mainly on Hobaugh's wildness. The only hit of the inning was a scratch blow by Nellie Fox, but three walks, a wild pitch and a hit batsman produced the run.

Hobaugh was chased in the bottom of the third. The Sox scored one run on a scratch single, a wild pitch, a walk and J. C. Martin's single.

U.S. Cage Teams Await Permission For Soviet Visit

NEW YORK (AP)—Two Amateur Athletic Union basketball teams figuratively still were all dressed up with no place to go Wednesday as they awaited the green light for a three-week exhibition tour of Russia.

The athletes were scheduled to leave Tuesday but the USSR Basketball Federation suggested a delay in view of an outbreak of anti-American disturbances in Moscow.

Jim Simms, secretary-treasurer of the AAU, said Wednesday nothing further has been heard from the Russian federation, but he was hopeful that clearance would be received within the next two or three days.

Ridgeley Legion Cops YMCA Playoff, 50-33

The Ridgeley Legion captured the YMCA Jr.-Sr. League playoff last night, defeating the Maccabees, 50-33, to earn tickets to the Baltimore Orioles baseball game on Saturday night.

In ceremonies at the YMCA the Celanese team of the Senior League won the sportsmanship trophy donated by Stein's Funeral Home. Phil Dayton, L&Y Plumbing won the trophy for scoring the most points while teammate Arley Dolly received a companion award for scoring the least number of points during the season.

Rain, Cold Wrecks WVIC Sports Card

BECKLEY, W. Va. (UPI)—The recent cold, wet weather has played havoc with West Virginia Conference spring sports schedules.

Secretary George Springer noted Wednesday that Concord College is the only league member that has been able to get even a handful of its games in. The Lions have a 5-1 record, but have yet to play a conference game.

Fairmont is defending conference champion but has been one of the hardest-hit by the weather.

Keeneland Double Pays $5,796 For $2

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — The daily double combination of Daveleo and Carla Gal returned $5,796.40 for a $2 ticket Wednesday at Keeneland.

The all-time record for the double was a payoff of $12,724.80 at Caliente, Mexico, July 4, 1954.

Tigers Rally Nips Indians

Boros' Double Wins Game In 8th, 5-2

CLEVELAND (AP)—A three-run double by Steve Boros in the eighth inning off reliever Frank Funk brought the Detroit Tigers from behind to a 5-2 victory over Cleveland Wednesday in the Indians' home opener.

Three bases on balls—the last intentional—set the stage for Boros blow that chilled the hopes of 28,216 paid customers shivering in 50-degree cold.

To add to the crowd's collective and Funk's individual pain, Mike Roarke then singled off Funk's leg sending Boros to third from where he scored the final Detroit run on Chuck Cottier's sacrifice.

The Tigers' Jim Bunning gave only two hits in the first six innings before leaving for a pinch hitter. But these hits were to the first two batters Bunning faced—John Temple, who bunted the first pitch safely, and Tito Francona, who doubled Temple home.

There followed an unearned Cleveland run on a pair of Tiger errors. Bunning dropped a throw to first and catcher Dick Brown threw wild to second on Willie Kirkland's steal as Francona scored.

Jackets Defeat Franklin, 9-6, With 3 In 8th

Moorefield High's Yellowjackets overcame a 6-2 deficit and scored three runs in the eighth inning yesterday to defeat Franklin High's Panthers, 9-6, in a Potomac Valley Conference baseball game at Franklin.

Johnny Mathias, Jackets relief hurler pitched shutout ball the final four innings to receive credit for the triumph, allowing three hits and whiffing three.

Moorefield won its third game in four starts by loading the bases in the eighth and scoring three runs on singles by Doug Yankey and Mathias.

Franklin's six-run outburst in the third was highlighted by Dunkle's triple with the bases loaded. Dunkle had three hits for the losers and David Vance and Yankey each obtained three bingles for Moorefield. The lineups:

Golfer Makes Ace By Using Putter

SUMTER, S.C. (AP)—Paul Alderman teed off on the 130-yard No. 5 hole with a putter Wednesday.

The ball traveled down the fairway, bounced into a sand trap, rolled out onto the green, and dropped into the hole.

Liston Buys His Contract From Barone

Dares Patterson To Title Fight

ALLENTOWN, Pa. (AP)—Sonny Liston bought his contract Wednesday from Manager Joseph (Pep) Barone, then dared heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson to get in the ring with him.

Liston agreed to pay Barone $75,000 out of his earnings over the next two years — a drop in the bucket to what Sonny, the No. 1 heavyweight contender, could expect from a title shot with Patterson.

Patterson consistently has refused to meet Liston, giving as his reason the persons associated with the Philadelphia bomber. The champion referred to statements by Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn) that Barone was only a front for Franky Carbo and Blinky Palermo, alleged underworld boxing figures.

Liston said of Patterson, "I don't see how he'll be able to walk down the street now, unless he gives me a fight."

In New York, Cus d'Amato, Patterson's manager, said he was not impressed by the news.

"Whatever plans Patterson may have, already have been made," said D'Amato. "He (Liston) is not included in these plans."

Al Bolan, general manager of Championship Sports, Inc., a promotional corporation, said his brother, Tom, president of the corporation, had been in touch with Patterson.

"Patterson told Tom," said Al, "that he has said all along he was anxious to fight Liston but that he was on record that it would be up to Liston to clean house and when he has done this convincingly he can talk about fighting him.

"Patterson indicated that inasmuch as Liston had mentioned satisfying the Kefauver committee, which brought this matter to a head, that that would seem to be Liston's first step."

Barone has denied any link with Carbo or Palermo and said Patterson was using them as an excuse because he was afraid of Liston.

Reds Defeat Giants, 4-2

Rookie Ken Hunt Wins Over Sanford

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Cincinnati rallied for a pair of ninth inning runs Wednesday to beat the San Francisco Giants 4-2 and retain first place in the National League.

Rookie right-hander Ken Hunt worked eight innings and was the winner in his first major league start. Veteran Jack Sanford absorbed the loss.

Hunt allowed only five singles before being taken out for a pinch hitter in the ninth. Jim Brosnan finished.

Catcher Ed Bailey singled to start the ninth and Manager Fred Hutchinson sent Claude Osteen in to run for him.

Vada Pinson was walked intentionally, loading the bases. The second run scored as Frank Robinson hit into a force play.

RECEIVES KELLY AWARD—Jim Courrier, outstanding athlete at Keyser High School, received the 16th annual J. Edward Kelley Memorial Award at ceremonies yesterday morning at the school. Winning over runners-up Scott Bosley and Terry Stanhagen, Courrier here accepts the engraved watch from assistant football coach Joseph Stanislawczyk as Philip Graziani, president of the West Virginia Moose Association and assistant attorney general of West Virginia, looks on. Mr. Graziani was the principal speaker at yesterday's exercises. Courrier received a telegram of congratulations from last year's winner, Gary Keedy, who is in Florida for spring training with professional baseball teams. The award program was sponsored by Loyal Order of Moose Lodge No. 662, of Keyser and members of the selection committee were Frank A. Calemine, Fred Clark, Ernest Courrier, Estel Miers, John Staggers and Mr. Stanislawczyk. James Goldsworthy, principal, introduced the guest speaker.

team that won eight and lost four.

George Geatz At Helm

George W. Geatz, who has coached basketball at LaSalle for the last seven years, returns as baseball mentor of the Explorers after an absence of four years, succeeding Norman Sell, who has tutored diamond teams four seasons. Geatz was the baseball boss there in 1954, 1955 and 1956.

This is the twent.-third season for the county league which had its inception in 1939.

In a Potomac Valley Conference game scheduled for today Petersburg High's Vikings will host Bayard. Petersburg is 2-0 and can tie Mathias for first place in the 14-school circuit by winning today's contest.

Teachers Hit Road

Frostburg State Teachers College, victorious in the opener over Hagerstown Junior College, is slated to invade Pennsylvania today to play Shippensburg State Teachers College.

Idled by rain, snow and cold weather, Hyndman High School's Hornets will make another attempt to open their Bedford County League season with Northern Bedford High School at Hopewell.

Berkeley Springs (0-2) will do battle with the Martinsburg High Bulldogs at Martinsburg.

Fans Plan Welcome For Twins

Breakfast, Parade Also On Schedule

MINNEAPOLIS St. Paul (UPI) — Thousands of Minnesota fans prepared to turn out Wednesday night to stage a rousing homecoming for their new major league baseball team, the Minnesota Twins.

The Twins, off to a rousing start on an eastern road trip, play the first game in their new home here Friday, with the new Washington Senators providing the opposition.

No formal ceremonies were planned at the airport because of the latness of the arrival. But the fans were expected to make the event a noisy, if not formal, affair.

The big welcome begins at 9 a.m. Thursday with a public breakfast sponsored by the St. Paul area Chamber of Commerce.

American League President Joe Cronin will be featured speaker at the breakfast and at a luncheon which follows in Minneapolis.

Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick also has been invited to attend.

Following the breakfast, the Twins will parade through the streets of St. Paul and Minneapolis.

Gov. Elmer Andersen, who will attend the luncheon, got the welcome ball rolling Wednesday. The governor invited all twins (of the human variety) in the area to a reception at his office.

Among those present were the two sets of twins who were chosen as Minnesota's batboys and ballboys, Richard and Peter King, Rosemount, Minn., and Jerry and James Dempster, St. Louis Park, Minn.

Market Finishes Lower Despite Afternoon Rally

NEW YORK (UPI) — Stocks took it on the chin Wednesday for the second consecutive day but staged a mild rally in the afternoon with prices rising at the closing bell.

Blue chip industrials again numbered among the heaviest lowers but some rallied off the floor along with a good number of electronics and national defense issues, many of which finished higher.

Volume trailed Wednesday for most of the session, picking up later when stocks were rising to total 4,870,000 shares, up 40,000.

The market narrowed considerably to 1,282 stocks traded from 1,327 the day before and included 678 losers against 382 advances. The margin of new highs over new lows also diminished 68 against 18.

It was reported after the close that short interest on the "big board" dropped to the lowest level since Sept. 15, 1960. To technicians this would mean a further weakness in the list because short interest represents latent demand from short sellers that could check a decline or accentuate an advance.

Market Finishes Lower Despite Afternoon Rally

NEW YORK (UPI) — Stocks took it on the chin Wednesday for the second consecutive day but staged a mild rally in the afternoon with prices rising at the closing bell.

Blue chip industrials again numbered among the heaviest lowers but some rallied off the floor along with a good number of electronics and national defense issues, many of which finished higher.

Volume trailed Wednesday for most of the session, picking up later when stocks were rising to total 4,870,000 shares, up 40,000.

The Dow-Jones industrial average dropped 4.39 to 686.21 after holding firm around the 685 level as predicted by some technicians.

Railroad stocks lost 0.89 at 141.19 in the D-J average and utilities dropped a minor 0.01 to 111.94.

The market narrowed considerably to 1,282 stocks traded from 1,327 the day before and included 678 losers against 382 advances. The margin of new highs over new lows also diminished 68 against 18.

It was reported after the close that short interest on the "big board" dropped to the lowest level since Sept. 15, 1960. To technicians this would mean a further weakness in the list because short interest represents latent demand from short sellers that could check a decline or accentuate an advance.

"Emily! You've lost faith in your reducing pills again . . ."

$51 Million Cost

In its report, the Corps of Engineers estimates that the average annual cost of flood damage in the North Branch area above Cumberland will be about $1,278,000 for the next 50 years. The North Branch dam could reduce this flood damage loss by 42 per cent, the engineers believe.

The report states that the Savage River reservoir assures a standard minimum flow on the Potomac River at Luke of 93 cubic feet per second. To meet the area needs by the year 2010, a minimum flow of 434 cubic feet per second will be necessary. About 35 cubic feet of this average flow will be needed for municipal water supplies.

The three proposed dams would be sufficient to fulfill the minimum flow requirements. The North Branch dam alone would raise the minimum flow to 305 cubic feet per second.

As proposed by the Corps of Engineers, the North Branch dam would create a lake about seven miles long or covering more than 1,000 acres. The total storage capacity of this dam has been estimated at 95,000 acre feet.

The North Branch study is only the first phase of the overall study of the entire Potomac River Basin, which was authorized by Congress in 1956 and is expected to be completed by July 1962.

In preparing its recommendations, the Corps of Engineers held four hearings in communities adjacent to the North Branch of the Potomac River. These hearings on April 10 and 11, 1956, were held in the West Virginia communities of Bayard and Keyser and the Maryland towns of Kitzmiller and Westernport.

The four U.S. senators and two congressmen actively interested in this North Branch program expect to have a joint meeting in the near future to map their course of action. This meeting will bring together three Maryland Republicans and three West Virginia Democrats interested in the projects.

THE LITTLE WOMAN

"You don't know HER or you'd never make an offer like that."

"Emily! You've lost faith in your reducing pills again . . ."

$51 Million Cost

should be borne by local interests, the Corps of Engineers says. This money could be borrowed from federal funds.

In its report, the Corps of Engineers estimates that the average annual cost of flood damage in the North Branch area above Cumberland will be about $1,278,000 for the next 50 years. The North Branch dam could reduce this flood damage loss by 42 per cent, the engineers believe.

The report states that the Savage River reservoir assures a standard minimum flow on the Potomac River at Luke of 93 cubic feet per second. To meet the area needs by the year 2010, a minimum flow of 434 cubic feet per second will be necessary. About 35 cubic feet of this average flow will be needed for municipal water supplies.

The three proposed dams would be sufficient to fulfill the minimum flow requirements. The North Branch dam alone would raise the minimum flow to 305 cubic feet per second.

As proposed by the Corps of Engineers, the North Branch dam would create a lake about seven miles long or covering more than 1,000 acres. The total storage capacity of this dam has been estimated at 95,000 acre feet.

The North Branch study is only the first phase of the overall study of the entire Potomac River Basin, which was authorized by Congress in 1956 and is expected to be completed by July 1962.

In preparing its recommendations, the Corps of Engineers held four hearings in communities adjacent to the North Branch of the Potomac River. These hearings on April 10 and 11, 1956, were held in the West Virginia communities of Bayard and Keyser and the Maryland towns of Kitzmiller and Westernport.

The four U.S. senators and two congressmen actively interested in this North Branch program expect to have a joint meeting in the near future to map their course of action. This meeting will bring together three Maryland Republicans and three West Virginia Democrats interested in the projects.

$51 Million Cost Set On Big Dam

Beall and Staggers Get Report

A price tag of nearly $51,000,000 has been placed on the proposed dam on the North Branch of the Potomac River above Bloomington by the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers, U. S. Senator J. Glenn Beall of Maryland reported yesterday.

Details concerning the proposed North Branch dam about two miles above the river's confluence with the Savage River were unfolded yesterday by Col. John U. Allen, district engineer of the Corps of Engineers, at a meeting in Washington with Senator Beall and Rep. Harley O. Staggers of West Virginia's Second District and representatives of Senators John Marshall Butler of Maryland, Jennings Randolph and Robert C. Byrd, both of West Virginia, and Rep. Charles McC. Mathias Jr. of Maryland's Sixth Congressional District.

The Corps of Engineers' detailed report on its five-year study of the North Branch of the Potomac River will now be forwarded to the Board of Engineers for Rivers and Harbors, which will meet in Washington next Tuesday and Wednesday.

Solve Problem

In its report, Senator Beall said, the Corps of Engineers recommends the dam above Bloomington as sufficient to solve the flood problems, water supply, water quality control, recreation and fish and wildlife needs of the North Branch of the Potomac above Cumberland for the next 30 years.

The North Branch report also recommends a second Savage River dam and one on the Stony River in Grant County, W. Va., as ultimately necessary to meet the needs of the area. They are not expected to be needed until 30 years hence.

This multiple - purpose North Branch reservoir above Bloomington, which is recommended for construction as soon as possible, will supply flood control, water supply, pollution abatement and recreation needs of the area at an estimated cost of $50,965,000. Operation, maintenance and replacement will cost another $199,000 a year.

One of the problems presented by the water needs' report is its conclusion that most of the cost of the North Branch dam would be borne by local interests, including West Virginia, District of Columbia and Virginia as well as Maryland.

$37,962,000 Local Cost

The Corps of Engineers report figures that 75 per cent of the cost of construction of the North Branch dam should be borne by the local interests. That would amount to $37,962,000 to provide water supply and water quality control needs of the North Branch area above Cumberland. Local governments also should provide 58 per cent or $105,000 of the annual cost of operation and maintenance of the reservoir. In addition, another $17,000 or 89 per cent of the total replacement cost

Judge Cobey Outlines Work At Patuxent

Tells Agency Group Of Model Institute

Maryland is the only state in the Union that has recognized responsibility for establishing an institution for the rehabilitation of mentally defective delinquents, Associate Judge W. Earle Cobey told the Social Workers Luncheon Group yesterday at their monthly meeting in the Fort Cumberland Hotel.

Judge Cobey described the establishment of Patuxent Institution as one of the most forward steps taken anywhere to deal at a state level, with the problem of mental illness.

Introduced by Magistrate F. Allan Weatherholt, the jurist said that all the courts and many social agencies have frequent contact with citizens who have mental problems. These people are not always criminals and need treatment or psychiatric help. He complimented the lower courts and the various agencies for their recently adopted policy of referral of various types of cases to the agency best qualified to provide assistance.

The "Gray" Area

Judge Cobey said that Maryland, with the establishment of Patuxent, clearly recognizes the difference between sane and insane people. There actually is a "gray" area, where the element of defective delinquency seems to fall, and it is in this area where the most rehabilitation can be accomplished.

He outlined the intricate process by which commitments are possible at Patuxent, and explained that the courts in Baltimore City and most of the counties are making good use of the program. Because of screening by the courts and others who are responsible, he said, this is the only state institution that is not overcrowded. This is a good situation, he declared, because the staff is thus enabled to do a better job than if the place were crowded to the limit. The institution is planned to accommodate 300 patients and offers an educational, industrial and vocational program in addition to a program of personalized attention from psychiatrists, sociologists and others highly trained in this field.

The average population since 1958 has been 271, he pointed out.

The institution was established in 1955 and fully completed in 1959, after a series of revelations by a Baltimore newspaper in 1949 caused the General Assembly to establish the Department of Mental Hygiene and gave it full supervision over all matters pertaining to the custody, care and treatment of persons of unsound mind.

A Change In Approach

Patuxent represents a change in concept and is fully regarded as a treatment center rather than a detention area. An experiment, he declared, which seems to be getting excellent results and gives the courts and social agencies proper tools with which to work, Patuxent will doubtless become a model for other states to follow.

The institution is designed with a full program of psychiatric

Liquor Board Stiffens Rules On Complaints

Anonymous Calls Will Be Rejected

The Allegany County Board of Alcoholic Beverages License Commissioners served notice yesterday that it will refuse to accept anonymous complaints of alleged liquor law violations.

The liquor board stressed yesterday that far too many unfounded complaints have been submitted by persons who refuse to divulge their names.

It was emphasized that the identity of the complainants will be held in confidence but their names must be made known to the liquor board.

Howard Vandegrift, who has been a Democratic member of the board for the pas six years, attended his final meeting yesterday. Governor J. Millard Tawes has designated Milton Gerson, local attorney and a Democrat, to succeed Mr. Vandegrift.

Edward J. Ryan, Frostburg and Cumberland attorney, is the board chairman. He also is a Democrat. The other member is Melvin Sloan, Lonaconing Republican.

All but one of the applications for new licenses for the year starting May 1 were approved by the board yesterday. Mrs. Shirley Nolan, board clerk, said they will be ready for distribution Monday at 9 a. m. She will be in the office on the second floor of the Court House from 9 a. m. until 4 p. m. Monday through Friday next week.

Ridgedale Reservoir Work Slated

Water Department workers plan to clean the Ridgedale Reservoir Friday, according to Commissioner G. Ray Light.

The work of draining, scrubbing, and hosing down nd sterilizing the 7½ million gallon reservoir will be done by crews headed by Ray Nixon, foreman at the Lake Gordon filter plant.

The City Engineering Department will inspect the reservoir during the work to see if any repairs are needed.

Phone Rates Are Lowered

Telephone subscribers in Westernport also will be given a 15-cent decrease in their basic monthly service bills as a result of the recent action by the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company.

Businessmen in the Westernport section will be granted a 90-cent reduction in their monthly basic service bills, the same decrease received in the Cumberland exchange.

The decrease in the monthly bills came as a result of rate schedule changes by the C&P Company.

Other exchanges in the Cumberland area will be given a slight increase in their monthly service bills.

Contest Slated Friday

A roller skating contest will be held Friday at 10:45 p. m. at the Moon Glow Skating Rink, Bedford Road.

Up to 25 couples, many of them from the Bedford and Johnstown area, are expected to join in the inner rink competition sponsored by the Moon Glow Rollaway Club.

Mapping the plans are John J. McMullen Jr., Frederick J. Hill and Dale Merritt, seated, and Kenneth Kirchgessner, Samuel Smith, Laurance Hall and Louis Spoerl. Other members of the committee are Thomas F. Conlon Jr., Bruce Anderson and Robert Lacko. The parade will be part of the Sports Carnival sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce.

Gilchrist Heads Potomac Valley Friends Aware

Attorney Succeeds Victor E. Kalbaugh

C. William Gilchrist, local attorney, last night was elected president of Potomac Valley Friends Aware of Handicapped Children, Inc., a coordinating group set up a year ago to help the three existing Friends Aware chapters in Cumberland, Frostburg and Westernport.

Mr. Gilchrist, who will serve for one year, succeeds Victor E. Kalbaugh of Westernport, who has headed the Potomac Valley group since its inception.

Vernon E. Staggers, principal of Piedmont High School, was elected vice president; Mrs. John J. Long, secretary, and Alvin H. Wilson, treasurer.

Twelve directors were elected to serve for two years. They are Mrs. Paul Lueck, Mrs. Virginia Schilling, Charles Statler, Marcus Naughton, Walter Capel and Mrs. Patrick Purbaugh, representing the parents' groups; Mrs. George Henderson, Mrs. Myron Lehr, Dr. Robert Brodell, William Cook, Mr. Staggers and Bernard E. Sitter.

Mrs. Leland Ransom was elected a director for one year to fill a vacancy created by the resignation of Wilbur Johnson.

Holdover directors, who still have another year to serve, are Mrs. Long, Mrs. George Lilly, Mr. Kalbaugh, Kenneth Bantz, Mrs. Eugene Valentine, Charles Eberly, Sen. Charles M. See, John Cobun, Dr. H. W. Eliason, Mr. Gilchrist and Mr. Wilson.

The Potomac Valley organization also voted last night to change the date of its annual corporation meeting from the third Thursday in March to the fourth Wednesday in January.

Local Sailplane Pilot Stays Aloft Five Hours

Richard L. Aldstadt, of 713 Louisiana Avenue, yesterday stayed aloft in a sailplane for over five hours and reached an altitude of 5,200 feet to complete two of the requirements toward achieving an award by the Soaring Society of America.

Mr. Aldstadt, who is president of the Cumberland Collection Agency, began his flight at 1:10 p. m. in a Leister-Kauffman sailplane from the local airport and landed at 6:13 p. m.

The local sailplane pilot was towed to altitude of 3,000 by E. Randall Hostetler, co-pilot of the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company plane, and was released over Knobley Mountain.

In order to qualify for the Silver "C" Award which is given by the Soaring Society of America, Mr. Aldstadt now must go a distance of 32 miles in a sailplane.

Official observer for the flight yesterday was William C. Holbrook, chief pilot for the Kelly-Springfield Company.

The Leister-Kauffman sailplane is owned jointly by Mr. Aldstadt, Mr. Holbrook, Dr. Robert K. Poling and George Nash, all members of the Cumberland Flying Association.

Mr. Aldstadt served as a fighter pilot during both World War II and the Korean War.

Retail Unit To Join Parking Association

The Retail Merchants Association of the Chamber of Commerce is joining the National Parking Association.

Advantages, officials said, include the association's magazine which keeps members abreast of the latest parking developments.

The services of the unit's executive director, who is a recognized parking authority, are also available to members in connection with local parking studies.

Amcelle Gets Safety Award

The National Safety Council has announced the Amcelle plant of the Celanese Fibers Company has received an award of merit for its excellent safety record.

The award is presented only when a company's record satisfies rigid requirements set up in the Safety Council's award plan for recognizing good industrial safety records.

Howard Pyle, president of the National Safety Council, in a letter of congratulations to Harry A Johnson, safety supervisor at the Amcelle plant, explained that the local plant qualified for the award because of its injury-free period of 1,102,357 man-hours from November 21, 1960, to February 23.

Gaming Trial Set Friday

Richard K. Fox, rear of 110 Utah Avenue, will be given a hearing tomorrow afternoon in Trial Magistrate Court on two gaming charges.

Fox was given a hearing April 7 and was released on $1,000 bond to await the hearing which is scheduled tomorrow at 2 p. m. before Magistrate Paul W. Barnett.

Two warrants charging Fox with the gaming violations on March 25 and March 28 at 162 Baltimore Street were obtained several weeks ago by Donald W. Mason, assistant state's attorney.

Industrial Exhibits Set Up For Conclave

The Cumberland Chamber of Commerce yesterday set up its Cumberland area industrial exhibit at the Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club, site of the American Association of University Women convention here this weekend.

Products manufactured at major industrial plants are featured.

Entering exhibits were the Celanese Fibers Company, Kelly-Springfield Tire Company, West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company, Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company, Allegany Instrument Company, National Jet Company, Cumberland Glass Company and the Queen City and Cumberland brewing companies.

Street Repair Projects Are Progressing

Road To Plant To Be Surfaced

Workers graded off about eight inches of the worn out thoroughfare and today will complete applying a base of airport shale. The area will be blacktopped when the base is packed down.

Holes on Wempe Drive, Roberts Street and an alley along the C & O Canal between Potomac and Offutt streets and an alley behind the B & O YMCA were filled with crusher run materials.

Board Of Health Takes Action On Dumping

The Allegany County Health Department has received numerous complaints from citizens along Georges Creek about a number of property owners who are throwing garbage and trash in the creek and along side of the state and county roads in the area.

Allegany County Commissioners, as Board of Health, have requested the health department to take appropriate action to have the condition corrected as soon as possible. All citizens of the area have been requested to have their refuse collected by the proper agents or to take their trash and garbage to the nearest approved and licensed dumps.

The Board of Health said violators will be arrested and prosecuted in accordance with the law with the minimum fine upon convictions being $50.

Graduate Study Plan Proposed For Teachers

Master's Degree May Be Required

By GEORGE BOWEN

BALTIMORE (AP) — All Maryland school teachers in the 23 counties ultimately would have to earn a master's degree, or its equivalent, to hold regular certificates under a plan considered Wednesday by the State Board of Education.

The State board approved in general the first overall revamping of the teacher certification system since it was inaugurated in 1922. It planned to give final approval in detail at its May 31 meeting.

The county teachers would have to hold a master's degree, or its equivalent in a fifth year of college study, after working 10 years.

Plan Three Types

Exempted from the additional credit requirements that would go into effect July 1, 1961 would be teachers who have 30 years of service or are 60 years old.

Three major types of certificates, standard professional, advanced professional and vocational, would be issued.

The standard would be for the first four years and renewable for six if the holder passed two courses of additional college study.

After the first renewal, those with master degrees would receive an advanced certificate for six years. They would be renewable for 10 years during which time local school superintendents or school boards could set up additional requirements to qualify.

If teachers did not meet the additional State study requirements, they could be issued a provisional certificate subject to yearly renewal.

The provisional certificates will replace emergency certificates now given some teachers who do not meet all requirements, including lack of a college degree of any kind.

May Broaden Scope

The standard teacher certificate would be given those with a bachelor's degree.

At present, teachers must have included study courses specified by the State to receive a certificate. The proposed changes also would grant them to graduates of colleges belonging to certain accredited councils.

However, the board of education also is considering changing the scope of required undergraduate courses. It would broaden the study of so-called liberal arts subjects for those wanting to teach in the elementary grades and increase the amount for prospective secondary grade teachers.

The recommended changes in certification were drawn up by a committee of school superintendents, Wilburn Hoopengartner of Caroline, William Brish of Washington and Maurice Dunkle of Calvert, at the request of the State board.

175 To Attend Study Session

About 175 participants in the parent-child study program in Allegany County are planning to attend a general meeting next Wednesday at the Cresaptown School, according to Homer S. Higgins, supervisor of pupil personnel in the county schools.

Dr. John Kurtz, child study consultant from the University of Maryland, will be the principal speaker at the session, which will begin at 10 a.m. and end at 2 p.m. There will be luncheon at the school from 11:45 a.m. until 12:15 p.m.

Today is the last day that Mr. Higgins' office will accept reservations.

This meeting is planned as a culminating activity and summary of this year's parent-child study program. It is designed also as a stimulus and encouragement to people to participate in the 1961-62 school year program.

Telecast Will Emphasize River Survey

A number of Tri-State area leaders will participate in a television survey of the North Branch of the Potomac River in color by WRC-TV in Washington from 1 until 10:30 p. m. Saturday.

They will report on the findings of the Corps of Engineers. The special telecast, according to Stuart Finley, the narrator, will include films made in the North Branch country where the first of three proposed water-impounding reservoirs is planned above Bloomington.

Guests on the telecast will include Col. John U. Allen, district engineer of the Washington District of the Corps of Engineers; Mayor Richard Romig of Keyser, William E. Crooks, this city, plant manager of the Amcelle plant of the Celanese Fibers Corporation, speaking for the industrialists, and Julian E. Patrick of Westernport, representing the Upper Potomac River Commission.

Local Sailplane Pilot Stays Aloft Five Hours

Richard L. Aldstadt, of 713 Louisiana Avenue, yesterday stayed aloft in a sailplane for over five hours and reached an altitude of 5,200 feet to complete two of the requirements toward achieving an award by the Soaring Society of America.

Mr. Aldstadt, who is president of the Cumberland Collection Agency, began his flight at 1:10 p. m. in a Leister-Kauffman sailplane from the local airport and landed at 6:13 p. m.

The local sailplane pilot was towed to altitude of 3,000 by E. Randall Hostetler, co-pilot of the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company plane, and was released over Knobley Mountain.

In order to qualify for the Silver "C" Award which is given by the Soaring Society of America, Mr. Aldstadt now must go a distance of 32 miles in a sailplane.

A record of the altitude and duration of the flight yesterday was recorded on a baragraph which Mr. Aldstadt carried in the sailplane.

Official observer for the flight yesterday was William C. Holbrook, chief pilot for the Kelly-Springfield Company.

The Leister-Kauffman sailplane is owned jointly by Mr. Aldstadt, Mr. Holbrook, Dr. Robert K. Poling and George Nash, all members of the Cumberland Flying Association.

Mr. Aldstadt served as a fighter pilot during both World War II and the Korean War.

Amcelle Gets Safety Award

The National Safety Council has announced the Amcelle plant of the Celanese Fibers Company has received an award of merit for its excellent safety record.

The award is presented only when a company's record satisfies rigid requirements set up in the Safety Council's award plan for recognizing good industrial safety records.

Howard Pyle, president of the National Safety Council, in a letter of congratulations to Harry A Johnson, safety supervisor at the Amcelle plant, explained that the local plant qualified for the award because of its injury-free period of 1,102,357 man-hours from November 21, 1960, to February 23.

Gaming Trial Set Friday

Richard K. Fox, rear of 110 Utah Avenue, will be given a hearing tomorrow afternoon in Trial Magistrate Court on two gaming charges.

Fox was given a hearing April 7 and was released on $1,000 bond to await the hearing which is scheduled tomorrow at 2 p. m. before Magistrate Paul W. Barnett.

Two warrants charging Fox with the gaming violations on March 25 and March 28 at 162 Baltimore Street were obtained several weeks ago by Donald W. Mason, assistant state's attorney.

The charges cite Fox with unlawfully keeping or managing a gaming table or having an interest in a gaming table or profits.

Street Repair Projects Are Progressing

Road To Plant To Be Surfaced

The Street Department this week will complete the first phase of the improvement of a city street off Piedmont Avenue.

Being improved is the 75-foot section of the road to the Allegany Instrument Company which lies within the city limits.

Workers graded off about eight inches of the worn out thoroughfare and today will complete applying a base of airport shale. The area will be blacktopped when the base is packed down.

Crews have been busy in all sections of the city this week, chiefly on patching holes which appeared on city streets during the winter.

Holes on Wempe Drive, Roberts Street and an alley along the C & O Canal between Potomac and Offutt streets and an alley behind the B & O YMCA were filled with crusher run materials.

Other crews yesterday completed surfacing a gas line ditch on Central Avenue and early this week were busy cleaning debris washed into ditches by recent downpours.

Board Of Health Takes Action On Dumping

The Allegany County Health Department has received numerous complaints from citizens along Georges Creek about a number of property owners who are throwing garbage and trash in the creek and along side of the state and county roads in the area.

Allegany County Commissioners, as Board of Health, have requested the health department to take appropriate action to have the condition corrected as soon as possible. All citizens of the area have been requested to have their refuse collected by the proper agents or to take their trash and garbage to the nearest approved and licensed dumps.

The Board of Health said violators will be arrested and prosecuted in accordance with the law with the minimum fine upon convictions being $50.

Graduate Study Plan Proposed For Teachers

Master's Degree May Be Required

By GEORGE BOWEN

BALTIMORE (AP) — All Maryland school teachers in the 23 counties ultimately would have to earn a master's degree, or its equivalent, to hold regular certificates under a plan considered Wednesday by the State Board of Education.

No advanced study is required of the county school teachers by the State now.

The State board approved in general the first overall revamping of the teacher certification system since it was inaugurated in 1922. It planned to give final approval in detail at its May 31 meeting.

The State requirements apply to 16,000 teachers in the 23 counties. Baltimore City administers its own school system.

The county teachers would have to hold a master's degree, or its equivalent in a fifth year of college study, after working 10 years.

Plan Three Types

Exempted from the additional credit requirements that would go into effect July 1, 1961 would be teachers who have 30 years of service or are 60 years old.

Three major types of certificates, standard professional, advanced professional and vocational, would be issued.

The standard would be for the first four years and renewable for six if the holder passed two courses of additional college study.

After the first renewal, those with master degrees would receive an advanced certificate for six years. They would be renewable for 10 years during which time local school superintendents or school boards could set up additional requirements to qualify.

If teachers did not meet the additional State study requirements, they could be issued a provisional certificate subject to yearly renewal.

The provisional certificates will replace emergency certificates now given some teachers who do not meet all requirements, including lack of a college degree of any kind.

May Broaden Scope

The standard teacher certificate would be given those with a bachelor's degree.

At present, teachers must have included study courses specified by the State to receive a certificate. The proposed changes also would grant them to graduates of colleges belonging to certain accredited councils.

However, the board of education also is considering changing the scope of required undergraduate courses. It would broaden the study of so-called liberal arts subjects for those wanting to teach in the elementary grades and increase the amount for prospective secondary grade teachers.

The recommended changes in certification were drawn up by a committee of school superintendents, Wilburn Hoopengartner of Caroline, William Brish of Washington and Maurice Dunkle of Calvert, at the request of the State board.

175 To Attend Study Session

About 175 participants in the parent-child study program in Allegany County are planning to attend a general meeting next Wednesday at the Cresaptown School, according to Homer S. Higgins, supervisor of pupil personnel in the county schools.

Dr. John Kurtz, child study consultant from the University of Maryland, will be the principal speaker at the session, which will begin at 10 a.m. and end at 2 p.m. There will be luncheon at the school from 11:45 a.m. until 12:15 p.m.

Today is the last day that Mr. Higgins' office will accept reservations.

This meeting is planned as a culminating activity and summary of this year's parent-child study program. It is designed also as a stimulus and encouragement to people to participate in the 1961-62 school year program.

Telecast Will Emphasize River Survey

A number of Tri-State area leaders will participate in a television survey of the North Branch of the Potomac River in color by WRC-TV in Washington from 1 until 10:30 p. m. Saturday.

They will report on the findings of the Corps of Engineers. The special telecast, according to Stuart Finley, the narrator, will include films made in the North Branch country where the first of three proposed water-impounding reservoirs is planned above Bloomington.

Guests on the telecast will include Col. John U. Allen, district engineer of the Washington District of the Corps of Engineers; Mayor Richard Romig of Keyser, William E. Crooks, this city, plant manager of the Amcelle plant of the Celanese Fibers Corporation, speaking for the industrialists, and Julian E. Patrick of Westernport, representing the Upper Potomac River Commission.
